Writing the Self Peter Heehs, 2013-02-14 The self has a history In the West the idea of the soul entered Christianity with the Church Fathers notably Augustine During the Renaissance the idea of the individual attained preeminence as in the works of Montaigne In the seventeenth century philosophers such as Descartes formulated notions of selfhood that did not require a divine foundation in the next century Hume grew skeptical of the self s very existence Ideas of the self have changed markedly since the Romantic period and most scholars today regard it as at best a mental construct First person genres such as diaries and memoirs have provided an outlet for self expression Protestant diaries replaced the Catholic confessional but secular diaries such as Pepys s may reveal yet more about the self After Richardson novels competed with diaries and memoirs as vehicles of self expression though memoirs survived and continue to thrive while the diary has found a new incarnation in the personal blog Writing the Self narrates the intertwined histories of the self and of self expression through first person literature

Lady at the Window:

The Lost Journal of Julian of Norwich Robert Waldron, 2020-05-05 Lady at the Window chronicles the last Holy Week in Julian of Norwich's life In her secret journal because women are forbidden to write in English the great English mystic chronicles her inner life including her relationship with the courteous Lord who when she was young was a constant presence in her life but now in her old age feels to be more of a constant absence Deus Absconditus There are two windows in Lady Julian's anchorage one looks upon the interior of St Julian's Church with its high altar and tabernacle the other opens onto the city of Norwich with its publicans sinners poor people in the marketplace and neighbors Among these there are those in deep distress who find their way to Lady Julian now famous for her wisdom and holy counsel There is the young woman with a child outside of marriage There is a wounded young soldier jobless homeless and afraid There is a man who has betrayed his betrothed And others No one leaves Julian's window without psychological and spiritual uplifting But the underlying theme of this novella is Lady Julian's dark night of the soul As with other mystics who came after here g St John of the Cross and St Teresa of Calcutta Julian abides in a cloud of unknowing praying daily that her darkness be dispelled by divine light
