

The background of the slide is a photograph of a vast landscape of sand dunes. The dunes are light-colored and have some sparse, low-lying vegetation on them. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds, and the overall lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day. The horizon line is visible in the distance.

Shaping The Adaptive Organization Landscapes Learning And Leadership In Volatile Times:

Shaping the Adaptive Organization William E. Fulmer, 2000 Drawing on concepts from biology this text uses adaptation to survive as a blueprint for a thriving organization It offers advice on how to build an adaptive business able to embrace constant change and thrive in a competitive business landscape The Inquiring Organization Catherine Kikoski, John Kikoski, 2004-07-30 This book provides the context and tools to create knowledge via a proven process of inquiry questions and conversation It introduces the theoretical background to explain why as well as the practical hands on skills and processes to demonstrate how to surface tacit knowledge that which we know but which we have not yet made explicit in conversation e g background education and experience and create new knowledge in collaboration with colleagues In the information economy knowledge is an asset and a currency The creation of new knowledge therefore enhances an organization's position in the marketplace How do we create new knowledge We don't do it by learning what is already known The learning organization is already pass Instead we do it by inquiring which is a method of bringing tacit knowledge to the forefront of awareness The inquiring organization surfaces tacit knowledge which is what its employees bring to the table their background education experience character and judgment and transforms that knowledge into new explicit knowledge that can be transferred from one employee to another through conversation That is true knowledge creation and this book provides the tools skills techniques and processes for executives and professionals in any field to accomplish this task in today's fluid environment Delivering the Vision Eileen M. Milner, 2002 Delivering the Vision is a practitioner focused text accessible and relevant to all those interested in the management and reform of public sector organisations

Transforming Young Adult Services Anthony Bernier, 2013-07-24 In this provocative call to action that encourages LIS students researchers and practitioners to question some of the underlying assumptions of their discipline Bernier initiates an open discussion about how YA professionals perceive young adults Organisation and Complexity Jacco van Uden, 2004-05 Students of organisation have used complexity theory in many different ways and for many different reasons What characterises the writings of most management thinkers however is that the authors are primarily concerned with the question of how to make this complexity thing work for us This study takes a rather different approach Ideas and concepts of the science of complexity are borrowed to develop the idea that organisations live lives of their own an idea that is very much at odds with the dominant view that understands organisations as tools that we use to realise certain goals To illustrate matters the book discusses the developments of the organisation of Vitesse a mediocre Dutch professional football club that according to its president needed to be transformed into a major player in the family entertainment industry in OB Cultural Values in Strategy and Organization T. K. Das, 2021-06-01 The field of strategy science has grown in both the diversity of issues it addresses and the increasingly interdisciplinary approaches it adopts in understanding the nature and significance of problems that are continuously emerging in the world of human endeavor These newer kinds of challenges and opportunities arise in all forms of organizations encompassing private and public enterprises and with strategies that experiment with breaking the traditional molds and contours The field of strategy science is also perhaps inevitably being impacted by the proliferation of hybrid organizations such as strategic alliances the upsurge of approaches that go beyond the customary emphasis on competitiveness and profit making and the intermixing of time honored categories of activities such as business industry commerce trade government the professions and so on The blurring of the boundaries between various areas and types of human activities points to a need for academic research to address the consequential developments in strategic issues Hence research and thinking about the nature of issues to be tackled by strategy science should also cultivate requisite variety in issues recognized for research inquiry including the conceptual foundations of strategy and strategy making and the examination of the critical roles of strategy makers strategic thinking time and temporalities business and other goal choices diversity in organizing modes for strategy implementation and the complexities of managing strategy to name a few This book series on Research in Strategy Science aims to provide an outlet for ideas and issues that publications in the field do not provide either expressly or adequately especially as regards the comprehensive coverage deserved by certain emerging areas of interest The topics of the volumes in the series will keep in view this objective to expand the research areas and theoretical approaches routinely found in strategy science the better to permit expanded and expansive treatments of promising issues that may not sufficiently align with the usual research coverage of publications in the field Cultural Values in Strategy and Organization contains contributions by leading scholars on the role of cultural values in the field of strategy science research The 11 chapters in this volume cover the topics of ecological organizing and evolving cultural values corporate cultural responsibility cultural integration in mergers and acquisitions culture and paradoxical frames cultural values in the fair trade market national culture and legitimacy family businesses as values driven organizations cultural intelligence of executives building an alliance culture personal values of civil engineers and architects and cultural characteristics of Chilean and Brazilian workforces The chapters collectively present a wide ranging review of the noteworthy research perspectives on the role of cultural values in strategy and organization Lead Like a Guide Christopher I. Maxwell Ph.D., 2016-09-26 Discover the leadership strengths of world class mountain guides and see how developing and applying these principles can help you reach for the highest summits in work and in life This intriguing approach to business and personal success introduces six leadership strengths of world class mountain guides demonstrating social intelligence adopting a flexible leadership style empowering others facilitating the development of trust managing risk in an environment of uncertainty and seeing the big picture The premise is that these same strengths provide a valuable model in the workplace and other networks whether one is already in a leadership position or aspiring to get there The result of more than a decade of research combined with the author s personal experience the book explains how mountain guides coach people to reach for their highest goals in the most challenging environments often enabling them to far exceed what they imagined possible The same principles can be applied in business and elsewhere To set readers on the right path the author explains six strengths of guides incorporating interviews and quotes from guides and expedition participants to illustrate leadership lessons and show how they can be successfully used off the slopes The book also provides a checklist of action steps readers can follow to foster skill development

An Ecosystem for Research-Engaged Schools David Godfrey,Chris Brown,2019-03-14 Looking at the potential for research use by educators to improve schools for all young people An Ecosystem for Research Engaged Schools presents a range of ground breaking research and fascinating case studies It carefully explores the elements and dimensions of research engaged schools using an ecosystems perspective to study the layers and interconnections that occur amongst the people and institutions that exist within the ecosystem Allowing the reader to consider how to ensure independent elements of the ecosystem are maintained to ensure an effective balance this book brings together contributions from international experts working in a variety of fields such as school leadership professional development and accountability Key issues facing the research use ecosystem both theoretically and empirically are covered with examples of innovative practice new theories and value systems The book also provides an insight into the exciting possibility of such a system of learning and innovation in our schools where structures cultures practices and policies align to promote research informed school improvement With chapters bringing together issues from different aspects of the system this book expands the analysis of evidence and research informed practice considering the wider environment within which it is undertaken shows the interplay and tensions between aspects of the ecosystem and illustrates how different aspects of the ecosystem affect evidence use reconciles all aspects of the ecosystem within an overarching framework which attempts to explain the complex totality of the ecosystem Designed to both challenge and inspire An Ecosystem for Research Engaged Schools truly bridges the gap between theory and practice It will be an invaluable asset to those currently working in the area allowing them to think more deeply about their work and the theoretical mechanisms that underpin it Policy makers practitioners and teachers will also find this book a fascinating read
