Uncertain Grace Rebecca Liv Wee, 2001 Winner of the Hayden Carruth Award for New and Emerging Poets On the Nature of Ecological Paradox Michael Charles Tobias, Jane Gray Morrison, 2021-05-18 This work is a large powerfully illustrated interdisciplinary natural sciences volume the first of its kind to examine the critically important nature of ecological paradox through an abundance of lenses the biological sciences taxonomy archaeology geopolitical history comparative ethics literature philosophy the history of science human geography population ecology epistemology anthropology demographics and futurism The ecological paradox suggests that the human biological and from an insular perspective successful struggle to exist has come at the price of isolating H sapiens from life sustaining ecosystem services and far too much of the biodiversity with which we find ourselves at crisis level odds It is a paradox dating back thousands of years implicating millennia of human machinations that have been utterly ruinous to biological baselines Those metrics are examined from numerous multidisciplinary approaches in this thoroughly original work which aids readers particularly natural history students who aspire to grasp the far reaching dimensions of the Anthropocene as it affects every facet of human experience past present and future and the rest of planetary sentience With a Preface by Dr Gerald Wayne Clough former Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and President Emeritus of the Georgia Institute of Technology Foreword by Robert Gillespie President of the non profit Population Communication Witness in Our Time, Second Edition Ken Light, 2010-10-05 Witness in Our Time traces the recent history of social documentary photography in the words of twenty nine of the genre's best photographers editors and curators showing how the profession remains vital innovative and committed to social change The second edition includes a new section of interviews on documentary photography in the field and an exploration of the role of photojournalism in 21st century media Witness in Our Time provides an insider's view of a profession that continues to confront questions of art and truth while extending the definitions of both Artistic Creation

and Ethical Criticism Ted Nannicelli, 2020 Artistic Creation and Ethical Criticism investigates an idea that underpins the ethical criticism of art but is rarely acknowledged and poorly understood namely that the ethical criticism of art involves judgments not only of the attitudes a work endorses or solicits but of what artists do to create the work The book pioneers an innovative production oriented approach to the study of the ethical criticism of art one that will provide a refined philosophical account of this important topic as well as conceptual tools that can guide future philosophizing and criticism

