Bishops' Committee on the Liturgy
National Conference of Catholic Bishops

ITHACA, COLLEGE 12

liturgical practice is now open, within the limits set by the present discipline and regulations. . . . Not all priests appreciate how wide the opportunities are for planning lively and intelligible celebrations" (National Conference of Catholic Bishops, April 1987)—especially in the various combinations of song and spoken prayer in the liturgy.

It is hoped that this statement of the Bishops' Committee on the Liturgy will be of use to the bishops and their liturgical commissions and to all who celebrate or plan liturgies.

The Theology of Celebration

1. We are Christians because through the Christian community we have met Jesus Christ, heard his word in invitation, and responded to him in faith. We gather at Mass that we may hear and express our faith again in this assembly and, by expressing it, renew and deepen it.
2. We do not come to meet Christ as if he were absent from the rest of our lives. We come together to deepen our awareness of, and commitment to, the action of his Spirit in the whole of our lives at every moment. We come together to acknowledge the love of God poured out among us in the work of the Spirit, to stand in awe and praise.
3. We are celebrating when we involve ourselves meaningfully in the thoughts, words, songs, and gestures of the worshipping community—when everything we do is wholehearted and authentic for us—when we mean the words and want to do what is done.
4. People in love make signs of love, not only to express their love but also to deepen it. Love never expressed dies. Christians' love for Christ and for one another and Christians' faith in Christ and in one another must be expressed in the signs and symbols of celebration or they will die.
5. Celebrations need not fail, even on a particular Sunday when our feelings do not match the invitation of Christ and his Church to worship. Faith does not always permeate our feelings. But the signs and symbols of worship can give bodily expression to faith as we celebrate. Our own faith is inviolated. We become one with others whose faith is similarly expressed. We rise above our own feelings to respond to God in prayer.
