Revival Of Death:

The Revival of Death Tony Walter,1994 The current revival of interest in death seeks ultimate authority in the individual self This is the first book to comprehensively examine this revival and relate it to theories of modernity and postmodernity

No Place for Dying Helen Stanton Chapple,2010-04-14 This book shows how dying is a management problem for hospitals occupying space but few billable encounters and of little interest to medical practice or quality control An anthropologist and bioethicist with two decades of professional nursing experience Helen Chapple goes beyond current work on hospital care to present fine grained accounts of the clinicians patients and families who navigate this uncharted untidy and unpredictable territory between the highly choreographed project of rescue and the clinical culmination of death

Death, Gender, and Ethnicity David Field,Jennifer Lorna Hockey,Neil Small,1997 The issues of gender and ethnic provenance have been neglected in many textbooks on death This book explores issues relating to gender and ethnicity to provide health care professionals with an up to date and invaluable textbook

Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature Kathryn James,2009-02-10 Considering the trope of woman death the eroticizing of death and the ways in which the gendered subject is represented in dialogue with the processes of death dying and grief James shows how representations of death in young adult literature are invariably associated with issues of sexuality gender and power

Jacobsen,2019-11-26 With intense and violent portrayals of death becoming ever more common on television and in cinema and the growth of death centric movies series texts songs and video clips attracting a wide and enthusiastic global reception we might well ask whether death has ceased to be a taboo What makes thanatic themes so desirable in popular culture Do representations of the macabre and gore perpetuate or sublimate violent desires Has contemporary popular culture removed our unease with death Can social media help us cope with our mortality or can music and art present death as an aesthetic phenomenon This volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the discussion of the social cultural aesthetic and theoretical aspects of the ways in which popular culture understands represents and manages death bringing together contributions from around the world focused on television cinema popular literature social media and the internet art music and advertising Governing Death and Loss Stephen Conway,2011 Political economic social cultural and technological changes have led to profound transformations in the ways that death and loss are perceived and managed in contemporary society Over the last few decades the long term shift to chronic illness as a major causal factor has significantly increased the time scale of dying Most people die in institutions and care is typically medical Many communities and ordinary citizens now relinquish control and involvement to experts in the last stages of life However at global and local levels new institutional arrangements are emerging to govern the changing face of death and a new model is being developed to counter claims of the creeping medicalisation of death and dying Emphasising the international context of the issues involved this book illustrates the interlinking nature of society death and loss and gives examples of governance that promotes the empowerment participation and the increasing need for the involvement of ordinary people and communities in differing social and cultural contexts All chapters are written at an accessible level and will appeal to a wide readership Part 1 of the book provides a sociological understanding of the governance of death and loss in international and historical contexts and the implications for practice Part 2 provides examples of good practice drawing upon a sociological understanding
