Delehanty, 2022-12-16 This volume examines five early modern novels from the seventeenth century in Spain and France as examples of literature as a form of skeptical inquiry Cervantes s Don Quijote Zayas s Desenga os amorosos Scarron s Roman comique Cyrano de Bergerac s L Autre Monde and Mme de Lafayette s Zayde These early modern novels encourage readers to take a critical stance toward accepted beliefs through content that stages multiple encounters with the shockingly unfamiliar as well as through experiments in literary form especially the interpolated story At its broadest reach this study asserts the fundamental value of literature as a means of encouraging discernment recognizing the illusory and honing critical acuity In terms of the particularity of the historical moment the volume also identifies the early modern novel as uniquely able to represent the conflicting value spheres of early modernity because of its ability to present multiple voices and its fascination with conflicting vantage points Due to its interdisciplinary nature Disenchantment Skepticism and the Early Modern Novel in Spain and France appeals to literary scholars and intellectual historians of the early modern period in Europe as well as to advanced undergraduates and postgraduates studying the early novel intellectual history and philosophy of literature The Modern Irish Sonnet Tara Guissin-Stubbs, 2020-10-10 The Modern Irish Sonnet Revision and Rebellion discusses how and why the sonnet appeals to Irish poets and has grown in popularity over the last century Using a thematic approach Tara Guissin Stubbs argues for the significance of the Irish sonnet as a discrete entity within modern and contemporary poetry and shows how the Irish sonnet has become a debating chamber for discussions concerning the relationship between Irish and British culture poetry and gender and revision and rebellion The text reshapes the poetic and critical field exploring canonical and non canonical poems by male and female poets so as to challenge outmoded views of the thematic and formal limitations of the sonnet

Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 Daniel R. Schwarz, 2018-03-14 An exploration of the modern European novel from a renowned English literature scholar Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 is an engaging in depth examination of the evolution of the modern European novel Written in Daniel R Schwarz s precise and highly readable style this critical study offers compelling discussions on a wide range of major works since 1900 and examines recurring themes within the context of significant historical events including both World Wars and the Holocaust The author cites important developments in the evolution of the modern novel and explores how these paradigmatic works of fiction reflect intellectual and cultural history including developments in painting and cinema Schwarz focuses on narrative complexity thematic subtlety and formal originality as well as how novels render historical events and cultural developments Discussing major works by Proust Camus Mann Kafka Grass di Lampedusa Bassani Kertesz Pamuk Kundera Saramago Muller and Ferrante Schwarz explores how these often experimental masterworks pay homage to the their major predecessors discussed in Schwarz s ground breaking Reading the European Novel to 1900 even while proposing radical departures from realism in their approach to time and space their testing the limits of language and their innovative ways of rendering the human psyche Written for teachers and students by a highly acclaimed scholar and including valuable study questions Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 offers a guide for a deeper understanding of how these original modern masters respond to both the past and present Un editore imprevedibile. Realism shows that early twentieth century Chinese writers drew upon Russian texts about the socially downtrodden to describe poverty in a bid to enrich Chinese culture by creating a syncretic new realism. Modern Chinese realist writers turned to the topic of material poverty: peasants suffering from famine, exploited urban laborers, homeless orphans to convey their sense of textual poverty and national backwardness. The combination of a radically new subject matter and experimentation with diverse literary resources indigenous and foreign generated major innovations in narrative technique. Depicting poverty allowed writers to revolutionize the nascent forms of modern Chinese narrative, innovating strategies of representing the nation, the social other, time and space while problematizing their deployment of squalor for aesthetic purposes. This book examines why Russian literature itself long preoccupied with a problem of belatedness vis vis Western Europe occupied a privileged place for Chinese intellectuals of this era. Comparing Chinese fiction about poverty to Russian intertexts by Gogol, Andreiev, Chekhov, Turgenyev and others, the book shows how Chinese writers drew and innovated upon themes such as madness or human animality and formal elements such as metonymy. Keru Cai's multi-scalar approach emphasizing close textual analysis situates modern Chinese realism in the trans-Eurasian axis of world literature.

Cultural Studies of the Modern Middle Ages E. Joy, M. Seaman, K. Bell, M. Ramsey, 2007-12-09. This volume brings together contemporary popular entertainment, current political subjects and medieval history and culture to investigate the intersecting and often tangled relations between politics, aesthetics, reality and fiction in relation to issues of morality, identity, social values, power and justice both in the past and the present.

