Secession Debated Georgias Showdown In 1860:

Secession Debated William W. Freehling, Craig M. Simpson, 1992-10-29 The critical northern antebellum debate matched the rhetorical skills of Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A Douglas in an historic argument over the future of slavery in a westward expanding America Two years later an equally historic oratorical showdown between secessionists and Unionists in Georgia generated as much popular interest south of the Mason Dixon line and perhaps had an even more profound immediate effect on the future of the United States With Abraham Lincoln s Black Republican triumph in the presidential election of 1860 came ardent secessionist sentiment in the South But Unionists were equally zealous and while South Carolina a bastion of Disunionism since 1832 seemed certain to secede the other fourteen slave states were far from decided In the deep South the road to disunion depended much on the actions of Georgia a veritable microcosm of the divided South and geographically in the middle of the Cotton South If Georgia went for the Union secessionist South Carolina could be isolated So in November of 1860 all the eyes of Dixie turned to tiny Milledgeville pre war capital of Georgia for a legislative confrontation that would help chart the course toward civil war In Secession Debated William W Freehling and Craig M Simpson have for the first time collected the seven surviving speeches and public letters of this greatest of southern debates over disunion providing today s reader with a unique window into a moment of American crisis Introducing the debate and debaters in compelling fashion the editors help bring to life a sleepy Southern town suddenly alive with importance as a divided legislature met to decide the fate of Georgia and by extension that of the nation We hear myriad voices among them the energetic and self righteous governor Joseph E Brown who while a slaveholder and secessionist was somewhat suspect as a native North Georgian Alexander H Stephens the eloquent Unionist whose calm dispassionate approach ultimately backfired and fiery secessionist Robert Toombs who impatient with Brown s indecisiveness and the caution of the Unionists shouted to legislators Give me the sword but if you do not place it in my hands before God I will take it The secessionists Henry Benning and Thomas R R Cobb as well as the Unionists Benjamin Hill and Herschel Johnson also speak to us across the years most with eloquence all with the patriotic passionate conviction that defined an era In the end the legislature adopted a convention bill which decreed a popular vote on the issue in early January 1861 The election results were close mirroring the intense debate of two months before 51% of Georgians favored immediate secession a slim margin which the propaganda conscious Brown later inflated to 58% On January 19th the Georgia Convention sanctioned secession in a 166 130 vote and the imminent Confederacy had its Southern hinge Secession Debated is a colorful and gripping tale told in the words of the actual participants one which sheds new light on one of the great and hitherto neglected verbal showdowns in American history It is essential to a full understanding of the origins of the war between the states And the War Came Kenneth Milton Stampp, 1970 Opposition to Secession in Georgia, 1860-1861 Mildred Alice Potter, 1935 The Great Secession Winter of 1860 61 and Other Essays Henry Adams, George Hochfield, 2018-03-02 This work has been

Secession and Conservatism in the Lower South Michael P. Johnson,1973     "Just Before a Mighty Earthquake" ,2010 This work discusses three counties in Georgia during the secession crisis from Abraham Lincoln s election in November 1860 until Georgia seceded from the Union in January 1861 The focus of this paper originally began with Thomas County Georgia the only county in southwest Georgia not to vote for secession Research began with the simple idea of finding out why Thomas County s citizens opposed secession Dougherty and Muscogee counties were included to add a broader scope to the research and make the paper more useful for comparison to other counties in Georgia By using methodology consist with historical research the conclusion of this paper is that the secession debate in Georgia was simply a continuation of the political fighting between Democrats and Whigs that had occurred in the state since the 1830s Thus political allegiance played a vital role in determining support for or opposition to secession in these three counties      And the War Came Kenneth Milton Stamp,1964      The Three Secession Movements in the United States William P. Rogers,1876      The South Vindicated From the Charge of Treason and Rebellion William E Boggs,2023-07-18 This book is a passionate defense of the Confederate cause in the American Civil War written by a prominent lawyer and politician from Georgia Boggs argues that the Southern states had a legal and moral right to secede from the Union and that their actions were justified by the principles of states rights and constitutional government The book offers a valuable perspective on the political and ideological debates that divided the nation in the 1860s as well as the legacy of the Civil War in American history This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant      The Political Structure of Georgia, 1860-1861 Ruth Elizabeth Braselton,Valdosta State College.
