Revenge Of The Aesthetic The Place:

Revenge of the Aesthetic Michael Clark, 2000-07-17 Revenge of the Aesthetic stands as a call for further reassessment of the kind of work being done in the field of literary studies and promises to occupy a critical position in ensuing debates over the place of literature in relation to theory Emory Elliott Distinguished Professor of English University of California Riverside In the landscape of theory we have been in the throes of historicism a variety of cultural studies and a variety of marxisms all reading right through the text as if texts were not material but transparent as if they were representations of the social That was their limit Revenge of the Aesthetic may well mark the beginning of a revolution against such practices Helen Regueiro Elam Professor of English SUNY Albany

Devil Theatre Jan Frans van Dijkhuizen, 2007 The so called Devil Theatre is here set against its context of non dramatic texts on possession and exorcism providing many new insights Representations of demonic possession and exorcism rituals abound in English Renaissance drama an area which this book seeks to illuminate by comparison with non dramatic works The author investigates stage images of possession in relation to a range of early modern demonological theological and medical prose texts on the subject looking specifically at how the theatre responded to these texts He argues that the stage appropriated debates over demonic possession to explore the competing roles of the inner life and the body in early modern definitions of selfhood The theatre also employed the contemporary controversy over possession and exorcism to investigate the politics of religion and to consider the nature of monarchic power Moreover because demonic possession cases and exorcism rituals were frequently dismissed by conformist writers as a piece of theatre they offered an opportunity to reflect on the nature of drama and role playing JAN FRANS VAN DIJKHUIZEN is lecturer and research fellow at the University of Leiden

Aesthetic Theory Across the Disciplines Max Ryyänen, Zoltán Somhegyi, 2023-11-13 What is aesthetics How is it related to other disciplines The chapters of this book examine the history theoretical conditions and connection points between aesthetics and other disciplines At the same time the authors are also interested in practical clashes of methodology and agenda especially when it is not merely about the securing of the position of one or the other discipline but is used in a dialogical manner as the form of understanding better the nature of both as well as the benefits of their collaboration The authors work on the border of aesthetics and at least one other academic field Through their regular scholarly activities the contributors constantly benefit from cross and interdisciplinary practice and this makes them ideal interpreters of these methodological questions Contributors include Mami Aota Karl Axelsson Paul Duncum Lisa Giombini Oiva Kuisma Jacob Lund Tyrus Miller Max Ryyänen Mateusz Salwa Zoltán Somhegyi Wendy Steiner and Joseph Tanke

Black Aliveness, or A Poetics of Being Kevin Quashie, 2021-02-05 In Black Aliveness or A Poetics of Being Kevin Quashie imagines a Black world in which one encounters Black being as it is rather than only as it exists in the shadow of anti Black violence As such he makes a case for Black aliveness even in the face of the persistence of death in Black life and Black study Centrally Quashie theorizes aliveness through the aesthetics of poetry reading poetic inhabitation in Black feminist literary texts by Lucille Clifton Audre Lorde June Jordan Toni Morrison and Evie Shockley among others showing how their philosophical and creative thinking constitutes worldmaking This worldmaking conceptualizes Blackness as capacious relational beyond the normative terms of recognition Blackness as a condition of oneness Reading for poetic aliveness then becomes a means of exploring Black being rather than nonbeing and animates the ethical question how to be In this way Quashie offers a Black feminist philosophy of being which is nothing less than a philosophy of the becoming of the Black world

Literature and Aesthetics, 2003 Western American Literature, 2006 Ecocritical Aesthetics Peter Quigley, Scott Slovic, 2018-02-28 This lively collection of essays explores the vital role of beauty in the human experience of place interactions with other species and contemplation of our own embodied lives Devoting attention to themes such as global climate change animal subjectivity environmental justice and activism and human moral responsibility for the environment these contributions demonstrate that beauty is not only a meaningful dimension of our experience but also a powerful strategy for inspiring cultural transformation Taken as a whole they underscore the ongoing relevance of aesthetics to the ecocritical project and the concern for beauty that motivates effective social and political engagement Common

Alsop, 2024-07-31 This book explores historical socio political and metatheatrical readings of a whole host of dying bodies and risen corpses each part of a long tradition of living death on stage Just as zombies ghouls and the undead in modern media often stand in for present day concerns early modern writers frequently imagined living death in complex ways that allowed them to address contemporary anxieties These include fresh bleeding bodies and body parts ghostly Lord Mayors and dying characters who must carefully choose their last words or have those words chosen for them by the living As well as offering fresh interpretations of well known plays such as Middleton's The Lady's Tragedy and Webster's The White Devil this innovative study also sheds light on less well known works such as the anonymous The Tragedy of Locrine Marston's Antonio

s Revenge and Munday's mayoral pageants Chruso thriambos and Chrysanaleia The author demonstrates that wherever characters in early modern drama appear to straddle the line between this world and the next it is rarely a simple matter of life and death This book will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners in theatre and performance studies and cultural and social studies

