Paths Toward A Clearing Radical Empiricism And Ethnographic Inquiry:

Paths Toward a Clearing Michael Jackson, 1989 edition unseen 12 95 traditions bringing into being new modes of understanding Paper Anthropology and particularly ethnography is torn between two quests one to capture the diversity of social life and the other to discover universal principles structuring that diversity Jackson examines these quests within the context of ethnographic fieldwork focusing on the relationship between ethnographers and the people they study He is concerned with defining the anthropological project as something more than the projection of the anthropologist's traditions and concerns onto an alien culture Rather he would have the project open a genuine dialogue between people from different cultures or Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Paths Toward a Clearing Michael Jackson, 1989

Affective Dimensions of Fieldwork and Ethnography Thomas Stodulka, Samia Dinkelaker, Ferdiansyah Thajib, 2019-08-20 This book illustrates the role of researchers' affects and emotions in understanding and making sense of the phenomena they study during ethnographic fieldwork Whatever methods ethnographers apply during field research however close they get to their informants and no matter how involved or detached they feel fieldwork pushes them to constantly negotiate and reflect their subjectivities and positionalities in relation to the persons communities spaces and phenomena they study The book highlights the idea that ethnographic fieldwork is based on the attempt of communication mutual understanding and perspective taking on behalf of and together with those studied With regard to the institutionally silenced yet informally emphasized necessity of ethnographers' emotional immersion into the local worlds they research defined as emic perspective narrating through the eyes of the Other seeing the world from the informants point of view etc this book pursues the disentanglement of affect related disciplinary conventions by means of transparent vivid and systematic case studies and their methodological discussion The book provides nineteen case studies on the relationship between methodology intersubjectivity and emotion in qualitative and ethnographic research and includes six section introductions to the pivotal issues of role conflict reciprocity intimacy and care illness and dying failing and attuning and emotion regimes in fieldwork and ethnography Affective Dimensions of Fieldwork and Ethnography is a must have resource for post graduate students and researchers across the disciplines of social and cultural anthropology medical anthropology psychological anthropology cultural psychology critical theory cultural phenomenology and cultural sociology Dialogues with Ethnography Jan Blommaert, 2018-01-05 This book persuasively argues the case that ethnography must be viewed as a full theoretical system rather than just as a research method Blommaert traces the influence of his reading of classic works about ethnography on his thinking and discusses a range of authors who have influenced the development of a theoretical system of ethnography or whose work might be productively used to develop it further Authors examined include Hymes Scollon Kress Bourdieu Bakhtin and Lefebvre This book will be required reading for students and scholars involved in ethnographic research or those interested in the theory of ethnography How to Read Ethnography Paloma Gay y

Blasco, Huon Wardle, 2019-04-08 How to Read Ethnography is an essential guide to approaching anthropological texts. It helps students to cultivate the skills they need to critically examine and understand how ethnographies are built up as well as to think anthropologically and develop an anthropological imagination of their own. The authors reveal how ethnographically informed anthropology plays a distinctive and valuable role in comprehending the complexity of the world we live in. This fully revised second edition includes fresh excerpts from key texts for analysis and comparison along with lucid explanations. In addition to concerns with argument authority and the relationship between theory and data, the book engages with the purpose, value, and accountability of ethnographic texts as well as with their reception and usage. A brand new chapter looks at the kinds of collaboration between informants, consultants, and anthropologists that go into the making of ethnographic writing.

Disclosing Elite Ecologies Bas van Heur, David Bassens, 2021-07-26 Disclosing elite ecologies: Methodologies for Doing Urban Elite Research offers a set of methodologies to chart urban elites. Whereas most research has focused on the global super rich, this book pays specific attention to the multidimensional urban geographies of elite reproduction and transformation as elites depend on urban contexts for capital accumulation, consumption, and leisure and housing. Adopting an interdisciplinary approach to the topic, contributing authors discuss various theoretical and methodological antecedents in urban studies and related areas of research that have investigated economic elites. Building on but also moving beyond these bodies of literature, the book rejects a priori definitions of the size and shape of this social group and instead pursues relational, place-specific conceptualizations of elite composition and behavior. In particular, the contributions to the volume show that urban elite research benefits from paying more attention to:

- i boundary work between elites and non-elites
- ii intra-elite competition and distinction
- iii national state spaces in determining elite composition
- iv the urban sense of belonging of economic elites

This extensive volume provides readers with various empirical inroads into the study of urban elites, drawing on research set in Brussels, Fes, London, Lyon, Madrid, Manchester, Milan, New York City, Paris, and Porto Alegre. Taking inspiration from urban and economic geography, elite theory, and urban sociology, cultural sociology, political economy, anthropology, criminology, architecture, and migration studies, this book aims to open up the opportunity for methodological cross-fertilization. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Urban Geography.

Islam, Women's Sexuality and Patriarchy in Indonesia Irma Riyani, 2020-11-26 This book explores the intimate marital relationships of Indonesian Muslim married women As well as describing and analysing their sexual relationships the book also investigates how Islam influences discourses of sexuality in Indonesia and in particular how Islamic teachings affect Muslim married women's perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands Based on extensive original research the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage and that there is a strong tendency with some exceptions for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband's right Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin dosa or taboo pamali Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage

Practitioner-Based Research Dawn Freshwater,John Lees,2018-03-26 Practitioner Based Research is concerned in particular with the research which is undertaken by healthcare practitioners and the evidence which they generate as a result of investigating their practice In so doing it recognizes that as well as working in academic life practitioner researchers are often working as practitioners outside the Academy It argues that the work of practitioner researchers has a significant contribution to make to healthcare research and so needs to be disseminated further in order to create balanced research communities within the healthcare professions This book will help academic researchers to broaden the limited ontological and epistemological perspectives of their research It will also encourage healthcare practitioners who have not been trained academically to develop their research skills and to realize that they are actually researching in their practice on a day to day basis Finally it will provide a degree of transparency about therapeutic processes to help clients and patients to see aspects of professional practice and development which are usually hidden from them Critical Theory and

Educational Research Peter McLaren,James M. Giarelli,1995-01-01 Applies European critical theory to North American educational research Building Communication Theories Fred L. Casmir,2013-10-16 Concern with various matters related to humans as they communicate has led to an increase in both research and theorizing during the second half of the 20th century As a matter of fact so many scholars and so many disciplines have become involved in this process that it is virtually impossible to understand and appreciate all that has been accomplished so far This book focuses on one important aspect of human sense making theory building and strives to clarify the thesis that theories do not develop in some sort of social intellectual or cultural vacuum They are necessarily the products of specific times insights and mindsets Theories dealing with the process of communication or communicating are tied to socio cultural value systems and historic factors that influence individuals in ways often inadequately understood by those who use them The process orientation of this book inevitably leads to an emphasis on the perceptions of human beings Thus the focus shifts from the subject or area called communication to the act of communicating Finally this volume offers insight into how the process of human sense making has evolved in those academic fields commonly identified as communication rhetoric speech communication or speech within specific socio cultural settings Qualitative Research Jurij Fikfak,Frane Adam,Detlef Garz,2004-01-01