Revue Critique de philologie romane, 1998

A History of the Modern British Ghost Story S. Hay, 2011-10-27. Ghost stories are always in conversation with novelistic modes with which they are contemporary. This book examines examples from Sir Walter Scott, Charles Dickens, Henry James and Rudyard Kipling amongst others to the end of the twentieth century, looking at how they address empire, class, property, history and trauma.

A Historical Study of Early Modern Chinese Fictions (1890–1920) Pingyuan Chen, 2021-01-28. This book contains a classic guide to historical study of early modern Chinese fiction from the late Qing Dynasty till early republican China. It does not merely study the new fiction writing in China which was strongly influenced by the western fiction but also draws a comparison between classical Chinese fiction and the early modern Chinese fiction. This book is an excellent reference in the study of early modern Chinese literature since it conveys a point of view to the readers with abundant and solid historical materials. At the heart of the book it is the matter of a specific value in trans-cultural studies between the western world and China.

Diplomacy and the Modern Novel Isabelle Daunais, Allan Hepburn, 2020-10-01. Between 1900 and 1960 many writers in France and Britain either had parallel careers in diplomatic corps or frequented diplomatic circles. Paul Claudel, Albert Cohen, Lawrence Durrell, Graham Greene, John le Carré, André Malraux, Nancy Mitford, Marcel Proust and others. What attracts writers to diplomacy and what attracts diplomats to publishing their experiences in memoirs or novels? Like novelists, diplomats are in the habit of describing situations with an eye for atmosphere, personalities and looming crises. Yet novels about diplomats far from putting a solemn face on everything often devolve into comedy if not outright farce Anachronistic yet charming diplomats take the long view of history and social transformation which puts them out of step with their times at least in fiction In this collection of essays eleven contributors reflect on diplomacy in French and British novels with particular focus on temporality style comedy characterization and the professional liabilities attached to representing a state abroad With archival examples as evidence the essays in this volume indicate that modern fiction especially fiction about diplomacy is a response to the increasing speed of communication the decline of imperial power and the ceding of old ways of negotiating to new

Vita e pensiero, 1997 Dancing with the Modernist City Wesley Lim, 2024-07-22 As the 20th century dawned authors artists and filmmakers flocked to cities like Paris and Berlin for a chance to experience a bustling urban life and engage with other artists and intellectuals Among them were German speaking authors and filmmakers such as Harry Graf Kessler Rainer Maria Rilke August Endell Alfred Döblin Else Lasker-Schüler Segundo de Chomón and the brothers Max and Emil Skladanowsky In their writing and artistic work from that period they depicted the perpetual influx of stimuli caused by urban life including hordes of pedestrians bustling traffic and a barrage of advertisements as well as how these encounters repeatedly paralleled their experiences of watching early twentieth century dance performances by Loie Fuller Ruth St Denis and Vaslav Nijinsky The convergence these writers and filmmakers saw between the unexpected encounters during their urban strolls and experimental dance performances led to writings that interwove the two motifs Drawing on cultural literary dance performance and queer studies Dancing with the Modernist City analyzes an array of material from 1896 to 1914 essays novels short stories poetry newspaper articles photographs posters drawings and early film It argues that these writers and artists created a genre called the metropolitan dance text which depicts dancing figures not on a traditional stage but with the streets advertising pillars theaters cafes squares and even hospitals of an urban setting Breaking away from the historically male heteronormative view this posthumanist mode of writing highlights the visual and episodic unexpectedness of urban encounters These literary depictions question traditional conceptualizations of space and performance by making the protagonist and the reader feel like they embody the dancer and the movement In doing so they upset the conventional depictions of performance and urban spaces in ways paralleling modern dance

