Return Migration Journey Of Hope Or Despair:

Return Migration Bimal Ghosh, International Organization for Migration, 2000 Includes statistics Return Migration and Psychosocial Wellbeing Zana Vathi, Russell King, 2017-03-27 Return migration is a topic of growing interest among academics and policy makers Nonetheless issues of psychosocial wellbeing are rarely discussed in its context Return Migration and Psychosocial Wellbeing problematises the widely held assumption that return to the country of origin especially in the context of voluntary migrations is a psychologically safe process By exploding the forced voluntary dichotomy it analyses the continuum of experiences of return and the effect of time the factors that affect the return process and associated mobilities and their multiple links with returned migrants wellbeing or psychosocial issues Drawing research encompassing four different continents Europe North America Africa and Asia to offer a blend of studies this timely volume contrasts with previous research which is heavily informed by clinical approaches and concepts as the contributions in this book come from various disciplinary approaches such as sociology geography psychology politics and anthropology Indeed this title will appeal to academics NGOs and policy makers working on migration and psychosocial wellbeing and undergraduate and postgraduate students who are interested in the fields of migration social policy ethnicity studies health studies human geography sociology and anthropology Return Migration of the Next Generations Dennis Conway, Robert B. Potter, 2009 Return Migration of the Next Generations looks at global migration patterns of the one and a half and second generations young contract workers and prolonged sojourners and examines their return home and its consequences

Handbook of Return Migration King, Russell, Kuschminder, Katie, 2022-01-18 This authoritative Handbook provides an interdisciplinary appraisal of the field of return migration advancing concepts and theories and setting an agenda for new debates Selected Studies in International Migration and Immigrant Incorporation Marco Martiniello, Jan Rath, 2010 The editors have selected from both the grounding classics and the best new work to show how migration is transforming the rich democracies Professor John Mollenkopf The City University of New York Intergenerational Mobilities Lesley Murray, Susan Robertson, 2016-10-04 Drawing from work on mobilities and geographies of the lifecourse this collection is concerned with the ways in which age as a relational concept is constructed and played out in mobile urban space With studies of ageing and mobility often focusing on discrete age groups most notably children and older people this study seeks to fill a gap in existing literature by exploring mobility in relation to the lifecourse and generation looking not only at the margins Whilst some generations are increasingly mobile others are less so and this disparity in mobility opportunity is relational as age is relational This book addresses gaps in knowledge in relational geographies of ageing whilst contributing to literature on mobility and transport in particular the burgeoning field of mobility in justice Here mobility is considered in its broadest sense for example in relation to the movement or lack of movement of bodies and to computer mediated intergenerational communications Through focusing on urban mobile spaces from very local spaces of medical care to global spaces of migration that are the context for intergenerational mobilities this collection explores these interdependencies and considers ways in which intergenerational mobilities are conceptualised and researched

The American Dream Through the Eyes of Black African Immigrants in Texas Ami R. Moore, 2013-04-18 Using James Truslow Adams definition of the American dream this book investigates whether black African immigrants in Texas are achieving the American dream Almost all of the study participants Moore interviewed considered America a land of opportunity Additionally most of the black African immigrants definitions of the American dream focused on material aspects Although participants mostly reported that the United States had been good to them they nonetheless felt that they had not yet achieved the American dream Additionally they reported that their lives in the United States had been at best incomplete They also encountered other challenges which mainly reflected the moralistic aspect of the definition of the American dream They reported experiences such as not being fully accepted by native born Americans in general and by white Americans in particular being discriminated against and being unappreciated In fact all of these challenges created a sense of marginalization among study participants However aware of the benefits of migration they were willing to endure these challenges

Women Migrants in Southern China and Taiwan Beatrice Zani, 2021-11-25 This book based on extensive original research explores the lives the migratory experiences and the social economic and emotional practices of Chinese migrant women during their migrations and mobilities in China from China to Taiwan from Taiwan to China and in between the two countries It illustrates how women on the move experience social contempt misrecognition and economic marginalisation how women migrants seek autonomy economic independence upward social mobility and modernity but discover the Chinese inegalitarian social order and labour regimes which produce obstacles and impede their ambitions and how old and new forms of subalternity are reproduced Overall the book emphasises what it feels like for the women migrants as they negotiate their way at the crossroad between subalternity and resistance between subordinated labour and independent digital entrepreneurship and between an inegalitarian labour market and new online opportunities for business and commerce

Palestinian Refugee Repatriation Michael Dumper, 2006-09-27 The repatriation of Palestinians is a highly topical issue and a critical component of any future peace process for Israel Palestine Until now the mechanics of repatriation have not been dealt with in detail This book explores the notion that the Palestinian refugee case is exceptional through the comparative study of refugee repatriation and asks To what extent can the Palestinian case be said to be unique Where are the divergences the overlaps and points of similarity with other refugee situations What lessons can be drawn from these comparisons How can these lessons inform refugee organizations the donor community and policy makers The expert contributors examine the contextual and methodological field reviewing the trends in forced migration and refugee studies as well as studying the historical and political background of UNHCR and the negotiations around the Palestinian refugee issue Taking a comparative approach the book incorporates case studies of specific refugee situations from around the world revealing key issues in the formulation of repatriation programmes and highlighting lessons to be learnt

