Sea In The Forest:

From the Forest to the Sea - Public Lands Management and Marine Spatial Planning Morgan Gopnik, 2015-01-09 The management of common pool resources and publicly owned areas is fraught with difficulty This book explores the long complex and frequently contentious history of public lands management in the United States in order to draw lessons for the emerging field of marine spatial planning MSP The author first establishes that these two seemingly different settings are in fact remarkably similar drawing on established theories of policy analysis The work then examines the management of US National Forests over the past 120 years including three place based case studies to discover recurring themes The analysis shows how different management approaches evolved over time in response to changing laws and cultural norms producing outcomes favored by different constituencies This history also reveals the ambiguities and contradictions inherent in multiple use management of any public space Next the book analyzes recent efforts to advance MSP both in the US and globally showing how they mirror past experiences in National Forest management including similar disagreements among stakeholders In conclusion the author suggests how those within ocean related sectors government academia industry and environmental groups might achieve their individual and collective goals more effectively based on lessons from the public lands setting

The Archaeology of Hollywood Paul Bahn,2014-04-14 The Golden Age of Hollywood dating to the hazy depths of the early 20th Century was an era of movie stars worshipped by the masses and despotic studio moguls issuing decrees from poolside divans but despite the world wide reach of the movie industry little more than memories of that era linger amidst the freeways and apartment complexes of today s Los Angeles Noted archaeologist Paul G Bahn digs into the material traces of that Tinseltown in an effort to document and save the treasures that remain Bahn leads readers on a tour of this singular culture from the industrial zones of film studios to the landmarks where the glamorous lived partied and played from where they died and were buried to how they ve been memorialized for posterity The result is part history part archaeology enlivened with pop culture reminiscence and whimsy and throughout it feeds and deepens our fascination with an iconic place and time not to mention the personalities who brought it to life

The Physical Geography of Northern Eurasia Maria Shahgedanova,2003 This is the third volume in The Oxford Regional Environments series The series volumes are devoted to major regions of the world each presenting a detailed and up to date body of scientific knowledge concerning a particular region For most topics on the physical geography of Northern Eurasia abundant literature now exists Most of it however is in Russian and other East European languages and this has significantly limited the number of potential readers This volume seeks to familiarize at an international level those with an interest in this area with the most significant achievements in classical and current geographical research The Physical Geography of Northern Eurasia covers most of the territory of the former USSR The first section discusses the individual components of the physical environment These chapters cut across regional boundaries and treat the area discussed as a whole A regional analysis follows mainly in the context of geographical zonation though a number of specific regions are given individual treatment The concluding chapters discuss the effects of anthropogenic activities on the physical environment The approach is an integrative one tying together various aspects of the physical environments with the environmental implications of human activities Every component of the environment is treated as a step in the development of the multi faceted landscapes which in turn provide possibilities and limitations for cultural and economic usage

Forest Vegetation of Northeast Asia Jirí Kolbek, M. Srutek, Elgene E. O. Box, 2013-03-14 When two of us Jirí Kolbek Miroslav Srutek were working in North Korea on the Czech Slovak field expeditions of the early 1990s we did not think initially of comparing our results with the vegetation of surrounding areas or of writing a book Our efforts mainly involved observing and documenting the vegetation as completely as possible and initial recognition of vegetation units At first we focused on the most obvious vegetation types but eventually also any important types that we could discern Later we focused more on forests since almost all of northeastern Asia has forest potential and forests still do form the landscape matrix in most areas First we studied suburban woods and forests most of which are strongly affected by human activities Later though we also had chances to visit and study lovely mountain regions including Myohyang san Kumgang san Su jang san and the high especially beautiful Changbai shan on the border between North Korea and China The Changbai shan is the highest mountain system in the Korean Peninsula including the highest peak Paektu san We gradually changed our goal from an evaluation of forest data from North Korea to comparison with available field data and literature sources from comparable surrounding areas These include South Korea the Russian

Far East northeastern China Manchuria and northern Japan including the Kuril Islands Finally we decided to prepare a preliminary survey of the forest vegetation of the Russian Far East and eventually of all of northeastern Asia which would be published in English Garden and Forest Charles Sprague Sargent,1893 Island Dynamical Systems: Atmosphere, Ocean and Biogeochemical Processes Rui Caldeira,Miguel A.
