Prosperity for All Matthew Hilton,2011-05-02 The history of consumerism is about much more than just shopping Ever since the eighteenth century citizen consumers have protested against the abuses of the market by boycotting products and promoting fair instead of free trade In recent decades consumer activism has responded to the challenges of affluence by helping to guide consumers through an increasingly complex and alien marketplace In doing so it has challenged the very meaning of consumer society and tackled some of the key economic social and political issues associated with the era of globalization In Prosperity for All the first international history of consumer activism Matthew Hilton shows that modern consumer advocacy reached the peak of its influence in the decades after World War II Growing out of the product testing activities of Consumer Reports and its international counterparts including Which in the United Kingdom Que Choisir in France and Test in Germany consumerism evolved into a truly global social movement Consumer unions NGOs and individual activists like Ralph Nader emerged in countries around the world including developing countries in Southeast Asia and Latin America concerned with creating a more equitable marketplace and articulating a politics of consumption that addressed the needs of both individuals and society as a whole Consumer activists achieved many victories from making cars safer to highlighting the dangers of using baby formula instead of breast milk in countries with no access to clean water The 1980s saw a reversal in the consumer movement s fortunes thanks in large part to the rise of an antiregulatory agenda both in the United States and internationally In the process the definition of consumerism changed focusing more on choice than on access As Hilton shows this change reflects more broadly on the dilemmas we all face as consumers Do we want more stuff and more prosperity for ourselves or do we want others less fortunate to be able to enjoy the same opportunities and standard of living that we do Prosperity for All makes clear that by abandoning a more idealistic vision for consumer society we reduce consumers to little more than shoppers and we deny the vast majority of the world's population the fruits of affluence Calligraphy Review ,1992 New Glass Review ,1998 The Charter of the United Nations Nikolai Wessendorf,2012-11-22 Since the second edition of this commentary on the Charter of the United Nations was published the text of the Charter may not have changed but the world has The wars in Iraq and Afghanistan have had a lasting impact on international law and the Commentary has been fully updated to take their impact into account The new edition has been completely revised and features a completely new chapter on UN reform analyzing the effect of reforms which have already been implemented and examining why other proposals for reform have failed It will assess how these proposals could be improved with a particular focus on the Security Council This new edition also includes coverage of the creation of the Human Rights Council and the impact of the Responsibility to Protect doctrine This is the authoritative article by article account of the legislative history interpretation and practical application of each and every Charter provision Written by a team of distinguished scholars and practitioners this book combines academic research with the insights of practice and is an indispensable work of reference for all those interested in the UN The Commentary will be crucial in providing new directions for the development of international law and the United Nations in the twenty first century Statistical Reference Index ... Cumulative Index ,1994 The Middle East, Abstracts and Index ,1996 The Foundations of Modern Arms Control Robert M. Blum,2024-04-30 This book is an international history of the foundation of modern arms control highlighting the fact that the instrument is varied resilient successful and enduring The narrative begins after the Napoleonic wars when newly arisen peace movements focused on arbitration as a path to ending the war system It moves on to the international community's embrace of total and complete disarmament and then to its acceptance of more limited measures by 1968 including the agreements that remain in force today The book connects the past to the present of multiple negotiations successful and failed and underlines how the peace movement increasingly influenced the national policy of the major Western powers especially the United States It also highlights the increasing diversification of arms control players including women and people of color as well as the countries they represented Based on original research in multinational records and the latest scholarship the book illustrates the reasons multilateral arms control remains a key instrument of international relations The chapters are organized both chronologically and thematically with the result that they cover different amounts of time in order to encompass a given issue and to capture the development of particular threads The main narrative evolves into a decadeslong quest for a global treaty on general and complete disarmament which otherwise paces the book and shapes its chapters This book will be of much interest to students of arms control global governance peace studies and International Relations New York Magazine ,1994-01-10 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea The Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory, 2004 Targeting Terrorist Financing Arabinda Acharya, 2009-09-11 This book examines the dynamics of terrorist financing including a discussion about the importance of money from both the terrorist and the counter terrorist perspective Targeting Terrorist Financing argues that it is not the institutions that have failed the war on terrorist financing rather it is the states that have failed the institutions The measures contemplated by the world community to interdict terrorists and their financial infrastructures are sufficient to debilitate the terrorists both militarily and financially However what has been increasingly lacking is political will among the states and this has overwhelmed the spirit of cooperation in this very critical front against terrorism This volume assesses the need for international cooperation and the role of institutions and regimes in targeting terrorist financing After the 9 11 attacks there was an expression of global willingness to target terrorism generally and terrorist financing in particular The institutional mechanisms that grew out of this are explored in detail here with a critical examination of the progress made by the international community The impact of these measures is considered with respect to changes in the nature of the terrorist threat money confiscated adoption of international conventions and global standards by states and levels of compliance among others This book will be of great interest to students of terrorism international organisations international security and IR in general Arabinda Acharya is Research Fellow Manager of Strategic Projects and Head of the Terrorist Financing Response Project at the International Centre for Political Violence and Terrorism Research in the S Rajaratnam School of International Studies Nanyang Technological University Singapore
