

Patterns By Amy Lowell

I walk down the garden paths,
And all the daffodils
Are blowing, and the bright blue squills.
I walk down the patterned garden paths
In my stiff, brocaded gown.
With my powdered hair and jewelled fan,
I too am a rare
Pattern. As I wander down
The garden paths.

My dress is richly figured,
And the train
Makes a pink and silver stain
On the gravel, and the thrift
Of the borders.
Just a plate of current fashion,
Tripping by in high-heeled, ribboned shoes.
Not a softness anywhere about me,
Only whale-bone and brocade.
And I sink on a seat in the shade
Of a lime tree. For my passion
Wars against the stiff brocade.
The daffodils and squills
Flutter in the breeze
As they please.
And I weep;
For the lime tree is in blossom
And one small flower has dropped upon my bosom.

Pattern Without End Poems 196579:

Pattern Without End Nancy Toth, 1979* Blessed Harbours John Miska, 2002 Commemorating the 115th anniversary of Hungarian immigration to Canada this anthology provides a representative picture of the themes styles and aspirations of Hungarian Canadian literature Revealing the entire spectrum of a colorful culture with ancient roots and a literary tradition in a state of constant renewal this collection features not only the recognized masters but also a new generation of talent appealing to anyone interested in the Hungarian immigrant experience in Canada Canadiana ,1980 Alberta, 1954-1979 ,1982 Walks in the World Roger Gilbert, 2014-07-14 In the twentieth century no form of experience has been more frequently taken up by poets eager to capture both the openness and fluidity of life and the aesthetic closure of an artwork than that of a walk Examining the walk poem Roger Gilbert contends that at its heart is the desire to keep what we have lived What is the appeal of the walk poem for modern American poets According to Gilbert it provides a ready made frame within which to explore the full range of individual consciousness as it responds to and reflects on the world immediately at hand The unstructured plotless character of the walk allows poets to move freely from place to place image to image thought to thought Suggesting that the walk poem strikes a compromise between the American obsession with process or movement and more traditionally mimetic concerns Gilbert shows how it enables the poet to apprehend the world as horizon rather than landscape Through perceptive and extended analyses of walk poems by Frost Stevens Williams Roethke Bishop O Hara Snyder Ammons and Ashbery he uncovers a spectrum of representational strategies for transforming passing experiences into the more lasting substance of poetry Walks in the World addresses anyone who takes poetry seriously Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Canadian Books in Print ,1989 Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Selective Guide to Chinese Literature 1900-1949, Volume 3 Poem Haft, 2023-07-24 Sustainable Poetry Leonard M. Scigaj, 2021-12-15 Focusing on the work of A R Ammons Wendell Berry W S Merwin and Gary Snyder author Leonard Scigaj shows that just as a sustainable society does not depreciate its resource base so a sustainable poetry does not restrict interest to language Over the past thirty years many poets have shown an increasing sensitivity to ecological thinking But critics trained in poststructuralist language theory often fail to explore the substance of ecopoetry Scigaj is the first to define ecopoetry as separate and distinct from nature or environmental poetry marked by its concern with balancing the interests of human beings with the needs of nature Just as science learned that the earth was not the center of the universe ecopoetry insists on the recognition that humans are not at the center of the natural