Writing the Modern City Sarah Edwards, Jonathan Charley, 2012-03-12 Literary texts and buildings have always represented space narrated cultural and political values and functioned as sites of personal and collective identity In the twentieth century new forms of narrative have represented cultural modernity political idealism and architectural innovation Writing the Modern City explores the diverse and fascinating relationships between literature architecture and modernity and considers how they have shaped the world today This collection of thirteen original essays examines the ways in which literature and architecture have shaped a range of recognisably modern identities It focuses on the cultural connections between prose narratives the novel short stories autobiography crime and science fiction and a range of urban environments from the city apartment and river to the colonial house and the utopian city It explores how the themes of memory nation and identity have been represented in both literary and architectural works in the aftermath of early twentieth century conflict how the cultural movements of modernism and postmodernism have affected notions of canonicity and genre in the creation of books and buildings and how and why literary and architectural narratives are influenced by each other s formal properties and styles The book breaks new ground in its exclusive focus on modern narrative and urban space The essays examine texts and spaces that have both unsettled traditional definitions of literature and architecture and reflected and shaped modern identities sexual domestic professional and national It is essential reading for students and researchers of literature cultural studies cultural geography art history and architectural history The Routledge Companion to Literature and Science Bruce Clarke,Manuela Rossini,2010-09-13 With forty four newly commissioned articles from an international cast of leading scholars The Routledge Companion to Literature and Science traces the network of connections among literature science technology mathematics and medicine Divided into three main sections this volume links diverse literatures to scientific disciplines from Artificial Intelligence to Thermodynamics surveys current theoretical and disciplinary approaches from Animal Studies to Semiotics traces the history and culture of literature and science from Greece and Rome to Postmodernism Ranging from classical origins and modern revolutions to current developments in cultural science studies and the posthumanities this indispensable volume offers a comprehensive resource for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers With authoritative accessible and succinct treatments of the sciences in their literary dimensions and cultural frameworks here is the essential guide to this vibrant area of study Between Exile and Return Anne Golomb Hoffman,2012-02-01 This innovative study of the modern Hebrew writer S Y Agnon offers new insight into his literary transformations of Jewish themes and sources With particular attention to Kafka Hoffman situates Agnon in the context of twentieth century literature and examines such central issues in Agnon s art as the relationship of the literary text to traditions of sacred writings the place of the book in culture and the relationship of writing to the body Agnon s writing moves between exile and return enacting dramas of presence and absence and attachment and loss From the images of sacred texts found in some of his short fiction to the ideological conflicts that inform his larger novels this book traces the geographical cultural sweep of Agnon s writing as it moves through Eastern and Western Europe positioning the Diaspora in relation to a Jerusalem that is both mundane and spiritual Hoffman examines the ways in which Agnon s writing produces an autobiographical myth that joins the figure of the writer to the life history of the larger community of Israel Moving from stories of writer and writing to the broader cultural canvas of several major novels the author concludes with an analysis of the ways in which the fiction prompts interrogation of major cultural constructions concerning gender the formative passage of the subject through the Oedipus complex and the dissociation of culture from the body The Power of Memory in Modern Japan Sven Saaler,Wolfgang Schwentker,2008-06-26 Due to their symbolic and iconographic meanings expressions of collective memory constitute the mental topography of a society and make a powerful contribution to its cultural political and social identity In Japan the subject of memory has prompted a huge response in recent years Indeed it has been and continues to be debated at many levels of Japan s political social economic and cultural life For the historian and social scientist the opportunity to access recorded memories is invariably welcomed as a valuable building block in research and a determinant in establishing balance and perspective This volume brings together a selection of the most significant research on memory relating to modern Japan Thematically structured Politics and International Relations Memorials Museums National Heroes Popular and Intellectual Representations of Memory Realms of Memory Centre and Periphery the subjects treated include the Nanjing massacre comfort women the fate of war monuments the political use of national memory in post war Japan and remembering the atomic bomb

Irish Materialisms Colleen Taylor, 2024 Irish Materialisms The Nonhuman and the Making of Colonial Ireland 1690 1830 is the first book to apply recent trends in new materialist criticism to Ireland It radically shifts familiar colonial stereotypes of the feminized racialized cottier according to the Irish peasantry s subversive entanglement with nonhuman materiality Each of the chapters engages a focused case study of an everyday object in colonial Ireland coins flax spinning wheels mud and pigs to examine how each object s unique materiality contributed to the colonial ideology of British paternalism and afforded creative Irish expression The main argument of Irish Materialisms is its methodology of reading literature through the agency of materiality and nonhuman narrative in order to gain a more egalitarian and varied understanding of colonial experience Irish Materialisms proves that new materialism holds powerful postcolonial potential Through an intimate understanding of the materiality Irish peasants handled on a daily basis this book presents a new portrait of Irish character that reflects greater empowerment resistance and expression in the oppressed Irish than has been previously recognized
