Houle,1984 Third Age Learners of Foreign Languages Danuta Gabryś-Barker,2017-12-18 People are increasingly reaching the so called third age a period when seniors search for a renewed purpose to life and spend time undertaking activities that they consider motivating such as the learning of a foreign language The study of language learning among aging populations has become a fast growing area of research and this book is one of the first attempts to bring together what we know about this age group and their profiles as foreign language learners Contributors to the volume discuss the issue from various psychological neurological and pedagogical perspectives Each of the chapters provides an updated theoretical background and offers some initial conclusions on the basis of original empirical studies carried out Chapters challenge certain familiar preconceptions and assumptions about senior learners offer the reader ideas for future research in this under studied area and provide some practical advice for applying the proposals and solutions offered in real foreign language third age classrooms Issues in Web-Based Pedagogy Robert A. Cole,2000-06-30 There has been an explosion of Web based courses in higher education Aiming at an interdisciplinary audience the contributors draw upon diverse philosophical and empirical backgrounds to make claims about Web based pedagogy Among the points they raise is the concern that education is more easily commodified through Internet technologies implying that traditional faculty roles in teaching and research are at risk Moreover current understandings of what it means to be a teacher or a student are undergoing redefinition as a result of these new distance learning technologies The contributors note that Web based pedagogy is associated with sound instruction when particular strategies are adopted As a corollary this form of teaching is least effective when attempts are made to directly translate traditional styles of teaching Political social and economic interests are competing to shape the direction that online education will take The authors argue that opportunities exist for administrators and faculty to define the terms under which

Web based learning will occur in their institutions
