New Approaches To Comparative Education:

New Approaches to Comparative Education Philip G. Altbach, 1986 Comparative Education Research Mark Bray, Bob Adamson, Mark Mason, 2007-08-21 Approaches and methods in comparative education research are of obvious importance but do not always receive adequate attention This book contributes new insights within the longstanding traditions of the field A particular feature is the focus on different units of analysis Individual chapters compare places systems times cultures values policies curricula and other units These chapters are contextualised within broader analytical frameworks which identify the purposes and strengths of the field The book includes a focus on intra national as well as cross national comparisons and highlights the value of approaching themes from different angles The book will be of great value not only to producers of comparative education research but also to consumers who wish to understand more thoroughly the parameters and value of the field Comparative Education Robert F. Arnove, Carlos Alberto Torres, 2007 Comparative Education examines the common problems facing education systems around the world as the result of global economic social and cultural forces Issues related to the governance financing provision processes and outcomes of education systems for differently situated social groups are described and analyzed in specific regional national and local contexts Handbook on International Studies in Education Donald K. Sharpes, 2010-02-01 This Handbook provides windows into worldwide research endeavors including countries not usually widely known in international education studies The goal of this compendium is to foster the understanding of research and education from different national and cultural perspectives and to support the exchange of ideas and people who conduct research and development activities From these varied individual and collaborative research projects we can infer directions for our own research agenda and for policy development The resulting chapters represent a respectable cross section of international research efforts The total is representative of the variety of research techniques Additionally there are more women than men contributors with sufficient representation from Muslim Asian and developing country contributors These seventeen chapters are an indication of what is occurring in the global educational marketplace They represent a sound and current balance of international studies in education that can be used as models for development elsewhere Reading them can motivate researchers everywhere to maintain a high level of scholarship that will benefit international and comparative studies and the academic profession Comparative Education: Views from Latin America Marco Aurelio Navarro Leal, 2013-05-09 Although in Latin America there are no educational programs specialized in comparative education as there are in some European Oriental and North American universities there are scholars who cultivate this field With the production of this book the authors most of them affiliated to member organizations of the World Council of Comparative Education Societies are walking towards a Latin American network of researchers with an interest in establishing a dialogue with non Spanish speaking colleagues from the rest of the world This is the reason of our effort in writing most of the chapters in English Comparative education as all disciplinary fields has evolved with different ways of thinking approaching and constructing its objects of research and analysis which are nurtured by different epistemological traditions living together in our times enriching and bringing complexities From Argentina Chile Uruguay Brazil Peru Venezuela Costa Rica and Mexico the authors of the book pose questions historical descriptions reflections discussions and cases to set forth their views International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen, Andreas M. Kazamias, 2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a r rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very dif cult private circumstances as they were nishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of dif culties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were wo ing and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook

Three Decades of Peace Education around the World Robin J. Burns, Robert Aspeslagh, 2014-01-14 First Published in 1996 The current world order poses new challenges to the theory and practice of peace education Drawing on data gathered from around the world Burns and Aspeslagh focus on how peace is presented in formal and informal educational settings and what effects ideologies have in shaping that presentation The book views peace education in the context of education about other major social and political issues and in a variety of geopolitical settings exploring factors that affect the generation selection organization transmission and evaluation of knowledge for peace Following a review of major approaches to policy and praxis in peace education the editors draw on original research to offer interpretations based on pragmatic normative and conceptual approaches to the individual the state and the role of political literacy The use of a comparative educational framework that goes beyond curriculum studies and descriptive case studies presents a perspective that is innovative and timely The volume includes both bibliography and index

Educational Decentralization Christopher Bjork, 2007-03-23 Decentralization and Education Asian Experiences and Conceptual Contributions examines the specific ways in which decentralization policies have affected the structure and delivery of education in eleven Asian nations Written by top scholars in the field the case studies provide detailed and rich empirical evidence documenting the tensions as well as synchronisms between the ideas that form the basis of decentralization policy and the contexts into which they are introduced The high quality of this collection of essays and the careful attention to local contexts for implementation will make this book a must read for academics policy planners practitioners and students of Asia
