The Forgotten Church Glenn Daman, 2018-05-01 Winner of Christianity Today's Award of Merit for The Church Pastoral Leadership 2018 Whether it's because of the 2016 Presidential election or books like Hillbilly Elegy Americans are beginning to understand the tremendous influence people in rural areas have in our nation But rural America not urban America is also the new center of poverty Thus the rural church stands at the crossroads of strength and struggle It carries the gospel the very hope and power needed Yet its ministry efforts are hamstrung because urban and suburban churches often don't realize their need for rural churches and the rural church itself rarely understands its unique assets and values The Forgotten Church addresses these problems and provides an overview of rural ministry explores opportunities recent trends provide showcases the remarkable benefits of suburban urban and rural churches working together This book is essential for any pastor whether from the city or the sticks because we are one body and we need each other
The Art of Revitalization Sean Zielenbach, 2002-05-03 This book discusses the revitalization of decayed inner city neighborhoods It explores the role of social capital in stabilizing and turning around distressed communities and it highlights the roles that local actors can and do play in the revitalization process The Art of Revitalization takes two Chicago neighborhoods Englewood and North Lawndale as case studies Zielenbach discusses them in the context of racial change and urban decay in Chicago since World War II The account of the changing neighborhoods is fascinating and clear and the strength of the author's portrayal of Chicago's transformation sets the stage for his detailed analysis Documenting and Revitalizing Austronesian Languages Victoria Rau, D. Victoria Rau, Margaret J. Florey, 2008-09 This is a National Foreign Language Resource Center conference volume and special issue of Language Documentation and Conservation an open access journal <http://nflrc.hawaii.edu/ldc> Religious Revitalization Among the Kiowas Benjamin R. Kracht, 2018-04 Framed by theories of syncretism and revitalization Religious Revitalization among the Kiowas examines changes in Kiowa belief and ritual in the final decades of the nineteenth century During the height of the horse and bison culture Kiowa beliefs were founded in the notion of daudau a force permeating the universe that was accessible through vision quests Following the end of the Southern Plains wars in 1875 the Kiowas were confined within the boundaries of the Kiowa Comanche Apache Plains Apache Reservation As wards of the government they witnessed the extinction of the bison herds which led to the collapse of the Sun Dance by 1890 Though prophet movements in the 1880s had failed to restore the bison other religions emerged to fill the void left by the loss of the Sun Dance Kiowas now sought daudau through the Ghost Dance Christianity and the Peyote religion Religious Revitalization among the Kiowas examines the historical and sociocultural conditions that spawned the new religions that arrived in Kiowa country at the end of the nineteenth century as well as Native and non Native reactions to them A thorough examination of these sources reveals how resilient and adaptable the Kiowas were in the face of cultural genocide between 1883 and 1933 Although the prophet movements and the Ghost Dance were short lived Christianity and the Native American Church have persevered into the twenty first century Benjamin R Kracht shows how Kiowa traditions and spirituality were amalgamated into the new religions creating a distinctive Kiowa identity

A Genealogy of Dissent: Southern Baptist Protest in the Twentieth Century David Stricklin, Between the Civil War and the turn of the last century Southern Baptists gained prominence in the religious life of the South As their power increased they became defenders of the racial political social and economic status quo By the beginning of this century however a feisty tradition of dissent began to appear in Southern Baptist life as criticism of the center increased from both the left and the right The popular belief in a doctrine of once saved always saved led progressive Baptists to claim that moderates once saved did not address the serious social and political problems that faced many in the South These Baptist dissenters claimed that they could not be at ease in Zion Led by the radical Walter Nathan Johnson in the 1920s and 1930s progressive Baptists produced civil rights advocates labor organizers women's rights advocates and proponents of disarmament and abolition of capital punishment They challenged some of the most fundamental aspects of southern society and of Baptist ecclesiastical structure and practice For their efforts and beliefs many of these men and women suffered as they lost jobs experienced physical danger and injury and endured character assassination In A Genealogy of Dissent David Stricklin traces the history of these progressive Baptists and their descendants throughout the twentieth century and shows how they created an active culture of protest within a highly traditional society

Recreating Utopia in the Desert Hans A. Baer, 1988-01-01 Recreating Utopia in the Desert A Sectarian Challenge to Modern Mormonism is the account of a millenarian sect officially known as the Aaronic Order one of the main splinter groups of the Mormon Church Their story tells us much about the social tensions particularly along class lines that have emerged in Mormonism The Aaronic Order or Levites emerged as the Mormon Church evolved from a religious utopia in the Midwest to a near nation state in the Intermountain West to finally an international theocratic corporation Drawing upon the concept of revitalization movements the Levite sect is viewed as an attempt by working class Mormons to resurrect the communitarian ideals they perceived as characteristic of earlier nineteenth century Mormonism From their beginnings in the Depression the Levites have developed a series of cooperative and communal ventures in Utah based upon the revelations of Maurice Glendenning We see in the Levites the seemingly inevitable processes of institutionalization and fission characterizing revitalization movements that survive By explaining the impetus for the development of sectarian groups such as the Levites the author offers important insights for the discussion of religious communitarianism and schismatic movements in contemporary religion