Crossing Borders, Shifting Boundaries Sārī Ḥanafī, Sheerin Al-Araj, 2008 This monograph centers on the effort to understand the issue of return migration to Palestine from a sociological point of view Six papers examine various human situations among Palestinians ranging from villages that have been divided by borders such as the Green Line to populations of Palestinian origin that have been cut off from their roots in Palestine and are now seeking to establish their lives elsewhere The common theme is the role of borders and boundaries those that people seek to cross and those that the wider political processes establish around existing populations Cairo Papers Vol 29 No 1

Leaving Zion Ori Yehudai, 2020-05-14 The story of Israel's foundation has often been told from the perspective of Jewish immigration to the Land of Israel Leaving Zion turns this historical narrative on its head focusing on Jewish out migration from Palestine and Israel between 1945 and the late 1950s Based on previously unexamined primary sources collected from twenty two archives in six countries Ori Yehudai demonstrates that despite the dominant view that displaced Jews should settle in the Jewish homeland many Jews instead saw the country as a site of displacement or a way station to more desirable lands Weaving together the perspectives of governments aid organizations Jewish communities and the personal stories of individual migrants Yehudai brings to light the ideological political and social tensions surrounding emigration Covering events in the Middle East Europe and the Americas this study provides a fresh transnational perspective on the critical period surrounding the birth of Israel and the post Holocaust reconstruction of the Jewish world

Paths of Integration Leo Lucassen, David Feldman, Jochen Oltmer, 2006 Why do some migrants integrate quickly while others become long term minorities What is the role of the state in the settlement process To what extent are experiences in the past different from the present Are the recent migrants really integrating in another way than those in the past Is Islam indeed an obstacle to integration These are some of the burning questions which dominate the current politicized debate on immigration in Western Europe In this book leading historians and social scientists analyze and compare a variety of settlement processes in past and present migration to Western Europe Identifying general factors in the process of adaptation of new immigrants the contributors trace social changes effected by recent European immigration and the parallels with the great American migration of the 1880s 1920s The history of migration to Western Europe and the way these migrants found their place in the receiving societies is not only essential to understand the way nations deal with newcomers in the present but also constitutes a highly interesting laboratory for different paths of integration now and then By analyzing and comparing a wealth of settlement processes both in the past and in the present this book is both a bold interdisciplinary endeavor and at the same time the first attempt to identify general factors underlying the way migrants adapt to their new surroundings as well as how societies change under the influence of immigration The chapters in the book both look at specific groups in various periods but also analyses the structure of the state churches unions and other important organized actors in Western European nation states Moreover the results are embedded in the more theoretical American literature on the comparison of old and new migrants All chapters have an explicit comparative perspective either by comparing different groups or different periods whereas the general conclusion ties together the various outcomes in a systematic way highlighting the main answers to the central questions about the various outcomes of settlement processes Publisher Handbook Global History of Work Karin Hofmeester, Marcel van der Linden, 2017-11-20 Coffee from East Africa wine from California chocolate from the Ivory Coast all those every day products are based on labour often produced under appalling conditions but always involving the combination of various work processes we are often not aware of What is the day to day reality for workers in various parts of the world and how was it in the past How do they work today and how did they work in the past These and many other questions comprise the field of the global history of work a young discipline that is introduced with this handbook In 8 thematic chapters this book discusses these aspects of work in a global and long term perspective paying attention to several kinds of work Convict labour slave and wage labour labour migration and workers of the textile industry but also workers organisation strikes and motivations for work are part of this first handbook of global labour history written by the most renowned scholars of the profession Translocal Geographies Ayona Datta, Katherine Brickell, 2016-02-17 Bringing together a wide range of original empirical research from locations and interconnected geographical contexts from Europe Australasia Asia Africa Central and Latin America this book sets out a different agenda for mobility one which emphasizes the enduring connectedness between and embeddedness within places during and after the experience of mobility These issues are examined through the themes of home and family neighbourhoods and city spaces and allow the reader to engage with migrants diverse practices which are specifically local yet spatially global This book breaks new ground by arguing for a spatial understanding of translocality that situates the migrant experience within across particular locales without confining it to the territorial boundedness of the nation state It will be of interest to academics and students of social and cultural geography anthropology and transnational studies Coming Home? Lynellyn D. Long, Ellen Oxfeld, 2017-06-16 Few things weigh on the human spirit more heavily than a sense of place the lands we live in and return to have a profound ability to shape our notions of home and homeland not to mention our own identities The pull of the familiar and the desire to begin anew are conflicting impulses for the nearly 180 million people who live outside their countries of origin often with the expectation of returning home Of 30 million people who immigrated to the United States alone between 1900 and 1980 10 million are believed to have returned to their homelands While migration flows occur in both directions surprisingly few studies of transnationalism global migration or diaspora address return experiences Undertaking a comparative analysis of how coming home affects individuals and their communities in a myriad cultural and geographic settings the contributors to this volume seek to understand the unique return migration experiences of refugees migrants and various others as they confront the social pressures and a sense of displacement that accompany their journeys The returns depicted in Coming

