Retrospect Story Of Analysis:

Henry James's Style of Retrospect Oliver Herford, 2016 Henry James's Style of Retrospect examines the last twenty five years in the writing life of Henry James 1843-1916 one of the most important novelists of the nineteenth century It addresses a significantly under appreciated dimension of James's late life output not his fiction but rather the substantial body of retrospective and commemorative non fiction the late personal writings of the title which he began to produce in the 1890s and which came to assume a leading role in the last phase of his career It addresses these works from a literary critical viewpoint analysing the way James's style changed in response to the conditions imposed on him but also the opportunities revealed to him by the project of writing about the real past the book's main contribution is to develop a cumulative analysis of his style in the period 1890-1915 It also has a biographical aspect however and tells a story of his professional and emotional life in these years that particularly emphasises his investment in historical and personal continuity his sense of the duties of commemoration and his interest in the experiences of ageing and remembering

Retrospective June Yap, 2017-08-15 Developed as an exploratory study of artworks by artists of Singapore and Malaysia Retrospective attempts to account for contemporary artworks that engage with history These are artworks that reference past events or narratives of the nation and its art Through the examination of a selection of artworks produced between 1990 and 2012 Retrospective is both an attribution and an analysis of a historiographical aesthetic within contemporary art practice It considers that by their method and in their assembly these artworks perform more than a representation of a historical past Instead they confront history and its production laying bare the nature and designs of the historical project via their aesthetic project Positing an interdisciplinary approach as necessary for understanding the historiographical as aesthetic Retrospective considers not only historical and aesthetic perspectives but also the philosophical by way of ontology in order to broaden its exposition beyond the convention of historical and contextual interpretation of art Yet in associating these artworks with a historiographical aesthetic this exposition may be regarded as a historiographical exercise in itself affirming the significance of these artworks for the history of Singapore and Malaysia In short which history rarely is Retrospective is about the art of historicisation and the historicisation of art

Everyday Irrationality Robyn Dawes, 2018-02-19 Robyn Dawes defines irrationality as adhering to beliefs that are inherently self contradictory not just incorrect self defeating or the basis of poor decisions Such beliefs are unfortunately common This book demonstrates how such irrationality results from ignoring obvious comparisons while instead falling into associational and story based thinking Strong emotion or even insanity is one reason for making automatic associations without comparison but as the author demonstrates a lot of everyday judgment unsupported professional claims and even social policy is based on the same kind of everyday irrationality

Narrative Methods for Organizational & Communication Research David M Boje, 2001 This work is a practical guide for researchers who need to look at alternative discourse analysis strategies Topics covered include deconstruction analysis microstory analysis story network analysis and plot analysis Sideways in Time Glyn Morgan, Charul Palmer-Patel, 2019-09-26 This important collection of essays acknowledges the long and distinctive history of the alternate history genre whilst also revelling in its vitality adaptability and contemporary relevance with many of the chapters discussing late twentieth and early twenty first century texts which have previously received little or no sustained critical analysis God's Yes Was Louder than My No William H. Myers, 2015-12-17 William Myers has produced an outstanding study of the call to ministry among African American clergy This is the broadest and deepest study of African American call stories and narratives ever written Moving beyond the ethnographic descriptions Myers has placed the call narratives and stories in theoretical perspective relating them to the traditions of hermeneutics and theological reflection Highly recommended for all students of African American religious traditions Lawrence H Mamiya Vassar College The churches need this examination of a distinctive phenomenon of the African American religious experience to which Myers applies impressive cross disciplinary research skills and insight A fine contribution to black religious studies Gayraud S Wilmore Editor Journal of the Interdenominational Theological Center This is a pioneering work It attends to a central dimension of African American Christianity the call a topic largely neglected by theologians and religious studies scholars Bringing multiple perspectives to bear Myers argues that the call is not only a kind of religious hermeneutic but also a form of ritual and of narrative Myers has a finely tuned ear for the nuances and richness of specific African American voices Ron Grimes Wilfrid Laurier University Analysing Health Communication Gavin Brookes, Daniel Hunt, 2021-05-19 This edited book showcases original research in the study of healthcare and health communication while also providing a detailed overview of contemporary methods of discourse analysis Discourse approaches remain under represented in the field of health communication despite their potential for affording detailed understanding of health related text and talk across an array of contexts for example in face to face and digital healthcare encounters health promotion and patients accounts of illness experiences This book aims to address this gap in the literature by offering the first book length treatment of different approaches to discourse analysis in health care and illness contexts and it will appeal both to linguists and to researchers in nursing and health sciences sociology and anthropology The Retrospective Muse Froma I. Zeitlin, 2023-12-15 The Retrospective Muse showcases the celebrated work of Froma I Zeitlin Over many decades Zeitlin s innovative studies have changed the field of classics Her instantly recognizable work brings together anthropology gender studies cultural studies and an acute literary sensibility to open ancient texts and ideas to new forms of understanding A selection of her luminous essays on topics still timely today are collected for the first time in a volume that shows the full range and flair of her remarkable intellect Together these illuminating analyses show why Zeitlin s work on ancient Greek culture has had an enduring impact on scholars around the world not just in classics but across multiple fields From Homer to the Greek novel from religion to erotics from myth and ritual to theatrical performance she expounds on some of the most important works of ancient writing and some of modernity s most significant critical questions