Asian Revitalization Katie Cummer, 2021-01-11 Adaptive reuse refers to reusing an old building for a purpose other than which it was originally built or designed This conservation approach has become increasingly popular around the world However there are few publications that focus on its application in Asia This book fills this gap by looking at both unique and shared aspects of adaptive reuse in three Asian urban centers Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Building on government policy documents and extensive field work this book contextualizes adaptive reuse in each city and reveals the impetus behind a wide range of projects from revitalization in Hong Kong commercial development in Shanghai to community building in Singapore. The introductory chapter sets adaptive reuse within an international perspective, noting salient differences and similarities between Asia and other parts of the world. It also anchors the discussion within a regional perspective, focusing on the similarities and differences between Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Singapore. Each of the following four essays addresses a specific topic about adaptive reuse, including its relationship to urban development and sustainability, how it benefits heritage buildings, and how it reveals best practices in heritage conservation in Asia. The subsequent three essays, one for each city, supplemented with timelines, set out a clear framework for understanding the city-specific case studies that follow the essays. Afterwards, fifteen representative projects across the three cities are presented as in-depth case studies. The pairing of essays and case studies provides a detailed understanding of each city's approach to adaptive reuse in the twenty-first century, a time when the need for sustainable development solutions is at the forefront. Intended for classroom use and professional readership, this book will be of considerable value in Asia as well as elsewhere, providing material for stimulating and worthwhile discussion.

Asian Revitalization is a highly practical and accessible volume on the long-established conservation practice of adaptive reuse in East Asia. Its focus on real-life issues, examples, and challenges posed by revitalization programs in the region is extremely relevant to researchers and practitioners in architectural conservation, urban design, and urban studies.

Miles Glendinning
University of Edinburgh, Scotland

This is a superb, well-documented and original book written by some of the best-known and highly respected authors in the field of heritage conservation. The carefully examined case studies illustrate a wide variety of solutions that highlight the work of some of the best minds of the next generations.

Alastair Kerr
University of Victoria, Canada

This is a most interesting set of essays, informative and thought-provoking. The best way to save any heritage building is by keeping it in beneficial use, and how to achieve this in a sensitive manner is what these essays are about. They should be vital reading for anyone considering an adaptive reuse project in Asia.

Michael Morrison Purcell
UK

With cultural heritage firmly ensconced in the global development agendas of the United Nations, this well-grounded volume draws upon the experience of Hong Kong, SAR, Shanghai, and Singapore to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners alike how historic properties can be sustained through savvy adaptive reuse in the midst of tremendous urban redevelopment pressures.

A Revitalization of Images Gregory C. Higgins, 2019-03-05

The philosopher, theologian, and biblical scholar Austin Farrer (1904-1968) highlighted in his various writings the central role that images play in the interpretation of biblical writings, the construction of theological arguments, and the descriptions of the Christian spiritual life. Theologians down through the centuries have sought to revitalize the central biblical images as they addressed the pressing theological, moral, and spiritual questions of their day. A Revitalization of Images offers students the opportunity to participate in this ongoing creative engagement with ten dominant biblical images that continue to shape the church's beliefs and practices as well as each Christian's own spiritual journey. Sound theology is rooted in Scripture, conversant with past thinkers and engaged in the present life of the church. This dynamic directly informs Revitalization. In each chapter we begin with a biblical image that has figured prominently in the Christian theological tradition. Next we examine two prominent voices from the Christian tradition who have drawn upon the image when crafting a compelling vision of the Christian life. We then turn our attention to a contemporary thinker who has incorporated or critiqued the image in his or her own theological work. This discussion is set within the current spectrum of theological positions including orthodox, liberal, postliberal, and postmodern perspectives.

Biblical Foundations for Baptist Churches John S. Hammett, 2019-02-26. An updated examination of ecclesiology from a Baptist perspective. In this useful book, professor and former pastor John Hammett helps church leaders think through foundational questions about the nature of the church. Blending biblical teaching and practical ministry experience, Hammett presents a comprehensive ecclesiology from a historic Baptist perspective, examining crucial contemporary issues such as church discipline, the role of elders, and church ministry in a post-Christian culture. This second edition contains updates throughout, including substantive changes to chapters on the nature of the church, Baptist church polity, and deacons. An expanded chapter on baptism and the Lord's Supper. A thoroughly revised chapter on church models like multisite churches and missional churches. A brand new chapter on meaningful church membership.

The Dutch and Their Gods Erik Sengers, 2005.

The book addresses their questions about what to do next in their church planting strategies in light of research on what's actually working best. Author Ed Stetzer heads up LifeWay Research. Provides reliable, credible information about what church planting strategies work best. A volume in the Leadership Network Series. Offers a definitive guide for church planting and the burgeoning movement it is part of.

ReClaimed Church Bill Henard, 2018-06-01. It's no secret: churches are dying. Tragically, thousands of churches in the United States are shrinking, some closing their doors forever. The key to reversing these trends, argues Bill Henard, is for a local church to recognize where it is in the church life cycle. Unless churches intentionally do something about it, many of them will follow the same pattern from birth to plateau and eventually to death. But if a church learns to identify its place within the life cycle and embraces the necessary processes, it can return to growth. In a day when church membership has decreased, evangelistic zeal has cooled, and budgets are disappearing, ReClaimed Church is the tool that struggling churches need. Having previously written and taught seminary courses on church revitalization, Bill Henard uses his expertise to provide all the practical insights and instructions needed to reclaim your church
