Revealing The Landscape:

Revealing Change in Cultural Landscapes Catherine Heatherington, 2020-09-21 This book explores different design approaches to revealing change within a landscape and examines how landscape designers bring together the cultural context of a specific place with material spatial and ecological considerations Revealing Change in Cultural Landscapes includes case studies such as Gilles Clément's Jardin du Tiers Paysage in France the Brick Pit in Sydney Australia and Georges Descombes' Renaturation of the River Aire in Switzerland to uncover the insights of designers In doing so Catherine Heatherington considers the different ways designers approach the revealing of change and how this informs a discussion about people's perceptions and understanding of landscape With over 100 images and contributions from Jacky Bowring Dermot Foley and Krystallia Kamvasinou this book will be beneficial for students of landscape and landscape architecture particularly those with an interest in how landscapes change over time and how this is perceived by both designers and visitors

Landscapes Revealed Amanda Brend, Nick Card, Jane Downes, Mark Edmonds, James Moore, 2020-09-30 Winner Current Archaeology 2023 Book of the Year 2023 This volume brings together several years of work devoted to the wider landscape of the Heart of Neolithic Orkney World Heritage Site It documents the results of a program of geophysical and related survey across an area of c 285 hectares between Skara Brae on the west Orkney coast and Maeshowe by the Loch of Stenness The project has made it possible to talk for the first time about the landscape context of some of the most remarkable and renowned prehistoric monuments in Western Europe The aims are to synthesize the data from different forms of survey and to document the changing character and development of this landscape over time The results are genuinely remarkable are presented in a manner which makes the material of interest and value to a relatively wide readership with an array of images which fully document and interpret the evidence Survey work at a landscape scale tends to deal with palimpsests Here descriptive sections are set within a thematic structure designed to explore the changing use and significance of different areas over time The results shed important new light on the character and extent of known prehistoric sites and ceremonial monuments But they also document the afterlives of these and other places and their relation to the lived landscapes of the historic and more recent past In tracing the changing configuration of the World Heritage Area we can begin appreciate this landscape as an artifact of several millennia of dwelling working land attending to wider worlds and to the past itself

Mapping Landscapes in Transformation Krista De Jonge, 2019-06-19 The relational complexity of urban and rural landscapes in space and in time The development of historical geographical information systems HGIS and other methods from the digital humanities have revolutionised historical research on cultural landscapes Additionally the opening up of increasingly diverse collections of source material often incomplete and difficult to interpret has led to methodologically innovative experiments One of today's major challenges however concerns the concepts and tools to be deployed for mapping processes of transformation that is interpreting and imagining the relational complexity of urban and rural landscapes both in space and in time at micro and macro scale Mapping Landscapes in Transformation gathers experts from different disciplines active in the fields of historical geography urban and landscape history archaeology and heritage conservation They are specialised in a wide variety of space time contexts including regions within Europe Asia and the Americas and periods from antiquity to the 21st century Contributors Karl Beelen Karlsruhe IT John Bintliff Leiden University Edinburgh University Bieke Cattoor TU Delft Jill Desimini Harvard University Cecilia Furlan TU Delft KU Leuven Ian Gregory and Christopher Donaldson Lancaster University Joanna Taylor University of Manchester Piraye Hacıgözü Frank Vermeulen and Devi Taelman Ghent University Ralf Vandam and Jeroen Poblome KU Leuven Reinout Klaarenbeek KU Leuven Sanne Maekelberg KU Leuven Steffen Nijhuis TU Delft Cristina Purcar TU Cluj Napoca Changxue Shu KU Leuven FWO Bram Vannieuwenhuyze University of Amsterdam May Yuan and Arlo McKee University of Texas Dallas Ebook available in Open Access This publication is GPRC labeled Guaranteed Peer Reviewed Content

Active Landscape Photography Anne C Godfrey, 2023-04-28 Diverse Practices the third book in the Active Landscape Photography series presents a set of unique photographic examples for site specific investigations of landscape places Contributed by authors across academia practice and photography each chapter serves as a rigorous discussion about photographic methods for the landscape and their underlying concepts Chapters also serve as unique case studies about specific projects places and landscape issues Project sites include the Miller Garden Olana XX Miller Prize and the Philando Castile Peace Garden Landscape places discussed include the archeological landscapes of North Peru watery littoral zones the remote White Pass in Alaska São Paulo and New York City's Chinatown Photographic image making approaches include the use of lidar repeat photography collage mapping remote image capture portraiture image mining of internet sources visual impact assessment cameraless photography transect walking and interviewing These diverse practices demonstrate how photography when utilized through a set of specific critical methods becomes a rich process for investigating the landscape Exploring this concept in relationship to specific contemporary sites and landscape issues reveals the intricacy and subtlety that exists when photography is used actively Practitioners academics students and researchers will be inspired by the underlying concepts of these examples and come away with a better understanding about how to create their own rigorous photographic practices

