Splendors and Miseries of the Brain Semir Zeki, 2011-09-23. Splendors and Miseries of the Brain examines the elegant and efficient machinery of the brain, showing that by studying music, art, literature, and love, we can reach important conclusions about how the brain functions. It discusses creativity and the search for perfection in the brain, examines the power of the unfinished, and why it has such a powerful hold on the imagination. It discusses Platonic concepts in light of the brain, shows that aesthetic theories are best understood in terms of the brain, discusses the inherited concept of unity in love using evidence derived from the world literature of love, addresses the role of the synthetic concept in the brain, the synthesis of many experiences in relation to art using examples taken from the work of Michelangelo, C. Zanne, Balzac, Dante, and others.

From Nature to Creation (The Church and Postmodern Culture) Norman Wirzba, 2015-09-23. How does Christianity change the way we view the natural world? In this addition to a critically acclaimed series, renowned theologian Norman Wirzba engages philosophers, environmentalists, and cultural critics to show how the modern concept of nature has been deeply problematic. He explains that understanding the world as creation rather than as nature or the environment makes possible an imagination shaped by practices of responsibility and gratitude, which can help bring healing to our lands and communities. By learning to give thanks for creation as God's gift of life, Christians bear witness to the divine love that is reconciling all things to God.
