capital Pretoria Viewing the city through its most vulnerable people and places it recognizes that urban space is never neutral and shaped by competing value frameworks The first part of the book invites planners city makers and ordinary urban citizens to consider a new self understanding reclaiming their agency in the city making process Through the metaphor of becoming like children planning practice is deconstructed and re imagined A praxis based methodology is presented cultivating four distinct moments of entering reading imagining and co constructing the city After deconstructing urban spaces and discourses the second part of the book explores a concrete spirituality and ethic of urban space It argues for a shift from planning as technocracy to planning as immersed participatory artistry opening up to the genius of space responsive to urban cries and joining to construct new soul full spaces Local communities and interconnected movements become embodiments of urban alternatives through resistance and reconstruction building on local assets animating local reclamations and weaving nets of hope that will span the entire city Providing a concrete methodology for city making that is rooted in a community based urban praxis this book will be of interest to urban planning researchers professional planners and designers and also grass root community developers or activists Global City Regions Roger Simmonds, Gary Hack, 2000 Based on funded research of 13 city regions across three continents this comparative study looks at changes in land use since 1970 The socio economic and physical forms of city regions have also been examined for comparative study

African City Textualities Ranka Primorac, 2013-09-13 The stereotype of Africa as a predominantly natural space ignores the existence of vibrant and cosmopolitan urban environments on the continent Far from merely embodying backwardness and lack African cities are sites of complex and diverse cultural productions which participate in modernity and its dynamics of global flows and exchanges This volume merges the concerns of urban literary and cultural studies by focusing on the flows and exchanges of texts and textual elements By analysing how texts such as popular and canonical fiction popular music self help pamphlets graffiti films journalistic writing rumours and urban legends engage with the problems of citizenship self organisation and survival the collection shows that despite all the problems of Africa its cities continue to engender forward looking creativity and hope The texts collected here belong to several different genres themselves and they are authored by both distinguished and younger scholars based in and outside of Africa The volume explores the textualities emerging from the cities of Senegal Nigeria Ghana Uganda Kenya Zambia Zimbabwe and South Africa Above all it calls for an end to disabling hierarchical categorisations of both texts and cities This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing

Communication, Culture, and Making Meaning in the City Ahmet Atay, Jay Brower, 2017-10-10 As communicative cultural and political spaces cities present a vast array of racial ethnic national sexual and socioeconomic experiences around which human communities take shape This shaping forms a germinal point of mass cultural life City planners decide where buildings and neighborhoods are developed which ultimately affects who residents interact with how they get there and why they choose city life From these experiences boundaries and possibilities arise that define cultures of the city In Communication Culture and Making Meaning in the City Ethnographic Engagements in Urban Environments contributors focus on theorizing the notion of the city as a communicatively constituted cultural space drawing on situated reflexive ethnographic examinations of the city to show the complex and varied ways in which cities produce social meaning

Cities, Politics, and Policy John P. Pelissero, 2002-10-01 Just because Milwaukee isn't Manhattan doesn't mean that those urban centers face completely unique challenges Through effective comparative analysis of key issues in urban studies how city managers share power with mayors how spending policies affect economic development and how school politics impact education policy students can clearly see how scholars discern patterns and formulate conclusions to offer theoretical and practical insights from which all cities can benefit Pelissero brings together an impressive team of contributors to explore variation among cities through case studies and cross sectional analyses Each author synthesizes the field's seminal literature while explaining how urban leaders and their constituents grapple with everything from city council politics to conflict and cooperation among minority groups Authors identify both key trends and gaps in the scholarship and help set the research agenda for the years to come Lively case material will hook your students while the accessible presentation of empirical evidence make this reader the comprehensive and sophisticated text you demand