The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2013-02-15 Landscape is a vital synergistic concept which opens up ways of thinking about many of the problems which beset our contemporary world such as climate change social alienation environmental degradation loss of biodiversity and destruction of heritage As a concept landscape does not respect disciplinary boundaries Indeed many academic disciplines have found the concept so important it has been used as a qualifier that delineates whole sub disciplines landscape ecology landscape planning landscape archaeology and so forth In other cases landscape studies progress under a broader banner such as heritage studies or cultural geography Yet it does not always mean the same thing in all of these contexts The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies offers the first comprehensive attempt to explore research directions into the many uses and meanings of landscape The Companion contains thirty nine original contributions from leading scholars within the field which have been divided into four parts Experiencing Landscape Landscape Culture and Heritage Landscape Society and Justice and Design and Planning for Landscape Topics covered range from phenomenological approaches to landscape to the consideration of landscape as a repository of human culture from ideas of identity and belonging to issues of power and hegemony and from discussions of participatory planning and design to the call for new imaginaries in a time of global and environmental crisis Each contribution explores the future development of different conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as recent empirical contributions to knowledge and understanding Collectively they encourage dialogue across disciplinary barriers and reflection upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape This Companion provides up to date critical reviews of state of the art perspectives across this multifaceted field embracing disciplines such as anthropology archaeology cultural studies geography landscape planning landscape architecture countryside management forestry heritage studies ecology and fine art It serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike engaging in the field of landscape studies

Illuminations Liz Heron, Val Williams, 1996 The first anthology of its kind Illuminations presents a comprehensive selection of women's writings on photography It proposes a new and different history by demonstrating the ways in which women's perspectives have advanced photographic criticism over the last 150 years Extraordinarily wide ranging in its scope this collection chronicles the role of women in photography as critics historians and practitioners Readers will find Julia Margaret Cameron s bold description of her photographic method Rosalind Krauss s exploration of what the camera means for Surrealism Margaret Bourke White and Carol Squiers with differing perspectives on Life magazine as well as essays by Eudora Welty Susan Sontag Lucy Lippard Berenice Abbott Dorothea Lange and many others Illuminations begins with a short piece on the daguerreotype by Elizabeth Barrett Browning then moves through the avant garde influence of Dada Bauhaus and surrealism to fashion and portrait photography continuing with documentary and reportage the emergence of feminist analysis and postmodern and postcolonial criticism Encompassing many varied points of view this volume offers pieces on individual photographers such as Diane Arbus Ansel Adams Barbara Kruger Edward Weston and Cindy Sherman along with theoretical work by contemporary writers including Jane Gallop Coco Fusco and Laura Mulvey An historic anthology Illuminations shows that women have been writing about photography from its beginnings and have intervened in the key debates of the past century and a half It will be welcomed by those interested in photography gender studies and women and the arts Contributors Berenice Abbott Dawn Ades Susan H Aiken Jan Avgikos Elizabeth Barrett Browning Margaret Bourke White Deborah Bright Susan Butler Julia Margaret Cameron Cynthia Chris Louise Dahl Wolfe Gen Doy Olive Edis Ute Eskildsen Andrea Fisher Gisèle Freund Coco Fusco Jane Gallop Nan Goldin Jewelle Gomez Jan Zita Grover Judith Mara Gutman Maria Morris Hambourg Liz Heron Alice Hughes Karen Knorr Rosalind Krauss Annette Kuhn Dorothea Lange Therese Lichtenstein Lucy Lippard Catherine Lord Mary Warner Marien Elizabeth McCausland Roberta McGrath Lee Miller Tina Modotti Lucia Moholy Laura Mulvey Carole Naggar Nancy Newhall Amy Rule Lauren Sedofsky Ingrid Sischy Abigail Solomon Godeau Susan Sontag Jo Spence Carol Squiers Varvara Stepanova Anne Tucker Eudora Welty Dorothy Wilding Val Williams Anne Marie Willis Madame Yevonde