Rituals of Mediation François Debrix, Cynthia Weber, 2003 A timely consideration of the meaning of transnational cultural interactions today In an era of increasing globalization the cultural and the international have borders as permeable as most nations and an understanding of one requires making sense of the other Foregrounding the role of mediation understood here as a site of representation transformation and pluralization the authors engage two specific questions How might we make theoretical and practical sense of transnational cultural interactions And how are we to understand the ways in which the sites of mediation represent transform and remediate internationals Accordingly the authors consider international issues like security development political activism and the war against terrorism through the lens of cultural practices such as traveling through airports exhibiting art and photography logging on to the Internet and spinning news stories Mother Jones Magazine, 1991-01 Mother Jones is an award winning national magazine widely respected for its groundbreaking investigative reporting and coverage of sustainability and environmental issues Witnessing Sadism in Texts of the American South Claire Raymond, 2019-10-28 Looking at works by Carrie Mae Weems Toni Morrison Emily Dickinson Flannery O Connor Dorothy Allison Carson McCullers and Zora Neale Hurston Claire Raymond uncovers a pattern of femininity constructed around representations of sadistic violence in American women s literature and photography from the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Dickinson s poetry is read through its relationship to the Southern Agrarian critics who championed her work While the representations of violence found in Carrie Mae Weems s installation From Here I Saw What Happened and I Cried Morrison s Beloved Dickinson s poetry O Connor s A View of the Woods and A Good Man Is Hard to Find Allison s Bastard Out of Carolina McCullers Ballad of the Sad Caf and Hurston s Mules and Men are diverse in terms of artistic presentation all allude to or are set in the antebellum and Jim Crow South In addition all involve feminine characters whose subjectivity is shaped by the practice of seeing acts of violence inflicted where there can be no effective resistance While not proposing an equivalence between representing violence in visual images and written text Raymond does suggest that visual images of violence can be interpreted in context with written evocations of violent imagery Invoking sadism in its ethical sense of violence enacted on a victim for whom self defense and recourse of any kind are impossible Raymond s study is ultimately an exploration of the idea that a femininity constructed by the positioning of feminine characters as witnesses to sadistic acts is a phenomenon distinctly of the American South that is linked to the culture s history of racism No Politics but Class Politics Walter Benn Michaels, Adolph Reed, Jr., 2023-02-27 Denouncing racism and celebrating diversity have become central mainstays of progressive politics for many on the left social justice consists of equitable distribution of wealth power and esteem among racial groups But as Adolph Reed Jr and Walter Benn Michaels argue in this groundbreaking collection of essays the emphasis seems to be tragically misplaced Not only does a fixation with racial disparities distract from the pervasive influence of class it actually legitimises economic inequality Adolph Reed Jr is the towering radical theorist of American democracy of his generation Cornel West Walter Benn Michaels is cunning brilliant acutely suggestive exhilarating to read Eric Lott Wokelords and anti racist liberals will be frustrated enraged and defeated This book pushes us closer towards the uncompromising bare knuckled anti capitalist movement we so desperately need Cedric Johnson An exhilarating journey that swaps the orthodoxies of contemporary progressive culture for a class politics rooted in universalism James Bloodworth Adolph Reed Jr and Walter Benn Michaels have been among the clearest voices critiquing the dominant race reductionism in American intellectual life and proposing a real egalitarian alternative Bhaskar Sunkara Anyone interested in the politics of race and class must push aside the dogma of identity and grapple with what Reed Jr and Michaels have been arguing for decades Jodi Dean These essays tell the story of the last seven decades charting the decline of the left and American politics The result is as rich as it is rare a long view that is pressing and immediate Corey Robin Reed Jr and Michaels take a hammer to common ways of thinking about race class inequality and identity revealing ugly truths and challenging us out of our comfort zones Kenan Malik Mother Jones Magazine ,1991-01 Mother Jones is an award winning national magazine widely respected for its groundbreaking investigative reporting and coverage of sustainability and environmental issues On Good and Evil and the Grey Zone Danchev Alex Danchev,2016-08-18 How can works of the imagination help us to understand good and evil in the modern world In this new collection of essays Alex Danchev treats the artist as a crucial moral witness of our troubled times and puts art to work in the service of political and ethical inquiry He takes inspiration from Seamus Heaney s dictum the imaginative transformation of human life is the means by which we can most truly grasp and comprehend it This is a book of blasphemers world menders troublemakers torturers and turbulent priests of every persuasion Photography and Writing in Latin America Marcy E. Schwartz,Mary Beth Tierney-Tello,2006-07-15 This is the first book to document the extensive collaboration between writers and photographers in Latin America from the Mexican Revolution through the twentieth century A Different Light Parvati Nair,2011 This is the first full critical study of the work of the popular documentary photographer Sebastião Salgado Nair explores all the stages of Salgado s work including the recent more ecological subjects showing its planetary commitments The Brazilian Photographs of Genevieve Naylor, 1940-1942 Robert M. Levine,Genevieve Naylor,1998 In the early 1940s as the conflict between the Axis and the Allies spread worldwide the U S State Department turned its attention to Axis influence in Latin America As head of the Office of Inter American Affairs Nelson Rockefeller was charged with cultivating the region s support for the Allies while portraying Brazil and its neighbors as dependable wartime partners Genevieve Naylor a photojournalist previously employed by the Associated Press and the WPA was sent to Brazil in 1940 by Rockefeller's agency to provide photographs that would support its need for propaganda. Often balking at her mundane assignments, an independent-minded Naylor produced something far different and far more rich: a stunning collection of over a thousand photographs that document a rarely seen period in Brazilian history. Accompanied by analysis from Robert M. Levine, this selection of Naylor's photographs offers a unique view of everyday life during one of modern Brazil's least examined decades. Working under the constraints of the Vargas dictatorship, the instructions of her employers, and a chronic shortage of film and photographic equipment, Naylor took advantage of the freedom granted her as an employee of the U.S. government. Traveling beyond the fashionable neighborhoods of Rio de Janeiro, she conveys in her work the excitement of an outside observer for whom all is fresh and new, along with a sensibility schooled in depression-era documentary photography of Dorothea Lange and Walker Evans, as well as the work of Cartier-Bresson and filmmaker Sergei Eisenstein. Her subjects include the very rich and the very poor, black Carnival dancers, fishermen, rural peasants from the interior, workers crammed into trolleys, ordinary Brazilians in their own setting, rather than simply Brazilian symbols of progress as required by the dictatorship or a population viewed as exotic. Latins for the consumption of North American travelers. With Levine's text providing details of Naylor's life, perspectives on her photographs as social documents, and background on Brazil's wartime relationship with the United States, this volume, illustrated with more than one hundred of Naylor's Brazilian photographs, will interest scholars of Brazilian culture and history, photojournalists, and students of photography, and all readers seeking a broader perspective on Latin American culture during World War II. Genevieve Naylor began her career as a photojournalist with Time, Fortune, and the Associated Press before being sent to Brazil. In 1943, upon her return, she became only the second woman to be the subject of a one-woman show at New York's Museum of Modern Art. She served as Eleanor Roosevelt's personal photographer and, in the 1950s and 1960s, became well known for her work in Harper's Bazaar, primarily as a fashion photographer and portraitist. She died in 1989.

The Reception of Chinese Art Across Cultures Michelle Ying Ling Huang, 2014-10-02

The Reception of Chinese Art Across Cultures is a collection of essays examining the ways in which Chinese art has been circulated, collected, exhibited, and perceived in Japan, Europe, and America from the fourteenth century to the twenty-first. Scholars and curators from East Asia, Europe, and North America jointly present cutting-edge research on cultural integration and aesthetic hybridisation in relation to the collecting, display, making, and interpretation of Chinese art and material culture. Stimulating examples within this volume emphasise the Western understanding of Chinese pictorial art while addressing issues concerning the consumption of Chinese art and Chinese-inspired artistic productions from early times to the contemporary period, the roles of collector, curator, museum, and auction house in shaping the taste, meaning, and conception of art, and the art and cultural identity of the Chinese diaspora in a global context. This book espouses a multiplicity of aesthetic, philosophical, socio-cultural, economic, and political perspectives and encourages academics, students, art, and museum
