Education, Poverty and the World Bank Philip W. Jones,2006 This book explains why the World Bank's commitment to education is important It considers how the nature of the Bank as a financial institution has shaped its view of economic growth development and poverty reduction In shaping its education policies and programs from a banking point of view a particular World Bank approach to educational development has emerged with major implications for the future of education worldwide The book examines the reasons why the Bank is involved in education the evolution of its education policy stances and how the Bank uses education as part of its program of economic globalisation The author provides a framework for assessing the Bank's impact and effectiveness in its education lending especially in terms of poverty reduction Bank work in education is hugely controversial All around the world in industrial countries in transition economies and in the poorest countries the Bank continues to be under fire for its policy prescriptions and its modes of operation From both left and right the Bank is a major target of discontent At the same time the Bank is frequently misunderstood and misrepresented The book is based on thousands of classified Bank documents examined over the past twenty years and on wide ranging interviews with past and present Bank officials Although critical of many aspects of Bank work in education the book will be recognised as a uniquely authoritative guide to Bank policy formation in education

The Cost of Not Educating the World's Poor Lynn Ilon,2015-05-15 In The Cost of Not Educating the World's Poor Lynn Ilon observes from her 30 years of travel and work in some 20 developing countries how global instability problems of environmental degradation spread of global disease migration and political instability are a cost of viewing the uneducated poor as separated from a networked of fast growing global knowledge This book shows how powerful global learning systems are rapidly forming and linking the rich world with the world of the poor and developing nations Using a narrative voice interleaved with concise introductions to the underlying theories economics development learning technology and networks it shows us how changing our ways of thinking can lead to new possibilities The Cost of Not Educating the World's Poor is based on an emerging theory of development economics and the author's own vast experiences and stories It also discusses among other issues International development and how it has evolved toward an emphasis on knowledge How networked human capital creates new potential for poorly resourced countries The formation of a global system of learning networks The digitization of knowledge How nations improve their well being through knowledge and equity This interdisciplinary assessment of international learning inequality and the methods to overcome it will appeal to researchers concerned with emerging concepts of global learning networks and their effects on development It will also be of interest to students and policymakers studying national inequality economics and global development

World Bank Financing of Education Phillip W. Jones,2007-02-12 Based on detailed analysis of thousands of confidential World Bank documents this book demonstrates that the World Bank lies at the centre of the major changes in global education of our time It outlines the evolution of World Bank lending policies in education and assesses the policy impact of the Bank's educational projects looking at how it has shaped the economic and social policies of many governments including policies that affect education been an influential proponent of the rapid expansion of formal education systems around the world financing much of that expansion been instrumental in forging those policies that see education as a precursor to modernisation served as a major purveyor of Western ideas about how education and the economy are or should be related Following on from the success of the first edition this revised edition covers topical issues of globalisation and looks into the political debate concerning aid to developing countries It will be of enormous value to those studying or working in educational policy in developing countries international organisations and financial institutions and aid agencies

An Introduction to the Human Development and Capability Approach Séverine Deneulin, Lila Shahani, 2009 First Published in 2009 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Transforming Comparative Education Martin Carnoy, 2019-04-02 Over the past fifty years new theoretical approaches to comparative and international education have transformed it as an academic field We know that fields of research are often shaped by collectives of researchers and students converging at auspicious times throughout history Part institutional memoir and part intellectual history Transforming Comparative Education takes the Stanford collective as a framework for discussing major trends and contributions to the field from the early 1960s to the present day and beyond Carnoy draws on interviews with researchers at Stanford to present the genesis of their key theoretical findings in their own words Moving through them chronologically Carnoy situates each work within its historical context and argues that comparative education is strongly influenced by its economic and political environment Ultimately he discusses the potential influence of feminist theory organizational theory impact evaluation world society theory and state theory on comparative work in the future and the political and economic changes that might inspire new directions in the field Gender and Diversity: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Management Association, Information Resources, 2018-08-03 Today gender inequality and diversity are at the forefront of discussion as the issue has become an international concern for politicians government agencies social activists and the general public Consequently the need to foster and sustain diversity and inclusiveness in the interactions among various groups of people is relevant today more than ever Gender and Diversity Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications provides a critical look at gender and modern day discrimination and solutions to creating sustainable diversity across numerous contexts and fields Highlighting a range of topics such as anti discrimination measures workforce diversity and gender inequality this multi volume book is designed for legislators and policy makers practitioners academicians gender studies researchers and graduate level students interested in all aspects of gender and diversity studies Returns to Investment in Education: A Global Update, Routledge Handbook of International Education and Development Simon