Zeitlin's writing still sheds light on the durable aspects of classics as a discipline and this book encapsulates her achievement

Data-Based Radiation Oncology - Design of Clinical Trials Kerstin A. Kessel, Anne W. Lee, Søren M.

Bentzen, Bhadrasain Vikram, Fridtjof Nuesslin, Stephanie E. Combs, 2018-04-12 In radiation oncology as in many other specialties clinical trials are essential to investigate new therapy approaches. Usually preparation for a prospective clinical trial is extremely time consuming until ethics approval is obtained. To test a new treatment usually many years pass before it can be implemented in the routine care. During that time already new interventions emerge, new drugs appear on the market, technical/physical innovations are being implemented, novel biology-driven concepts are translated into clinical approaches while we are still investigating the ones from years ago. Another problem is associated with molecular diagnostics and the growing amount of tumor-specific biomarkers which allows for a better stratification of patient subgroups. On the other side this may result in a much longer time for patient recruiting and consequently in larger multicenter trials. Moreover, all of the relevant data must be readily available for treatment decision making, treatment as well as follow up and ultimately for trial evaluation. This challenges even more for agreed standards in data acquisition quality and management. How could we change the way currently clinical trials are performed in a way they are safe and ethically justifiable and speed up the initiation process so we can provide new and better treatments faster for our patients? Further while we rely on various quantitative information handling distributed large heterogeneous amounts of data efficiently is very important. Thus data management becomes a strong focus. A good infrastructure helps to plan, tailor and conduct clinical trials in a way they are easy and quickly analyzable. In this research topic we want to discuss new ideas for intelligent trial designs and concepts for data management.

The Retrospective Imagination of A. B. Yehoshua Yael Halevi-Wise, 2020-12-15 Once referred to by the New York Times as the Israeli Faulkner, A. B. Yehoshua's fiction invites an assessment of Israel's Jewish inheritance and the moral and political options that the country currently faces in the Middle East. The Retrospective Imagination of A. B. Yehoshua is an insightful overview of the fiction/nonfiction and hundreds of critical responses to the work of Israel's leading novelist. Instead of an exhaustive chronological biographical account of Yehoshua's artistic growth, Yael Halevi-Wise calls for a systematic appreciation of the author's major themes and compositional patterns. Specifically, she argues for reading Yehoshua's novels as reflections on the condition of Israel, constructed multifocally to engage four intersecting levels of signification: psychological, sociological, historical, and historiophilic. Each of the book's seven chapters employs a different interpretive method to showcase how Yehoshua's constructions of character, psychology, social relations, national history, and historiophilic allusions to traditional Jewish symbols manifest themselves across his novels. The book ends with a playful dialogue in the style of Yehoshua's masterpiece Mr. Mani that interrogates his definition of Jewish identity. Masterfully written with full control of all the relevant materials, Halevi-Wise's assessment of Yehoshua will appeal to students and scholars of modern Jewish literature and Jewish studies.
