Bureau of Fisheries,1876 Rewriting the Return to Africa Anne M. François,2011-08-16 Rewriting The Return to Africa Voices of Francophone Caribbean Women Writers examines the ways Guadeloupean women writers Maryse Condé Simone Schwarz Bart and Myriam Warner Veyra demystify the theme of the return to Africa as opposed to the masculinist version by Négritude male writers from the 1930s to 1960s Négritude a cultural and literary movement drew much of its strength from the idea of a mythical or cultural reconnection with the African past allegorized as a mother figure In contrast these women writers of the post colonial era who are to large extent heirs of Négritude differ sharply from their male counterparts in their representation of Africa In their novels the continent is not represented as a propitious mother figure but a disappointing father figure This study argues that these women writers subversion of the metaphorical figure of Africa and its transformation is tied to their gender The women novelists are indeed critical of a female allegorization of the land that is reminiscent of a colonial or nationalist project and a simplistic representation of motherhood that does not reflect the complexities of the Diaspora's relation to origins and identity Unlike the primary male writers of the Négritude movement they carefully gendered the notion of return by choosing female protagonists who made their way back to the Motherland in search of identity I argue that writing is a more suitable space for the female subject seeking identity because it allows her to have a voice and become subject rather than object as that was the case with the Négritude writers The women writers shattering of the image of Mother Africa and subsequently that of Father Africa highlights the complex relationship between Africa and the Diaspora from a female point of view It shifts the identity quest of the characters towards the Caribbean which emerges as the real problematic mother a multi faceted fragmented figure that reflects the constitutive clash that occurred in the archipelago between Europe Africa and the Americas where the issues of race gender class culture ethnicity history and language are very complex A Call to the

The Godman and the Sea Michael J.

Thate, 2019-11-01 If scholars no longer necessarily find the essence and origins of what came to be known as Christianity in the personality of a historical figure known as Jesus of Nazareth it nevertheless remains the case that the study of early Christianity is dominated by an assumption of the force of Jesus s personality on divergent communities In The Godman and the Sea Michael J Thate shifts the terms of this study by focusing on the Gospel of Mark which ends when Mary Magdalene Mary the mother of James and Salome discover a few days after the crucifixion that Jesus s tomb has been opened but the corpse is not there Unlike the other gospels Mark does not include the resurrection portraying instead loss puzzlement and despair in the face of the empty tomb Reading Mark s Gospel as an exemplary text Thate examines what he considers to be retellings of other traumatic experiences the stories of Jesus s exorcising demons out of a man and into a herd of swine his stilling of the storm and his walking on the water Drawing widely on a diverse set of resources that include the canon of western fiction classical literature the psychological study of trauma phenomenological philosophy the new materialism psychoanalytic theory poststructural philosophy and Hebrew Bible scholarship as well as the expected catalog of New Testament tools of biblical criticism in general and Markan scholarship in particular The Godman and the Sea is an experimental reading of the Gospel of Mark and the social force of the sea within its traumatized world More fundamentally however it attempts to position this reading as a story of trauma ecstasy and what has become through the ruins of past pain
