Johnson, 2007-11-30 The death penalty remains one of the most controversial issues in the United States Its proponents claim many things in their defense of its continued application For example they claim that it deters crime that death by lethal injection is painless and humane that it is racially neutral and that it provides closure to families of the victims In this comprehensive review of the major death penalty issues the authors systematically dismantle each one of these myths about capital punishment in a hard hitting critique of how our social political and community leaders have used fear and myth symbolic politics to misrepresent the death penalty as a public policy issue They successfully demonstrate how our political and community leaders have used myth and emotional appeals to misrepresent the facts about capital executions Successive chapters address the following topics the notion of community bonding the expectation of effective crime fighting the desire for equal justice deterrence the hope for fidelity to the Constitution the claim of error free justice closure retribution cost effectiveness and the messianic desires of some politicians In each of these areas the authors quote from death penalty advocates making these claims and then proceed to analyze and ultimately dismember the claimed advantages of the death penalty California.
