Shape Of The Dreaming The Cultural Significance Of Victoria River Rock Art:

The Shape of the Dreaming D. Lewis, Deborah Bird Rose, Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies, 1995      The Shape of the Dreaming Darrell J. Lewis, Deborah Bird Rose, 1988 Discusses the various types of rock art in the Victoria River district its significance to its Aboriginal custodians and the importance of joint consultation about protection of sites      Archaeological Sites Sharon Sullivan, Richard Mackay, 2012 A collection of essays and reports examining key issues in conservation and management of archaeological sites It is divided into parts that focus on historical methods concepts and issues conserving the archaeological resource physical conservation of archaeological sites the cultural values of archaeological sites and site management      Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World Liam M. Brady, Paul S.C. Taçon, 2016-12-01 Rock art has long been considered an archaeological artifact reflecting activities from the past yet it is also a phenomenon with present day meaning and relevance to both indigenous and non indigenous communities Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World challenges traditional ways of thinking about this highly recognizable form of visual heritage and provides insight into its contemporary significance One of the most visually striking forms of material culture embedded in landscapes rock art is ascribed different meanings by diverse groups of people including indigenous peoples governments tourism offices and the general public all of whom relate to images and sites in unique ways In this volume leading scholars from around the globe shift the discourse from a primarily archaeological basis to one that examines the myriad ways that symbolism meaning and significance in rock art are being renegotiated in various geographical and cultural settings from Australia to the British Isles They also consider how people manage the complex meanings emotions and cultural and political practices tied to rock art sites and how these factors impact processes relating to identity construction and reaffirmation today Richly illustrated and geographically diverse Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World connects archaeology anthropology and heritage studies The book will appeal to students and scholars of archaeology anthropology heritage heritage management identity studies art history indigenous studies and visual theory as well as professionals and amateurs who have vested or avocational interests in rock art Contributors Agustín Acevedo Manuel Bea Jutinach Bowonsachoti Gemma Boyle John J Bradley Noelene Cole Inés Domingo Kurt E Dongoske Davida Eisenberg Degen Dinae Fiore Ursula K Frederick Kelley Hays Gilpin Catherine Namono George H Nash John Norder Marianna Ocampo Joshua Schmidt Duangpond Singhaseni Benjamin W Smith Atthasit Sukkham Noel Hidalgo Tan Watinee Tanompolkrang Luke Taylor Dagmara Zawadzka      Art of the Ancestors: Spatial and temporal patterning in the ceiling rock art of Nawarla Gabarnmang, Arnhem Land, Australia Robert G. Gunn, 2018-12-31 This volume focusing on the ceiling art at Nawarla Gabarnmang one of the richest rock art sites in Arnhem Land in Australia's Northern Territory presents a new systematic approach to the archaeological recording and documentation of rock art developed to analyse the spatial and temporal structure of complex rock art panels      A Wild History Darrell Lewis, 2012-03-01 The frontiersmen who came to the Victoria River District of Australia's Northern Territory included cattle and horse thieves, outlaws, capitalists, dreamers, drunks, madmen and others from the explorers of the 1830s and 1850s to the founders of the big stations in the 1880s and 1890s and the cattle duffers in the early 1900s. This book looks at them all. Drawing on painstaking research into obscure and rich documentary sources, Aboriginal oral traditions and first hand investigations conducted in the region over thirty five years, Darrell Lewis pieces together the complex interactions between the environment, the powerful and warlike Aboriginal tribes and the settlers and their cattle which produced what truly became A Wild History. Art or Scribbles?

In the Eye of the Beholder: The Evolutionary Emergence of Visual Communication Iain Davidson, 2025-09-08. The book is about how art arose and how it became what we call art today. How did art emerge from the relationships between people and the things they produce and the ideas of producers? How do people manipulate those relationships in their own society? How do outsiders work out the ways in which those relationships were used to make art? What is art and why are all people engaged with it in one way or another? From its very beginning and everywhere, art has always been embedded in its cultural context, the contexts of the people who made and see it, and that context has often been ritual. The history of art, confused, social and institutional, changes of view because western critics or artists sought to define the boundaries of art so tightly that ritual, purposeful or utilitarian works were excluded from it. In their definition, art only existed if the rituals of the original producers were stripped from the works or if the objects were appropriated away from the situation in which they were produced. The objects stripped from their context could then only be valued for their aesthetics. Art consists of relationships between people, things and ideas in quite specific ways. Those relationships are discussed at length in this book. The book is aimed at artists, art historians and archaeologists but also at the general public interested in art. It is intended both for people whose interest in art comes from knowledge of the art of all continents and for those who have no knowledge.