The Circulation of Knowledge in Early Modern English Literature Sophie Chiari, 2016-03-09 With its many rites of initiation religious educational professional or sexual Elizabethan and Jacobean education emphasized both imitation and discovery in a struggle to bring population to a minimal literacy while more demanding techniques were being developed for the cultural elite The Circulation of Knowledge in Early Modern English Literature examines the question of transmission and of the educational procedures in 16th and 17th century England by emphasizing deviant practices that questioned reassessed or even challenged pre established cultural norms and traditions This volume thus alternates theoretical analyses with more specific readings in order to investigate the multiple ways in which ideas then circulated It also addresses the ways in which the dominant cultural forms of the literature and drama of Shakespeare's age were being subverted In this regard its various contributors analyze how the interrelated processes of initiation transmission and transgression operated at the core of early modern English culture and how Christopher Marlowe William Shakespeare and Thomas Middleton or lesser known poets and playwrights such as Thomas Howell Thomas Edwards and George Villiers managed to appropriate these cultural processes in their works

The Doctrine of Election and the Emergence of Elizabethan Tragedy Martha Tuck Rozett, 2014-07-14 This compelling argument for the link between Calvinism in English religious life and the rise of tragedy on the Elizabethan stage draws on a variety of material including theological tracts sermons and dramatic works beginning with sixteenth century morality plays and continuing through Marlowe's career and the beginning of Shakespeare's Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Storm at Sea Christopher Pye, 2015-03-02 The Storm at Sea Political Aesthetics in the Time of Shakespeare counters a tradition of cultural analysis that judges considerations of aesthetic autonomy in the early modern context to be either anachronistic or an index of political disengagement Pye argues that for a post theocratic era in which the mise en forme of the social domain itself was for the first time at stake the problem of the aesthetic lay at the very core of the political it is precisely through its engagement with the question of aesthetic autonomy that early modern works most profoundly explore their relation to matters of law state sovereignty and political subjectivity Pye establishes the significance of a creationist political aesthetic at once a discrete historical category and a phenomenon that troubles our familiar forms of historical accounting and suggests that the fate of such an aesthetic is intimately bound up with the emergence of modern conceptions of the political sphere The Storm at Sea moves historically from Leonardo da Vinci to Thomas Hobbes it focuses on Shakespeare and English drama with chapters on Hamlet Othello A Winter's Tale and The Tempest as well as sustained readings of As You Like It King Lear Thomas Kyd's Spanish Tragedy and Christopher Marlowe's Doctor Faustus Engaging political thinkers such as Carl Schmitt Giorgio Agamben Claude Lefort and Roberto Esposito The Storm at Sea will be of interest to political theorists as well as to students of literary and visual theory Film Moments James Walters, Tom Brown, 2017-10-07 Film is made of moments In its earliest form the cinema was a moment mere seconds recorded and projected into the darkness Even as film has developed into today's complex and intricate medium it is the brief temporary and transitory that combines to create the whole Our memories of films are composed of the moments we deem to be crucial touchstones for our understanding and appreciation Moments matter The 38 specially commissioned essays in Film Moments examine a wide selection of key scenes across a broad spectrum of national cinemas historical periods and genres featuring films by renowned auteurs including Alfred Hitchcock Jean Renoir and Vincente Minnelli and important contemporary directors such as Pedro Costa Zhang Ke Jia and Quentin Tarantino addressing films including City Lights Gone with the Wind The Wizard of Oz The Night of the Hunter Wild Strawberries 8 1 2 Bonnie and Clyde Star Wars Conte d t United 93 and Lord of the Rings Return of the King Film Moments provides both an enlightening introduction for students to the diversity of approaches and concerns in the study of film and a dynamic and vibrant account of key film sequences for anyone interested in enhancing their understanding of cinema The Body Onscreen in the Digital Age Susan Flynn, 2021-01-28 This collection examines the peculiarly modern phenomenon of voyeurism as it is experienced through the digital screen Violence voyeurism and power populate film more than ever and the centrality of the terrified body to many digital narratives suggests new forms of terror and angst where bodies are subjected to an endless knowing look The particular perils of the digital age can be seen on by and through screen bodies as they are made remade represented and used The essays in this book examine the machinations of voyeurism in the digital age and the realization of power through digital visual forms They look at the uses of power over the female body at the domination and repression of women through symbolic violence at discourses of power as they are played out onscreen and at how the digital realm might engage the active passive dichotomy in new ways

Positive emotions in early modern literature and culture Cora Fox, Bradley J. Irish, Cassie M. Miura, 2021-04-27 What did it mean to be happy in early modern Europe Positive emotions in early modern literature and culture includes essays that reframe historical understandings of emotional life in the Renaissance focusing on understudied feelings such as mirth solidarity and tranquillity Methodologically diverse and interdisciplinary these essays draw from the history of emotions affect theory and the contemporary social and cognitive sciences to reveal rich and sustained cultural attention in the early modern period to these positive feelings The book also highlights culturally distinct negotiations of the problematic binary between what constitutes positive and negative emotions A comprehensive introduction and afterword open multiple paths for research into the histories of good feeling and their significances for understanding present constructions of happiness and wellbeing

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity Using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway the most northern point of mainland Europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming By combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies
