Brimming with examples from across the artistic spectrum this is the perfect primer to hook future art enthusiasts Publishers Weekly Interested in art but feel under informed Curious but afraid you might not get it Already a fan and wishing to immerse yourself in a fun engaging informative and informed read that will refresh and top up your Art History 101 and Introduction to Art courses from college The 12 Hour Art Expert Everything You Need to Know about Art in a Dozen Masterpieces avoids the common approach of throwing hundreds of images at a reader and expecting them to learn from and memorize them all Instead the book will guide its readers through a brief series of masterpieces of Western art from cave paintings to sharks in formaldehyde This book twelve chapters teach readers about art the art trade and art history in a thorough though concise fashion Each chapter is linked to one notable masterpiece with references to others giving readers a fixed digestible number of objects that they will get to know in depth and which they can use as a lens to understand the thousands of other related objects that they might encounter in the future Museums can be daunting and art presents a strange new language one that certainly intrigues but is often intimidating and foreign This book written by one of the world's best known art historians uses entertaining stories to break down intimidating barriers and invites readers of all ages for a one stop immersion into art The Horse and Jockey from Artemision Séan A. Hemingway, Séan Hemingway, 2004-07-08 In 1928 and again in 1937 parts of a large scale bronze horse and nearly complete jockey were recovered from the sea off Cape Artemision in Greece where they had gone down in a shipwreck These original Hellenistic sculptures known together as the Horse and Jockey Group from Artemision are among the very few surviving bronze sculptures from antiquity. Sen Hemingway has been allowed by the National Museum in Athens to investigate the horse and jockey statuary group as no one ever has before and in this book combining archaeological and art historical methods of investigation he provides the first in depth study of this rare and beautiful monument. New technical analyses of the statues by Helen Andreopoulou Mangou form an appendix to the volume. Hemingway begins with an introduction to Hellenistic bronze statuary and what we know about this extraordinary class of ancient sculpture. He then recounts with riveting detail the discovery and painstaking restoration of the statue group describing the technique of its creation and carefully reviewing scholarly knowledge and speculation about it. He also provides a valuable compendium of what is known about ancient Greek horse racing the most prestigious and splendid of all Greek sports. After a full consideration of all the available evidence he speculates further about the work's original meaning and function. His study provides a glimpse of the excellence achieved by Hellenistic bronze sculptors and it will become the definitive resource on this unique sculpture from ancient Greece.

The Red and the White: A Family Saga of the American West Andrew R. Graybill, 2013-10-07 Winner of the Labriola Center American Indian National Book Award. One of the American West's bloodiest and least known massacres is searingly recreated in this generation spanning history of native white intermarriage. At dawn on January 23 1870 four hundred men of the Second U.S. Cavalry attacked and butchered a Piegan camp near the Marias River in Montana in one of the worst slaughters of Indians by American military forces in U.S. history. Coming to avenge the murder of their father a former fur trader named Malcolm Clarke who had been killed four months earlier by their Piegan mother's cousin Clarke's own two sons joined the cavalry in a slaughter of many of their own relatives. In this groundbreaking work of American history Andrew R. Graybill places the Marias Massacre within a larger three generation saga of the Clarke family particularly illuminating the complex history of native white intermarriage in the American Northwest.
