Lewis,2019-10-01 Offers a glimpse of the future of vanishing shorelines in America in the age of climate change where the wealthy will be able to remain the longest while the poor will be forced to leave Journalist Andrew Lewis chronicles the struggle of his New Jersey hometown to rebuild their ravaged homes in the face of the same environmental stresses and governmental neglect that are endangering coastal areas throughout the United States Lewis grew up on the Bayshore a 40 mile stretch of Delaware Bay beaches marshland and fishing hamlets at the southern end of New Jersey whose working class community is fighting to retain their place in a country that has left them behind The Bayshore like so many rural places in the US is under immense pressure from a combination of severe economic decline industry loss and regulation But it is also contending with one of the fastest rates of sea level rise on the planet and the aftereffects of one of the most destructive hurricanes in American history Superstorm Sandy If in the years prior to Sandy the Bayshore had already been slowly disappearing its beaches eroding and lowland cedar woods hollowing out into saltwater bleached ghost forests after the hurricane the community was decimated Today homes and roads and memories are crumbling into the rising bay Cumberland the poor rural county where the Bayshore is located had been left out of the bulk of the initial federal disaster relief package post Sandy Instead of money to rebuild the Bayshore got the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection s Superstorm Sandy Blue Acres Program which identified and purchased flood prone neighborhoods where working class citizens lived then demolished them to be converted to open space The Drowning of Money Island is an intimate yet unbiased lyrical yet investigative portrait of a rural community ravaged by sea level rise and economic hardship as well as the increasingly divisive politics those factors have helped spawn It invites us to confront how climate change is already intensifying preexisting inequality      Sermonettes from the Seashore Barry Blackstone, 2019-05-23 Coming from this preacher's love of the seashore is a series of sermonettes he heard while walking along some of the world's sandy beaches. Stroll with this man as he shares his insights from days spent on seashores in the counties of Israel, India, Canada, and Australia, as well as the states of Alaska, California, Florida, New Jersey, and Maine. Listen with him as he hears surf and sea sermons, tide and tern tenets, beach and breeze benedictions, and sand and storm sermonettes. Look with him into the face of a coastal nor'easter, watch with him as sea creatures and shoreline birds play together along the sea edge, behold brilliant sunrises and amazing sunsets over distant shores with family and friends, and observe the rising and falling of the great tides, all events along a seashore that inspired these spiritual messages from the Almighty. So take off your shoes, let the sand fill the cracks between your toes, lift your eyes toward the sea, open your ears to the sound of the surf, and be still and know that I am God. Ps 46:10.
