Newsday A Companion to François Truffaut Dudley Andrew, Anne Gillain, 2013-02-11 A Companion to François Truffaut An unprecedented critical tribute to the director who in France wound up becoming the most controversial figure of the New Wave he helped found Raymond Bellour Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique This exciting collection breaks through the widely held critical view that Truffaut abandoned the iconoclasm of his early work for an academicism he had consistently railed against in his own film criticism Indeed if fever and fire were Truffaut's most consistent motifs the essays in this collection live up to his lifelong burning passion for the cinema Written by world famous scholars the essays exhaustively explore the themes and styles of the films as well as Truffaut's relationships to André Bazin Alfred Hitchcock and the directors of the New Wave his ground breaking and controversial film criticism and his position in the complex politics of French cultural life from the Popular Front to 1968 and after Angelo Restivo Georgia State University Although the New Wave one of the most influential aesthetic revolutions in the history of cinema might not have existed without him François Truffaut has largely been ignored by film scholars since his death almost thirty years ago As an innovative theoretician an influential critic and a celebrated filmmaker Truffaut formulated disseminated and illustrated the ideals of the New Wave with exceptional energy and distinction Yet no book in recent years has focused on Truffaut's value and his overall contribution to cinema deserves to be redefined not only to reinstate him in his proper place but to let us rethink how cinema developed during his lifetime In this new Companion thirty four original essays by leading film scholars offer new readings of individual films and original perspectives on the filmmaker's background influences and consequence Hugely influential around the globe Truffaut is assessed by international contributors who delve into the unique quality of his narratives and establish the depth of his distinctively styled work An extended interview with French filmmaker Arnaud Desplechin tracks Truffaut's controversial stature within French cinema and vividly identifies how he thinks and works as a director adding an irreplaceable perspective to this essential volume

Eric Rohmer Derek Schilling, 2019-01-04 Few filmmakers have taken the principle of the talking picture so far as Eric Rohmer the internationally renowned director of the Moral Tales Comedies and Proverbs and Tales of the Four Seasons cycles Occasionally dismissed as precious or overly literary Rohmer's features may leave the impression that there is more to listen to than to look at Yet as the secretive director b Maurice Scherer in 1920 points out dialogue is no less engaging than the best gunfights and if his characters prefer discussing love to making it they are no less the heroes of the stories they tell Charges of political conservatism aside the author of My Night at Maud's Summer and such period films as Perceval and the all digital The Lady and the Duke emerges like Hitchcock before him as a singular inventor of cinematic forms This critical overview which contains an extensive bibliography and a filmography will appeal to students of Film Studies French Studies and enthusiasts *Catalog of Copyright Entries. Colin Davis, 2021-02-17 Jean Renoir 1894 1979 is widely regarded as one of the most distinguished directors in the history of world cinema In the 1930s he directed a string of films which stretched the formal intellectual political and aesthetic boundaries of the art form including works such as Le Crime de Monsieur Lange La Grande Illusion La Bête humaine and La Ruelle du jeu However the great director's early work from the 1920s remains almost completely unknown even to film specialists If it is discussed at all it is often seen to be of interest only insofar as it anticipates themes and techniques perfected in the later masterpieces Renoir's films of the 1920s were sometimes unfinished commercially unsuccessful or unreleased at the time of their production This book argues that to regard them merely as prefigurations of later achievements entails a failure to view them on their own terms as searching unsettled experiments in the meaning and potential of film art Historical Reflections, 1998 The Right to Difference Maurice Samuels, 2016-11-02 The revolution reconsidered France's Jewish star Universalism in Algeria Zola and the Dreyfus affair The Jew in Renoir's La grande illusion Sartre's Jewish question Finkielkraut Badiou and the new antisemitism Conclusion Je suis juif Jean Gabin Joseph Harriss, 2023-01-24 When one thinks of the quintessential Frenchman one likely pictures Jean Gabin 1904 1976 The son of music hall performers the Paris born actor grew up in the entertainment business His onscreen debut in the 1930s marked the beginning of many memorable roles in films such as La Grande Illusion 1937 and mile Zola's La Bête Humaine 1938 His performances would earn him international recognition and establish his reputation as one of the greatest stars of film noir Pausing his performances on screen Gabin joined the Allied struggle of WWII Serving under General Charles De Gaulle in the Free French Forces as a tank commander Gabin was awarded several medals for his service Upon his return to acting after the war he became the embodiment of the uniquely French spirit a persona that would define his future roles In Jean Gabin The Actor Who Was France Joseph Harriss tells the story of this French icon This well researched biography documents Gabin's life from his start as a reluctant singer and dancer in Parisian music halls to his rise to film superstardom. Harriss recounts the actor's multi-faceted persona including his famously fiery temper, his tumultuous love affairs including a six-year relationship with the German star Marlene Dietrich and his military valor. Madame Bovary at the Movies Mary Donaldson-Evans, 2009. Some eighteen film directors from France to the United States, Germany to India have applied themselves to the task of adapting Madame Bovary to the screen. Why has Flaubert's 1857 classic novel been so popular with filmmakers? What challenges have they had to meet? What ideologies do their adaptations serve? Madame Bovary at the Movies seeks to answer these questions, avoiding value judgments based on the notion of fidelity to the novel. In-depth analyses are reserved for the studio films of Renoir, Minnelli, and Chabrol, and the small-screen adaptation of Fywell. As the first book-length examination of the Madame Bovary adaptations, this volume, in addition to its pedagogical applications, will be a useful reference for scholars of literature and film and for those interested in the burgeoning field of adaptation studies. The author of A Woman's Revenge: The Chronology of Dispossession in Guy de Maupassant's Fiction, French Forum Monographs 1986 and Medical Examinations: Dissecting the Doctor in French Narrative Prose 1857-1894, University of Nebraska Press 2000, Mary Donaldson-Evans is Elias Ahuja Professor of Foreign Languages and Literatures at the University of Delaware.

Mists of Regret Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09. Just before World War II, French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism. Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty, directors such as Renoir, Carné, Gremillon, Duvivier, and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country, and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema. Here, the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made. Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France, Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history. Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators, and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible, Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema. In his view, the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy, direction, and consequence to our reading of the films. The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period, but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts.
