

Patrick Butler for the Defence

by
John Dickson Carr

It was a foggy November afternoon, and in the almost empty offices of a staid old firm of solicitors a young lawyer was entertaining his fiancée at tea.

They had been discussing the too ordinary tempo of a solicitor's life, when, as the clock struck five, a small dark-skinned man appeared, wearing a green fez.

The visitor, a remarkable figure, told a remarkable story. At the end he said, "Unless justice is done there will be murder."

The young lawyer had sent his fiancée off. He himself was supposed to deliver a brief to Patrick Butler, that noted and colorful barrister. So he asked his confrere, in the office next door, to keep an eye on the visitor until he got back.

And at that moment the visitor died. He had—impossible though it seemed—been murdered.

The young lawyer realized that he was in an extremely precarious position. He raced off for help to the one man who could handle the situation, Patrick Butler.

This fast-moving, colorful and exciting novel is John Dickson Carr in his most entertaining form, and gives Patrick Butler a chance to star splendidly.
