Gleeson, 2012-11-16 A new vision of the Irish diaspora within the Atlantic context from the eighteenth century to the present The Irish in the Atlantic World presents a transnational and comparative view of the Irish historical and cultural experiences as phenomena transcending traditional chronological topical and ethnic paradigms Edited by David T Gleeson this collection of essays offers a robust new vision of the global nature of the Irish diaspora within the Atlantic context from the eighteenth century to the present and makes original inroads for new research in Irish studies These essays from an international cast of scholars vary in their subject matter from investigations into links between Irish popular music and the United States including the popularity of American blues music in Belfast during the 1960s and the influences of Celtic balladry on contemporary singer Van Morrison to a discussion of the migration of Protestant Orangemen to America and the transplanting of their distinctive non Catholic organizations Other chapters explore the influence of American politics on the formation of the Irish Free State in 1922 manifestations of nineteenth century temperance and abolition movements in Irish communities links between slavery and Irish nationalism in the formation of Irish identity in the American South the impact of yellow fever on Irish and black labor competition on Charleston's waterfront the fate of the Irish community at Saint Croix in the Danish West Indies and other topics These multidisciplinary essays offer fruitful explanations of how ideas and experiences from around the Atlantic influenced the politics economics and culture of Ireland the Irish people and the societies where Irish people settled Taken collectively these pieces map the web of connectivity between Irish communities at home and abroad as sites of ongoing negotiation in the development of a transatlantic Irish identity      Aging in World History David G. Troyansky, 2015-10-05 In Aging in World History David G Troyansky presents the first global history of aging At a time when demographic aging has become a source of worldwide concern and more people are reaching an advanced age than ever before the history of old age helps us understand how we arrived at the treatment of aging in the modern world This concise volume expands that history beyond the West to show how attitudes toward aging the experiences of the aged and relevant demographic patterns have varied and coalesced over time and across the world From the ancient world to the present this book introduces students and general readers to the history of aging on two levels the experience of

Index to Craft Journals, 1984-1988: Subject headings Beth Hatton,1990 List of Officers of the Department of State, Including the List of Ministers, Consuls, and Other Diplomatic and Commercial Agents of the United States in Foreign Countries United States. Department of State,1971 List for March 7 1844 is the list for September 10 1842 amended in manuscript A Separate Authority (He Mana Motuhake), Volume I Steven Webster,2020-07-07 This book is an ethnohistorical reconstruction of the establishment in New Zealand of a rare case of Maori home rule over their traditional domain backed by a special statute and investigated by a Crown commission the majority of whom were T hoe leaders However by 1913 T hoe home rule over this vast domain was being subverted by the Crown which by 1926 had obtained three quarters of their reserve By the 1950s this vast area had become the rugged Urewera National Park isolating over 200 small blocks retained by stubborn T hoe non sellers After a century of resistance in 2014 the T hoe finally regained statutory control over their ancestral domain and a detailed apology from the Crown

Class and Other Identities Lex Heerma van Voss,Marcel van der Linden,2002 With the onset of a more conservative political climate in the 1980s social and especially labour history saw a decline in the popularity that they had enjoyed throughout the 1960s and 1970s This led to much debate on its future and function within the historical discipline as a whole Some critics declared it dead altogether Others have proposed a change of direction and a more or less exclusive focus on images and texts The most constructive proposals have suggested that labour history in the past concentrated too much on class and that other identities of working people should be taken into account to a larger extent than they had been previously such as gender religion and ethnicity Although class as a social category is still as valid as it has been before the questions now to be asked are to what extent non class identities shape working people s lives and mentalities and how these are linked with the class system In this volume some of the leading European historians of labour and the working classes address these questions Two non European scholars comment on their findings from an Indian resp American point of view The volume is rounded off by a most useful bibliography of recent studies in European labour history class gender religion and ethnicity
