Sharing Gods Blessings An Oral History Of A Family:

Sharing God's Blessings Eunice Hunt, 2005-11-16 This book is about my ancestors who came through the passage for over four hundred years Much of it a biography of my family s history but includes stories about your family too This a story that describes things about American history that you will not read in the schoolbooks It is real and it is relevant You will be surprised and proud knowing that this story is your story It is about the Jones family and it chronicles the history of my ancestor Bojack and Carrie Jones They lived on the Jones Plantation in Georgia in the 1800s Much of the story is about what the Jones family did with the land that they inherited from William Jones III a slave master and plantation owner in the great South Every 20 years the Jones family has a huge reunion called a jubilee Hundreds of family members come together and share the stories of our history We also make plans on how to continue building the Jones Family Empire The reunions started in 1905 and there have been jubilees for nearly one hundred years in 1925 1945 1965 and 1985 Chances are you are apart of this family

[Continued as] The Christian monthly and family treasury rev Andrew Cameron, 1861 Being in Christ Hans

Burger, 2009-01-01 Being in Christ is a central theme in the message of the gospel It is central for understanding the relation of Christian believers and the church with Jesus Christ their Lord It determines the identity of a Christian It is helpful for understanding the presence of Christ and his salvation in the present It can be developed as an element of a theological ontology Finally it is a theme with a great integrating power In this book the theme being in Christ is analyzed in different perspectives The attention is focused on the reality of being in Christ its ontological implications First two representatives of the Reformed tradition are investigated the English Puritan John Owen and the Dutch Neo Calvinist Herman Bavinck Second a reconstruction of the Pauline and Johannine perspectives on being in Christ is provided Third the theme is examined in the work of the English ethicist Oliver O Donovan and the German Swiss theologian Ingolf U Dalferth In the final chapter the author gives his own systematic theological proposal of a concept of being in Christ The Beginning of Difference Dr.

Theodore Hiebert, 2019-11-19 Difference can enrich us or tear us apart Difference can make our lives stronger fuller and richer or it can destroy them Therefore how we engage difference matters Conflicts between different peoples around the world the movement of refugees from nation to nation tensions over immigration and growing diversity within our society bring difference to our doorstep daily We can engage people who are different constructively and compassionately or we can allow the fear of difference to distance us from others and to demonize them At a time when racial ethnic cultural and religious differences have created heightened tensions we need more than ever to find our bearings We need to re examine what we think about difference Author Theodore Ted Hiebert re examines the Bible s stories explaining difference and its beginnings in the book of Genesis exposing the inclination to interpret these stories as a negative view of difference These stories recognize difference as God s intention for the world providing us with constructive resources of living with difference today Hiebert starts with the story of The Tower of Babel and moves beyond it to examine how Genesis s writers saw their unique identity and role in the world not as separate from all others but as members of the human family of which they were a part He presents how biblical characters lived with difference and how the first Christians embraced difference Finally he invites the reader into new conversations about our biblical traditions that reveal a respect for difference a generosity toward others a desire to include rather than exclude and a continuing interest in negotiating difference in ways that build relationships rather than destroy them
