Sotiropoulos,2019-03-13 A Materialist Theory of Justice offers an innovative re reading of justice that draws from diverse theoretical currents tracing in the process an age old tradition of critical thought Raising the banner of materialism against idealist conceptions justice is conceived as a multiple process which emerges in the dynamic reproduction and interaction of material bodies Mapping out its presence on non human fields justice is then shown to attain in human beings the status of a contentious problem and a productive desire which is related to the pursuit of a good life and is also determinative of human history The theorization enlarges the scope of the notion by incorporating a wide spectrum of phenomena from animal forms of sociality and activity to revolution empire civil war up to and including the riots that spread out in the world today In this way the book also manages to extend beyond the disciplinary boundaries of normative political theory within which theories of justice are usually logged and enter a productive discussion with various currents of critical thought      Novel and Short

Otfried Höffe is one of the foremost political philosophers in Europe today In this major work already a classic in continental Europe he re examines philosophical discourse on justice from Classical Greece to the present day Höffe confronts what he sees as the two major challenges to any theory of justice the legal positivist claim that there are no standards of justice external to legal systems and the anarchist claim that justice demands the rejection and abolition of all legal and state systems Höffe sets out to continue the philosophical project of modernity the legitimation of human rights and their guarantee by the state while at the same time rehabilitating the classical theory of political justice represented by Plato and Aristotle He questions the success of the positivists in avoiding extra legal normative claims and casts doubt on the plausibility of their criticism of the Natural Law tradition Most anarchists he argues rely on an uncritical assumption that social institutions other than states and legal orders do not coerce In Höffe's view some coercion is unavoidable and the grounds for its justification must be examined Principles of justice will be those principles which define fundamental rights and which must be enforced if rights are to be respected      Detecting Canada Jeannette Sloniowski,Marilyn
