These volumes offer a comprehensive reference for students and established scholars interested in food and nutrition research in Nutritional and Biological Anthropology, Archaeology, Socio-Cultural and Linguistic Anthropology, Food Studies, and Applied Public Health.

Food Research Janet Chrzan, John Brett, 2017-01-01. Biocultural and archaeological research on food past and present often relies on very specific, precise methods for data collection and analysis. These are presented here in a broad-based review. Individual chapters provide opportunities to think through the adoption of methods by reviewing the history of their use along with a discussion of research conducted using those methods. A case study from the author's own work is included in each chapter to illustrate why the methods were adopted in that particular case, along with abundant additional resources to further develop and explore those methods.
