Far-Right Political Parties in Australia Jordan McSwiney, 2024-02-13 This book examines how Australian far right parties organise and operate to better understand their limited electoral success Australian far right parties have yet to see results comparable to far right parties in other contexts Unlike many of their European counterparts that have made significant electoral gains up to and including participation in national governments the Australian far right parties of the fourth wave have experienced relatively poor electoral results But this does not necessarily mean that Australia is uniquely hostile to far right politics Focusing particularly on the 2019 Australian federal election this book takes an organisational approach to better understand why Australian far right parties struggle electorally Through the novel lens of disorganised parties the author argues that the failure to develop a functioning party organisation has resulted in Australian far right parties being unable to effectively navigate their political environment By focusing on disorganisation this book provides a new perspective for understanding the limited electoral impact of the far right in Australia today despite favourable conditions like normalised Islamophobia and growing dissatisfaction with mainstream parties This book will be of interest to scholars and students of party politics the far right populism and Australian politics activism on the micro and macro level with both qualitative and quantitative research methods Dissent Events Sean Scalmer, 2002 Dissent Events Protest the Media and the Political Gimmick in Australia offers a contemporary history of collective action in Australia over the last four decades from the halting experiments of the early sixties to more recent actions involving Pauline Hanson's One Nation Party the quest for reconciliation and the anti corporate campaigners of the S11 Alliance It tells the story of these performances develops a set of concepts to analyse their changing form and illuminates the larger story of social and political change in recent Australian life BOOK JACKET On Not Speaking Chinese Ien Ang, 2005-07-08 In this major new book leading cultural thinker Ien Ang engages with urgent questions of identity in an age of globalisation and diaspora The starting point for Ang's discussion is the experience of visiting Taiwan Ang a person of Chinese descent born in Indonesia and raised in the Netherlands found herself faced with an almost insurmountable difficulty surrounded by people who expected her to speak to them in Chinese She writes It was the beginning of an almost decade long engagement with the predicaments of Chineseness in diaspora In Taiwan I was different because I couldn't speak Chinese in the West I was different because I looked Chinese From this autobiographical beginning Ang goes on to reflect upon tensions between Asia and the West at a national and global level and to consider the disparate meanings of Chineseness in the contemporary world She offers a critique of the increasingly aggressive construction of a global Chineseness and challenges Western tendencies to equate Chinese with Asian identity Ang then turns to the West exploring the paradox of Australia's identity as a Western country in the Asian region and tracing Australia's uneasy relationship with its Asian neighbours from the White Australia policy to contemporary multicultural society Finally Ang draws together her discussion of Asia and the West to consider the social and intellectual space of the in between arguing for a theorising not of difference but of togetherness in contemporary societies
