Roberts, 1975 This seventh volume in The Cambridge History of Africa examines the period 1905-40 in African history One Zambia, Many Histories Jan-Bart Gewald, Marja Hinfelaar, Giacomo Macola, 2008-06-25 In contrast to the rich tradition of academic analysis and understanding of the pre colonial and colonial history of Zambia the trajectory of post colonial Zambia has been all but ignored by historians The assumptions of developmentalism the cultural hegemony of United National Independence Party orthodoxy and its conflation with national interests and a narrow focus on Zambia's diplomatic role in Southern African affairs have all contributed to a dearth of studies centring on the diverse lived experiences of Zambians UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VII, Abridged Edition Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa,1990-06-25 This volume reflects how the different peoples of Africa view their civilizations and shows the historical relationships between the various parts of the continent Historical connections with other continents demonstrate Africa's contribution to the development of human civilization Britain, Northern Rhodesia and the First World War Edmund James Yorke,2016-01-12 An insightful account of the devastating impact of the Great War upon the already fragile British colonial African state of Northern Rhodesia Deploying extensive archival and rare evidence from surviving African veterans it investigates African resistance at this time Consensus, Conflict, and Change Margaret Peil,Olatunji Y. Oyeneye,1998 Two very distinguished sociologists here undertake an extensive and comparative examination of African societies from a sociological perspective addressing the various aspects and agents of transformation The study is against the background of the transformation of African societies triggered by such factors as dysfunctions within values beliefs and norms general economic and political factors and adjustments due to external forces particularly new culture and technologies The issues are examined from the perspective that democratisation modernisation and globalisation are forces influencing African societies whilst traditional values and cultures produce a conflict of interest The chapters cover social organisation interaction differentiation families education religion economic activities cities social problems and social change

Struggles in Southern Africa for Survival and Equality H. Simons,1997-04-21 A fascinating account which discusses the indigenous peoples at the Cape at the time of the Dutch colonisers arrival through to the years of apartheid This includes the colonial conquest of Zambia expanding upon the role played by venture capital and the demands of manufacturing capitalism in the colonisation of large parts of Africa The place of women in both colonial settler society and indigenous society is also dealt with Through all the chapters runs the thread of the lives of the common people and how their interactions are circumscribed by social conditions A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins,American Historical Association,Royal Historical Society (Great Britain),1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index The Dissolution of the Colonial Empires Franz Ansprenger,2018-05-01 First published in 1989 On the eve of the First World War almost 72 million square kilometres of territory and more than 560 million people were under colonial rule By 1980 the European colonial empires had disappeared from the map Concentrating in particular on the British Commonwealth and the French colonial empire the author shows how economic and political changes in the mother countries the awakening national consciousness of the African and Asian peoples and the effects of two World Wars had all compelled Europe to decolonize He argues that although a satisfactory new order in world politics and the global economy has not been achieved in the process the dissolution of the empires came about with remarkably little bloodshed thereby laying a solid foundation for the future. The author concludes by looking at the legacy of the decolonized world in the late 1980s. He examines the last bastion of European colonial domination, South Africa, and discusses the emerging new North-South relations. Living the End of Empire Jan-Bart Gewald, Marja Hinfelaar, Giacomo Macola, 2011-08-12. Building on the foundational work of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute, the essays contained in Living the End of Empire offer a nuanced and complex picture of the late colonial period in Zambia. The present volume, based on untapped archival material and sources that have emerged in recent years, throws new light on some of the historical trajectories that the teleological gaze of nationalist scholars tended to ignore or belittle. By bringing to view the deep-rooted tensions underlying the Zambian nationalist movement, the painful dilemmas faced by chiefly and religious institutions, and the contradictory experiences of European and Asian minorities, Living the End of Empire draws inspiration from and contributes to a growing literature that is concerned with the study of social, political, and cultural forces that did not readily fit into the then dominant narratives of united anti-colonial struggles. Living the End of Empire Jan-Bart Gewald, Marja Hinfelaar, Giacomo Macola, 2011-08-25. Building on the foundational work of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute, the essays contained in Living the End of Empire offer a more nuanced and complex picture of the late colonial period in Zambia than has hitherto been presented in nationalist histories.

White Mineworkers on Zambia's Copperbelt, 1926-1974 Duncan Money, 2021-12-06. Life and work on the Zambian Copperbelt, a concentrated industrialised mining region along the border with DR Congo, has been a perennial subject for Africanist historians. In this book, Duncan Money, for the first time, focusses on the white mineworkers who monopolised skilled jobs on the mines from the 1920s to the 1960s and became one of the most affluent groups of workers on the planet. Money argues that this group was a highly mobile global workforce which constituted and saw itself as a racialised working class. For much of the twentieth century, this white working class moved between mining and industrial centres across and beyond the British Empire, and their actions and forms of organisation were strongly influenced by their international connections and by their mobility. These transnational connections and the white working class militancy they produced played a crucial role in shaping social categories of race and class on the Copperbelt and determining the evolution of a region which quickly became one of the world's largest sources of copper. The Commonwealth of Nations W. David McIntyre, 1977. The author, a professor of history at the University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand, presents a comprehensive survey of Commonwealth history from the time of soul-searching about the future of the British Empire, which marked the middle years of Queen Victoria's reign, to the year when Britain decided to enter the European Community. The account is divided into three periods: 1869 to 1917, 1917 to 1941, and 1942 to 1971. Within each period, a four-fold thematic division is followed: Dominions, Indian Empire, crown colonies, and protectorates.

Land Politics Lauren Honig, 2022-08-25. Land Politics examines the struggle to control land in Africa through the lens of land titling in Zambia and Senegal. Contrary to standard wisdom portraying titling as an inevitable product of economic development Lauren Honig traces its distinctly political logic and shows how informality is maintained by local actors The book s analysis focuses on chiefs customary institutions and citizens revealing that the strength of these institutions and an individual s position within them impact the expansion of state authority over land rights Honig explores common subnational patterns within the two very different countries to highlight the important effects of local institutions not the state s capacity or priorities alone on state building outcomes Drawing on evidence from national land titling records qualitative case studies interviews and surveys this book contributes new insights into the persistence of institutional legacies and the political determinants of property rights Colonialism in Africa
