Collected Shorter Poems Kenneth Rexroth, 2013-05-10 This volume brings together all of Kenneth Rexroth's shorter poems from 1920 to the present including a group of new poems written since the publication of Natural Numbers drawn from seven earlier books This volume brings together all of Kenneth Rexroth's shorter poems from 1920 to the present including a group of new poems written since the publication of Natural Numbers drawn from seven earlier books Among the American poets of the generation that came to prominence in the Forties Kenneth Rexroth has been notable both for the independence of his personal voice and for his accessibility to the tradition of international avant garde literature He began writing and publishing in magazines at fifteen His earliest work was personal and concrete much like that of the Imagists In his twenties he wrote in the disassociative style sometimes called literary cubism developed by Mallarmé Apollinaire and Reverdy This was not free association but the conscious disassociation and recombination of the elements of the poem to achieve the highest possible level of significance With his later books Rexroth moved back to a direct and classically simple form of personal statement In this period he wrote the great nature poems the love poems and the contemplative lyrics that have established his reputation as one of the most important American poets

Let Those who Appear Kazuko Shiraishi, Samuel Grolmes, 2002 Work of the Japanese poet translated into English

Modernism in Practice Leith Morton, 2004 Postwar modernist verse has been rarely discussed in English language works on Japanese literature despite the fact that it has been the dominant mode of poetic expression in Japan since World War II Now readers of modern Japanese poetry in translation have gained an impressive intellectual and linguistic companion in their enjoyment of modern Japanese verse Modernism in Practice combines close readings of individual Japanese postwar poets and poetry with historical and critical analysis Five of the seven chapters concentrate on the life and work of such outstanding poets as Soha Sakon Ishigaki Rin Ito Hiromi Asabuki Ryoji and Tanikawa Shuntaro Several of these writers have only come into prominence in recent decades so this work also serves to acquaint readers with contemporary Japanese verse A significant dimension of this volume is the detailed and extensive treatment afforded two important areas of postwar Japanese verse the poetry of women and of Okinawa Modernism in Practice is noteworthy not only as an introduction to postwar Japanese poets and their times but also for the numerous poems that appear in translation throughout the volume many for the first time in book form

That Dada Strain Jerome Rothenberg, 1983 The title of Jerome Rothenberg's newest collection suggests jazz blues and above all the Dada movement in European art and poetry in the years immediately following World War I In my own world he explains in his pre face to That Dada Strain the Dada fathers who inhabit the opening poems of this book are necessary figures to summon them up along with their legends is no more erudite than to summon up Moses or George Washington or

Harpo or Karl Marx so on For Rothenberg the Dada connection his looking back to Dada founders Tristan Tzara Hugo Ball Kurt Schwitters and Francis Picabia is especially apt emphasizing as it does a strain that is echoed and replayed throughout all his work whether it be oral poetry ethnopoetics translation or the assembling of innovative anthologies Following the title section is Imaginal Geographies a group of poems that draw largely on the poet's private self his own language and perceptions in much the same way that the Dada poets recorded associations between images for which no key was readily available In the third and final section Altar Pieces Rothenberg attempts as he says to return to the world in which human beings still suffer both the loss of bread words Jerome Rothenberg's previous books of poetry with New Directions include Poland 1931 1974 Poems for the Game of Silence 1975 A Seneca Journal 1978 and most recently Vienna Blood 1980 Pre Faces Other Writings his first collection of poetics was awarded the Before Columbus Foundation's American Book Award for 1982

Kill Memory William Herrick, 1983 In William Herrick's Kill Memory erasing the past is just what seventy one year old Elizabeth cannot do A woman who has had many lovers a ruthless revolutionary a courageous underground courier during World War II and now a disengaged exile waiting out a solitary existence in Paris Boishke as Elizabeth has always been called gives her primary attention the the rituals of living eating dressing walking realistically facing up to old age trying to sleep and to her memories

The Woman on the Bridge Over the Chicago River Allen R. Grossman,1979 The Woman on the Bridge over the Chicago River is Allen Grossman s first collection with New Directions His voice is astonishingly contemporary his often dissociated imagery bordering on the surreal yet one hears in his verse classical and Biblical echoes and on occasion darker medieval undertones The brilliance of his imagination works against a measured eloquence setting up a fine edged tension not unlike the prophetic verse of William Blake the wild dithyrambs of David or the more controlled metrics of Catullus and Villon

Josephine, the Mouse Singer Michael McClure,1980 Josephine a mouse takes a vow of celibacy in order to devote all her time to her art singing

Women Poets of Japan Kenneth Rexroth,1982 From early as the seventh century up to the present day no other has had so many important women poets as Japan