Home range from temporary visits to permanent repatriation from voluntary to coerced movements and from those occurring after a few years of exile to those after several decades away The geographic sites include the Balkans Barbados China Eritrea Ethiopia Germany Nicaragua the Philippines Rwanda and Vietnam Several studies portray the experiences of returning refugees who earlier fled war and violence while others focus on economic or labor migrants As the essays show connections between permanent returnees and home communities are contentious and complex On the one hand issues of land title property rights political orientation and religious and cultural beliefs and practices create grounds for clashes between returnees and their home communities but on the other returnees bring with them a unique ability to transform local practices and provide new resources

The Diaspora Strikes Back Juan Flores, 2010-04-02 In The Diaspora Strikes Back the eminent ethnic and cultural studies scholar Juan Flores flips the process on its head what happens to the home country when it is being constantly fed by emigrants returning from abroad He looks at how Nuyoricans Puerto Rican New Yorkers have transformed the home country introducing hip hop and modern New York culture to the Caribbean island While he focuses on New York and Mayaguez in Puerto Rico the model is broadly applicable Indians introducing contemporary British culture to India New York Dominicans bringing slices of New York culture back to the Dominican Republic Mexicans bringing LA culture from fast food to heavy metal back to Guadalajara and Monterrey This ongoing process is both massive and global and Flores novel account will command a significant audience across disciplines

Population in the Human Sciences Philip Kreager, Bruce Winney, Stanley J. Ulijaszek, Cristian Capelli, 2015 Addresses the need for review and assessment of the framework of interdisciplinary population studies It includes chapters on anthropology archaeology demography ecology epidemiology geography genomics human biology population genetics social and demographic history the history of science and social network analysis

Social Networks and Migration in Wartime Afghanistan K. Harpviken, 2009-05-14 Drawing on fieldwork in the Herat area Afghanistan this book addresses migration patterns throughout three decades of war It launches a framework for understanding the role of social networks for people's responses to war and disaster as well as mobilizing or maintaining material resources for security and gathering information

Impossible Returns Iraidia H. Lopez, 2018-03-19 In this one of a kind volume Iraidia Lopez explores various narratives of return by those who left Cuba as children or adolescents Including memoirs semi autobiographical fiction and visual arts many of these accounts feature a physical arrival on the island while others depict a metaphorical or vicarious experience by means of fictional characters or childhood reminiscences As two way migration increases in the post Cold War period many of these narratives put to the test the boundaries of national identity Through a critical reading of works by Cuban American artists and writers like Mar a Brito Ruth Behar Carlos Eire Cristina Garc a Ana Mendieta Gustavo Prez Firmat Ernesto Pujol Achy Obejas and Ana Mendez Lopez highlights the affective ties as well as the tensions underlying the relationship between returning subjects and their native country Impossible Returns also looks at how Cubans still living on the island depict returning migrants in their own narratives addressing works by Jes s D az Humberto Sol s Carlos Acosta Nancy Alonso Leonardo Padura and others Blurring the lines between disciplines and geographic borders this book underscores the centrality of Cuba for its diaspora and bears implications for other countries with widespread populations in exile

Emotional Transitions in Contemporary Afrodiasporic Women's Writing Ángela Suárez-Rodríguez, 2023-12-15 This book is an in depth study of the category stranger as represented in four contemporary Afrodiasporic novels of female authorship Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie s Americanah Sefi Atta s A Bit of Difference NoViolet Bulawayo s We Need New Names and Imbolo Mbue s Behold the Dreamers Examined from an interdisciplinary perspective that brings together different approaches to the figure of the stranger and Affect Theory the plurality of experiences of estrangement disorientation and unbelonging portrayed in these texts allows expansion upon Sara Ahmed s investigation of stranger fetishism in her title Strange Encounters Embodied Others in Post coloniality 2000 and in so doing contributes to the recent call for a more nuanced understanding of the idea of stranger In particular the critical and comparative study of the different migration experiences of the protagonists reveals that within the framework of the contemporary African diaspora to the West strange r ness is a situated embodied and emotional condition that depends on the politics of location and of identity from which it emerges This book will particularly appeal to scholars and students in the fields of Postcolonial Studies African Diaspora Studies and Black Women s Literature and will also be suitable for students at graduate and advanced undergraduate levels in English Studies
