Sacred Spaces:

Designing Sacred Spaces Sherin Wing, 2015-10-05 Sacred spaces exemplify some of the most exciting and challenging architecture today. Designing Sacred Spaces tells the inside story of seven architecture firms and their approaches to designing churches, mosques, synagogues, and temples, monasteries, and retreats. Twenty beautifully illustrated case studies located in Asia, Europe, and North America are showcased alongside discussions with the designers into concept and design, development, materiality, and spatial analysis. Complementing these are essays on the cultural, historical, and theoretical meaning and importance of sacred spaces. By exploring the way we see religion and how we understand secular and sacred space, Designing Sacred Spaces reveals how we see ourselves and how we see others. A tour de force of first-person narratives, research, and illustrations, this book is a vital desk reference.

Sacred Spaces Margaret Silf, 2014-05-15 Popular author Margaret Silf introduces you to the seven traditional sacred spaces, reflect on practices and scripture. There are many books that explore actual physical sacred space and pilgrimage sites. This is a different kind of book. It introduces seven traditional sacred spaces but then leads readers into a deeper reflection on what such sacred space means in our own lives and experience. The various sacred spaces explored are the Celtic Cross, the infinite knot, hilltops, wells, and springs, causeways, and bridges, thresholds, and burial grounds, and boundaries. In each chapter, the author introduces a sacred space as the main theme and then illustrates this by associating it with a particular stage of life and a particular sacramental experience. The ideas are then brought together by means of a scripture story.

American Sanctuary Louis P. Nelson, 2006-03-14 This volume examines a diverse set of spaces and buildings seen through the lens of popular practice and belief to shed light on the complexities of sacred space in America. Contributors explore how dedication sermons document shifting understandings of the meetinghouse in early 19th-century Connecticut, the changes in evangelical church architecture during the same century, and what that tells us about evangelical religious life, the impact of contemporary issues on Catholic church architecture, the impact of globalization on the construction of traditional sacred spaces, the urban practice of Jewish space, nature worship, and Central Park in New York, the mezuzah and domestic sacred space, and finally the spiritual aspects of African American yard art.

J. Wightman, Gregory J. Wightman, 2007 A great deal has been written about religious architecture in ancient cultures but the great bulk of the literature has tended to be culture specific Wightman's volume offers for the first time a comprehensive synopsis of the rich manifestations of religious architecture throughout the ancient world In addition the book provides a conceptual framework within which cross cultural comparisons of religious architecture may usefully take place and tackles some fundamental issues in relation to the definition and characterisation of sacred space in ancient contexts The last fifteen years have witnessed the focusing of a great deal of scholarly attention on the archaeology of religions with the result that today researchers are able to make use of a broad armoury of theoretical and methodological approaches Yet theory must at all times be tested against material evidence and here Wightman's volume is timely in laying out empirical data pertaining to all the major traditions of religious architecture in antiquity. The book is comprised of twenty-one chapters divided into five parts. Beginning around twelve thousand years ago at the transition of the Holocene, the book embarks on an explorative journey around the ancient globe ending between the 3rd and 5th centuries AD. The first four parts of the book deal with broad regions of the ancient world: Western Pre-Classical Europe and the Mediterranean, the Graeco-Roman world, South and East Asia, and the Americas. Part Five, covering about a quarter of the book, has three chapters each dealing with aspects of sacred space: Identity and Meaning, Language of Sacred Space, Text and Image. The text is complemented by approximately 400 line drawings in colour, many of which are Wightman's reconstructions of ancient temples and sanctuaries, and 200 photographic plates, most in colour. The volume is rounded off by a comprehensive bibliography with essential literature highlighted, benefiting both the general reader and specialists. Wightman's book will become a work of reference to those interested in gaining or furthering an understanding of architecture, archaeology, and religion in the ancient world.