The Contest of Meaning Richard Bolton, 1992-02-25 Photography s great success gives the impression that the major questions that have haunted the medium are now resolved On the contrary the most important questions about photography are just beginning to be asked These fourteen essays with over 200 illustrations critically examine prevailing beliefs about the medium and suggest new ways to explain the history of photography They are organized around the questions What are the social consequences of aesthetic practice How does photography construct sexual difference How is photography used to promote class and national interests What are the politics of photographic truth The Contest of Meaning summarizes the challenges to traditional photographic history that have developed in the last decade out of a consciously political critique of photographic production Contributions by a wide range of important Americans critics reexamine the complex and often contradictory roles of photography within society Douglas Crimp Christopher Phillips Benjamin Buchloh and Abigail Solomon Godeau examine the gradually developed exclusivity of art photography and describe the politics of canon formation throughout modernism Catherine Lord Deborah Bright Sally Stein and Jan Zita Grover examine the ways in which the female is configured as a subject and explain how sexual difference is constructed across various registers of photographic representation Carol Squiers Esther Parada and Richard Bolton clarify the ways in which photography serves as a form of mass communication demonstrating in particular how photographic production is affected by the interests of the powerful patrons of communications The three concluding essays by Rosalind Krauss Martha Rosler and Allan Sekula critically examine the concept of photographic truth by exploring the intentions informing various uses of objective images within society

The International Studio ,1915      The European Landscape Convention Michael Jones,Marie Stenseke,2011-02-09 This important and insightful book provides for the first time a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation management and planning following the 2000 European Landscape Convention which came into force in 2004 The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern southern eastern and western Europe and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice However while the book s focus is necessarily on Europe many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management as well as for professionals and others interested in land use planning and environmental management

Strategies for Landscape Representation Paul Cureton,2016-12-08 Strategies for Landscape Representation discusses a variety of digital and analogue production techniques for the representation of landscape at multiple scales Careful consideration is required to represent time and to ensure accuracy of representation and evaluation in the landscape Written as a guide for making appropriate selection of a wide variety of visualisation tools for students and built environment professionals with an interest in landscape the book charts emerging technologies and historical contexts whilst also being relevant to landscape legislation such as Building Information Modelling BIM and Landscape Assessment This book is an innovation driven text that encourages readers to make connections between software technology and analogue modes The management choice and combination of such modes can arguably narrow the unknown of landscape character address the issues of representing time and change in landscape and engage and represent communities perceptions and experience of landscape Showcasing international examples from landscape architecture planning urban design and architecture artists visualisers geographers scientists and model makers the vitality of making and intrinsic value of representational work in these processes and sites is evidenced An accompanying companion website provides access to original source files and tutorials totalling over a hundred hours in mapping and GIS diagrams and notation photomontage 3D modelling and 3D printing

Subverting the Empire Paul Genoni,2004 This paper examines the way in which contemporary Australian novelists use various tropes derived from exploration in order to embellish themes of personal search in their fiction By doing so they have borrowed from the language and myths created by what was essentially an exercise in imperialism and applied them to the quest by individuals in the settler society to find a permanent spiritual home in the new country The exploration imagery proves to be apposite in that just as the empire's hopes were dashed when exploration of the inland was repelled by the barren heart of the continent so too has the metaphysical exploration of the same spaces foundered on uncompromising and withholding landscapes

Crop Pest Control and Pollination, volume II, 2nd edition Fang Ouyang, Xingyuan Men, Wen Xie, Wei Li, 2023-12-01 The production of food crops helps us meet the basic need of human nutrition The world's population now exceeds 7 billion people and continues to grow Alongside this growth the human demand for food also increases rapidly Crop production is becoming increasingly intensive and large scale and as a result simplified landscape systems form Crop production in simplified agricultural landscapes often face or suffer from various threats such as pest damage caused by diseases insect pests weeds and rodents or a shortage of pollinators These pests can cause serious damage to seeds germination growth breeding and maturity during crop production and food storage however effective pest management can help to reduce crop loss Most crops in particular fruit trees and vegetables require insect pollination to ensure high yields and high quality Research into ecosystem services and their potential impact on pest control and pollination in agricultural landscapes is of great significance to sustainable crop production Simplified and intensive agricultural landscapes can support crop production but often have reduced biodiversity as monoculture cropping systems have limited surrounding natural habitat This lack of natural surrounding habitat leads to the loss of ecosystem service benefits such as natural pest control and pollination Over the past few decades pest control has largely relied on chemical pesticides which can control pests and reduce crop losses in the short term However chemical pesticides cause a number of problems in the long run for example pest resistance to pesticides and residues of pesticides in soil water and agricultural products Excessive improper and long term use of pesticides during crop production ultimately harms human health and biodiversity especially beneficial microbes natural enemies and pollinators To achieve and ensure food security food safety and ecological security new theories methods practice and application patterns need to be developed for environmentally friendly pest control and maintenance of pollination in agricultural landscapes for sustainable food production The aim of this Research Topic is to promote the sustainable management of crop production and ecological environment protection through the discussion of crop pest control and pollination and the publication of original research articles and reviews of research and theory We welcome high quality and original contributions that present original papers on basic and applied research covering aspects of natural pest control and pollination Coverage for this Research Topic includes the biology and ecology of pollinators including wild and managed organisms including parasitoids invertebrate and vertebrate predators of insect pest and plants mites plant and insect pathogens nematodes and weeds used for biological control and aspects of use including biological control agents for integrated pest management on food crops fruits and vegetables in agricultural landscapes Natural pest control is an environmentally beneficial and effective means of reducing or mitigating pests and pest damage through the use of natural enemies Ecological ethological molecular and biotechnological approaches to the understanding of natural pest control and pollination in agricultural landscapes are welcome Such as by maintaining and increasing crop genetic diversity not including genetically engineered crops crop diversity species diversity not including genetically altered insects and landscape diversity in cropping systems

