Shaping Space and Mobilities in Contemporary Walking Narratives Adrien Frenay, Giulio Iacoli, Lucia Quaquarelli, 2024-12-22 Shaping Space and Mobilities in Contemporary Walking Narratives represents an exploration of the dynamic intersections between mobility space and literature By focusing on walking as both a practice and a narrative device the book illustrates how mobilities shape and reconfigure our experiences of space Drawing from both literary and interdisciplinary approaches the contributors engage with diverse themes including urban flânerie rural wanderings migration and queer spatialities The research presented here shows how literary discourse mediates and constructs human relationships with space and place Addressing with key theoretical movements such as the narrative spatial and mobilities turns this book contributes to the recent humanities turn by advancing discussions within mobility studies particularly in French and Italian contexts

Shaping the Post-Soviet Space? Laure Delcour, 2016-04-01 While the European Union EU is widely perceived as a model for regional integration the encouragement of regional co operation also ranks high among its foreign policy priorities Drawing on a wealth of sources and extensive fieldwork conducted in the Commonwealth of Independent States CIS Laure Delcour questions the pursuit of this external objective in EU policies implemented in the CIS and the existence of an EU regional vision in the post Soviet area She asks does the recent compartmentalization of EU policies correspond to a growing fragmentation of the former Soviet Union that cannot be considered as a region anymore Does it rather reflect the EU's own interests in the area Interested in exposing why the EU has not pursued a strategy of region building in the post Soviet area Delcour examines the disintegration dynamics affecting the area following the collapse of the USSR the interplay between different actors and levels of action in EU foreign policy making and the role of other region builders She takes a closer look at the strategic partnership with Russia European Neighbourhood Policy Eastern Partnership and Black Sea Synergy as a capability test for the European foreign policy to promote its foreign policy priorities and to raise a distinctive profile in the international arena

Following Jesus in Invaded Space Chris Budden, 2009-05-04 Christianity is never just about beliefs but habits and practices for better or worse Theology always reflects the social location of the theologian including her privileges and prejudices all the time working with a particular often undisclosed notion of what is normal Therefore theology is never neutral it defends particular constructions of reality and it promotes certain interests Following Jesus in Invaded Space asks what and whose interests theology protects when it is part of a community that invaded the land of Indigenous peoples Developing a theological method and position that self consciously acknowledges the church s role in occupying Aboriginal land in Australia it dares to speak of God church and justice in the context of past history and continuing dispossession Hence a Second people s theology emerges through constant and careful attention to experiences of invasion and dis location brought into dialogue with the theological landscape or tradition of the church

Making European Space Ole B. Jensen, Tim Richardson, 2004-08-02 Making European Space explores how future visions of Europe s physical space are being decisively shaped by transnational politics and power struggles which are being played out in new multi level arenas of governance across the European Union At stake are big ideas about mobility and friction about relations between core and peripheral regions and about the future Europe s cities and countryside The book builds a critical narrative of the emergence of a new discourse of Europe as monotopia revealing a very real project to shape European space in line with visions of high speed frictionless mobility the transgression of borders and the creation of city networks The narrative explores in depth how the particular ideas of mobility and space which underpin this discourse are being constructed in policy making and reflects on the legitimacy of these policy processes In particular it shows how spatial ideas are becoming embedded in the everyday practices of the social and political organisation of space in ways that make a frictionless Europe seem natural and part of a common European territorial identity

Shaping Claims to Urban Land Fons van Overbeek, 2022-10-03 The concept of hybridity is often still poorly theorized and problematically applied by peace and development scholars and researchers of resource governance This book turns to a particular ethnographic reading of Michel Foucault s Governmentality and investigates its usefulness to study precisely those mechanisms processes and practices that hybridity once promised to clarify Claim making to land and authority in a post conflict environment is the empirical grist supporting this exploration of governmentality Specifically in the periphery of Bukavu This focus is relevant as urban land is increasingly becoming scarce in rapidly expanding cities of eastern Congo primarily due to internal rural to urban migration as a result of regional insecurity The governance of urban land is also important analytically as land governance and state authority in Africa are believed to be closely linked and co evolve An ethnographic reading of governmentality enables researchers to study hybridization without biasing analysis towards hierarchical dualities Additionally a better understanding of hybridization in the claim making practices may contribute to improved government intervention and development assistance in Bukavu and elsewhere