Dreaming Ecology Deborah Bird Rose, 2024-05-07. In the author's own words, Dreaming Ecology explores a holistic understanding of the interconnections of people, country, kinship, creation and the living world within a context of mobility. Implicitly, it asks how people lived so sustainably for so long. It offers a telling critique of the loss of Indigenous life, human and non-human, in the wake of white settler colonialism and this becoming cattle country. It offers a fresh perspective on nomadics grounded in footwalk epistemology and an ethics of return sustained across different species, events, practices and scales. This is the final and most substantial of Debbie's love letters to the Aboriginal people of the Victoria River Downs. I say this because there is such a sense of reverence, wonder and respect throughout the book. The introduction of concepts of double death, footwalk epistemology, wild country are not only organising ideas but characterisations arising from what Debbie hears, sees and feels of herself and Aboriginal others. I think of it in terms of love if love is care, reciprocal respect, deep connectivity and a strong desire to never make less of the people she chose to commit herself to. Richard Davis. This book was a pleasure to read, filled with careful description of people, places and various plants and animals and insightful analysis of the patterns and commitments that hold them together in the world Thom van Dooren      Australian Rock Art Robert Layton,1992-11-27 A survey of Australian rock art presenting detailed case studies revealing the significance of both recent and ancient art for Australia s living indigenous communities      Handbook of Rock Art Research David S. Whitley,2001 While there has always been a large public interest in ancient pictures painted or carved on stone the archaeological study of rock art is in its infancy But intensive amounts of research has revolutionized this field in the past decade New methods of dating and analysis help to pinpoint the makers of these beautiful images new interpretive models help us understand this art in relation to culture Identification conservation and management of rock art sites have become major issues in historical preservation worldwide And the number of archaeologically attested sites has mushroomed In this handbook the leading researchers in the rock art area provide cogent state of the art summaries of the technical interpretive and regional advances in rock art research The book offers a comprehensive basic reference of current information on key topics over six continents for archaeologists anthropologists art historians and rock art enthusiasts      The Archaeology of Australia's Deserts Mike Smith,2013-02-25 This is the first book length study of the archaeology of Australia s deserts exploring the cultural and environmental history of these drylands      Landscapes, Rock-Art and the Dreaming Bruno David,2002 The apparent timelessness of the Dreaming of Aboriginal Australia has long mystified European observers conjuring images of an ancient people in harmony with their surroundings In this book Bruno David examines the archaeological evidence for Dreaming mediated places rituals and symbolism What emerges is not a static culture but a mode of conceiving the world that emerged in its recognisable form only about 1000 years ago      Murujuga Marni Ken Mulvaney,2015 This monograph presents a model of the artistic traditions and associated petroglyph production suggesting five major phases for the Dampier Archipelago and providing insights into a world that existed for Indigenous Australians over many thousands of years      Year Book Australia, 1991 No. 74 ,2008      Heritage Conservation and Tourism Development at Cham Sacred Sites in Vietnam Quang Dai Tuyen,2023-10-12 This open access book considers the growing field of heritage tourism from community perspectives It explores how the Cham Vietnam s large ethnic minority reconcile their needs for economic development with the boundaries circumscribed by their traditional culture It examines struggles that local minority stakeholders like the Cham face when trying to participate in areas of development that typically fall under State control How will tourism affect the ancient sacred spaces that are the Cham s lifeblood In what areas is their participation permitted From what areas are they excluded Through a novel mix of indigenous methods participant observation local voices and rich ethnographic description this book provides a rare glimpse into the discourses that have been percolating throughout the community in recent years The relevance of this study extends beyond the Cham community and aims to resonate with experiences of the myriad indigenous and minority communities around the world who face similar issues with heritage conservation and tourism development This book is of interest to students and researchers of heritage studies tourism management cultural studies Asian studies as well as policymakers and academicians seeking current research on the connections between culture conservation sustainable development and tourism

Drawing in the Land Julie Dibden, 2019-02-13 Drawing in the Land offers an important contribution to the field of rock art research and Australian archaeology It provides a detailed study of the previously under examined rock art of the Hawkesbury Nepean area of New South Wales The study presents a detailed historiography of Australian rock art research and through the lens of landscape archaeology offers an innovative contribution to rock art studies in the wider Sydney Basin The volume's theoretical focus on materiality embodied practice and performance allows for the charting of ideational change and provides a unique contribution to the late Holocene archaeology of NSW and contact archaeology within Australia more broadly

Boundary Writing Lynette Russell, 2006-06-30 Have globalization and the emergence of virtual cultures reduced cultural diversity Will the world become homogenized or Americanized Boundary Writing sets out to demonstrate that this oversimplification denies the reality that today there is greater space for cultural diversity than ever before It explores the desire to categorize individuals and collectivities into racial ethnic gender and sexuality categories black and white men and women gay and straight which is a feature of most Western societies More specifically it analyzes the boundaries and edges of these categories and concepts Across nine chapters contributors reveal that such binaries are often too restrictive Through a series of case studies they consider how these various concepts overlap coincide and at times conflict They investigate the tension between these classifications that in turn produce individual speaking positions Many people indigenous native Anglo settler recent migrants of diverse ethnic backgrounds gay transgender queer occupy an in between position that is strategically shifting with the social political and economic circumstances of the individual In Boundary Writing the reader will journey through various complex permutations of identity and in particular the ways in which indigeneity race sex and gender interact and even counter act one another Contributors Erez Cohen Aaron Corn Bruno David Neparrna Gumbula Michele Grossman Myfanwy McDonald Clive Moore Stephen Pritchard Liz Reed Lynette Russell

Making Scenes Iain Davidson, April Nowell, 2021-04-13 Dating back to at least 50 000 years ago rock art is one of the oldest forms of human symbolic expression Geographically it spans all the continents on Earth Scenes are common in some rock art and recent work suggests that there are some hints of expression that looks like some of the conventions of western scenic art In this unique volume examining the nature of scenes in rock art researchers examine what defines a scene what are the necessary elements of a scene and what can the evolutionary history tell us about storytelling sequential memory and cognitive evolution among ancient and living cultures

The Archaeology of Difference Anne Clarke, Robin Torrence, 2003-09-02 The Archaeology of Difference presents a new and radically different perspective on the archaeology of cross cultural contact and engagement The authors move away from acculturation or domination and resistance and concentrate on interaction and negotiation by using a wide variety of case studies which take a crucially indigenous rather than colonial standpoint

Perceiving Rock Art Knut Helskog (red.), Bjørnar Olsen, 1995