The Making of the American Landscape Michael P. Conzen, 2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent's physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today

Journal of the Royal Horticultural Society of London Royal Horticultural Society (Great Britain), 1905 Vols for 1846-55 include Proceedings at meetings of the society

New Cultural Landscapes Maggie Roe, Ken Taylor, 2014-01-21 While historical and protected landscapes have been well studied for years the cultural significance of ordinary landscapes is now increasingly recognised This groundbreaking book discusses how contemporary cultural landscapes can be and are created and recognised The book challenges common concepts of cultural landscapes as protected or special landscapes that include significant buildings or features Using case studies from around the world it questions the usual measures of judgement related to cultural landscapes and instead focuses on landscapes that are created planned or simply evolve as a result of changing human cultures management policy and practice Each contribution analyses the geographical and human background of the landscape and policies and management strategies that impact upon it and defines the meanings of cultural landscape in its particular context Taken together they establish a new paradigm in the study of landscapes in all forms

Reimagining Industrial Sites Catherine Heatherington, 2017-12-06 The discourse around derelict former industrial and military sites has grown in recent years This interest is not only theoretical and landscape professionals are taking new approaches to the design and development of these sites This book examines the varied ways in which the histories and qualities of these derelict sites are reimagined in the transformed landscape and considers how such approaches can reveal the dramatic changes that have been wrought on these places over a relatively short time scale It discusses these issues with reference to eleven sites from the UK Germany the USA Australia and China focusing specifically on how designers incorporate evidence of landscape change both cultural and natural There has been little research into how these developed landscapes are perceived by visitors and local residents This book examines how the tangible material traces of pastness are interpreted by the visitor and the impact of the intangible elements hidden traces experiences and memories The book draws together theory in the field and implications for practice in landscape architecture and concludes with an examination of how different approaches to revealing and reimagining change can affect the future management of the site

Terra Antarctica William

L. Fox, 2011-04-15 How does the human mind transform space into place or land into landscape For more than three decades William L Fox has looked at empty landscapes and the role of the arts to investigate the way humans make sense of space In Terra Antarctica Fox continues this line of inquiry as he travels to the Antarctic the largest and most extreme desert on earth This contemporary travel narrative interweaves artistic cartographic and scientific images with anecdotes from the author's three month journey in the Antarctic to create an absorbing and readable narrative of the remote continent Through its images history and firsthand experiences snowmobile trips through whiteouts and his icy solo hikes past the edge of the mapped world Fox brings to life a place that few have seen and offers us a look into both the nature of landscape and ourselves

Dynamic Patterns Karen M'Closkey, Keith VanDerSys, 2017-03-27 Dynamic Patterns explores the role of patterns in designed landscapes Patterns are inherently relational and the search for and the creation of patterns are endemic to many scientific and artistic endeavors Recent advances in optical tools sensors and computing have expanded our understanding of patterns as a link between natural and cultural realms Looking beyond the surface manifestation of pattern M'Closkey and VanDerSys delve into a multifaceted examination that explores new avenues for engagement with patterns using digital media Examining the theoretical implications of pattern making they probe the potential of patterns to conjoin landscape's utilitarian and aesthetic functions With full color throughout and over one hundred and twenty images Dynamic Patterns utilizes work from a wide range of artists and designers to demonstrate how novel modes of visualization have facilitated new ways of seeing patterns and therefore of understanding and designing landscapes