McGrath, Qing Gu, 2015-07-24 This timely Handbook takes stock of the range of debates that characterise the field of international education and development and suggests key aspects of a research agenda for the next period. It is deliberately divergent in its approach, recognising the major ideological and epistemological divides that characterise a field that draws on many traditions. Leading and emergent voices from different paradigms and contexts are afforded a space to be heard and each section puts current debates in larger historical contexts. The Handbook is divided in four parts and book ended by an introduction and a conclusion, the latter oriented towards the implications that the volume has for future research agendas. The first part explores major strands of debates about education's place in development theory. The second acknowledges the disciplining of the field by the education for all movement and examines the place that learning and teaching and schools play in development. Part three looks beyond schools to consider early years, adult and vocational education but focuses particularly on the return to thinking about higher education's role in development. The final part considers the changing but still important role that international cooperation plays in shaping education in developing countries. Featuring over thirty chapters written by leading international and interdisciplinary scholars, the Routledge Handbook of International Education and Development offers the first comprehensive and forward looking resource for students and scholars. Social Development James Midgley, 1995-08-03 The social development approach seeks to integrate economic and social policies within a dynamic development process in order to achieve social welfare objectives. This first comprehensive textbook on the subject demonstrates that social development offers critically significant insights for the developed as well as the developing world. James Midgley describes the social development approach, traces its origins in developing countries, reviews theoretical issues in the field and analyzes different strategies in social development. By adding the developmental dimension, social development is shown to transcend the dichotomy between the residualist approach which concentrates on targeting resources to the most needy and the institutional approach which urges extensive state involvement in welfare.

Education and Development Simon McGrath, 2018-05-08 This title explores the place of education in development debates and provides a systematic as well as a theoretical overview of the main approaches to education and development. It emphasises the fact that education is profoundly shaped by national and local cultures even if many issues are shared across institutions in different locations. Education and Development discusses different theoretical accounts from different disciplinary traditions to help students understand the complexity of the overall debate. The text does not shy away from discussions of education's negative impacts and insists that an account of education must include consideration of early childhood, development, adult, vocational and higher education as well as the growing range of informal and distance forms. It includes chapters on human capital, human rights and human development and on education, gender and development and draws on examples from a wide range of countries and regions such as India, Hong Kong, Kenya and South Africa. The book has a well developed pedagogy including text boxes, chapter summaries, key questions, links to websites and videos and annotated further reading sections Particular attention is paid to ensuring that a plurality of voices contexts and educational sub sectors are represented in the boxes weblinks and references Education and Development provides an introductory overview to the field aimed at the undergraduate level while critically engaging with key themes and questions The book will also be of interest to development practitioners policymakers entrepreneurs and corporate employees engaged in aspects of education and development work

Columbus, 2001 Politics Economics of Latin America Volume 1 The Production of Educational Knowledge in the Global Era, 2008-01-01 What impact does globalization have on the production of educational knowledge and on the way scholars envisage education systems and education in general Western education systems are being transformed and their role redefined in light of the processes of globalization education targets are being reshaped in response to global economic needs education systems are rated according to international rankings and education itself has been packaged into a commodity that can be commercialized worldwide In addition globalization prompts more intimate contact with different types of societies cultures and knowledge that defy our universal foundations and research tools Has educational knowledge developed in a way that enables us to disentangle the new education configurations In order to respond to this question this edited volume addresses four major challenges to understand the denationalization of education and the need to re conceptualize this transformation to uncover the agents and the tools of educational globalization such as the knowledge producers international organizations and role of statistics to explore the implications of the emerging international educational institutions and international curricula to understand non western education and integrating it into western educational knowledge These challenges are located at the core of the production of educational knowledge and are treated from a variety of viewpoints sociological quantitative and qualitative scholarship ethnographic accounts socio historical perspectives and philosophical reflections This book contributes to critical thinking about globalization and educational knowledge and at the same time opens our spirits to the theoretical opportunities and educational enrichment that the globalization era offers This is a compelling collection for anthropologists sociologists educational researchers and anyone who seeks to understand the need of new modes of thinking about education in the global era CONTRIBUTORS Robert Arnove Aaron Benavot Eyal Ben Ari Roser Cuss Yossi Dahan Roger Dale Oren Lallo Julia Lerner Orna Naftali Julia Resnik Susan Robertson Philip Wexler and Yossi Yonah

China's Education Aid to Africa Wei Ye, 2023-05-31 China's rise as an aid provider in Africa has caught global attention with China's activity being viewed as the projection of soft power of a neo colonialist kind in an international relations context This book which focuses on China's education aid government scholarships training Confucius Institutes dispatched teachers etc reveals a much more complicated picture It outlines how the divide between the Chinese Ministry of Commerce and the Ministry of Education hinders China's soft power projection how much of China's aid is bound up with an education for economic growth outlook mirroring China's own recent experiences of economic development and how China's aid prioritized to reflect the commercial sector's interests is out of step with most international development aid which is dominated by education agendas and the campaigns of international organizations and traditional donors this leaves China easily exposed to the charge of neo colonialism This situation also reveals insufficient knowledge production of China and in South South Cooperation Substantial production of Southern knowledge should recognize the international development cooperation architecture as an open system by which both traditional donors and Southern countries transform
