Trade Facilitation and Regional Cooperation in Asia Douglas H. Brooks, Susan F. Stone, 2010-01-01 This book is an important contribution to the policy debate on the future of regional integration around the world and in Asia in particular The complex linkages between regional integration and regional cooperation soft and hard integration trade facilitation and regional infrastructure are all addressed competently in different chapters of this publication which should be read by all of those concerned with the future of regional integration and cooperation in Asia Antoni Estevadeordal Inter American Development Bank IDB As we emerge from the worst global economic setback in two generations the momentum of Asian economies suggests that this region will redefine the geography of trade and growth even more quickly and decisively than expected Because Asia offers the largest emerging markets superior growth rates and new patterns of trade diversification this region is becoming the leading edge of the global economy for the next generation This volume addresses the essential issues related to Asian trade and regionalism with intellectual authority and essential timeliness Brooks and Stone have assembled leading experts distilled evidence and synthesized policy lessons on the salient issues and trends that will drive the world's most dynamic economic region Their book should be a desk reference for policy makers and leading private sector players who want to respond effectively to the momentous challenges and opportunities presented by the Asian century David Roland Holst University of California Berkeley US This insightful book collects empirical analyses and case studies to clarify issues and draw policy recommendations for facilitating greater regional trade through increased cooperation Asia's rapid development has been heavily dependent on markets external to the region However given the unlikely timely recovery of the United States or Europe there is an urgent need to develop domestic and regional markets While greater integration has long been a regional goal its importance has never been more pressing To facilitate trade and promote growth and regional integration and to counteract declining markets in other regions Asian countries have announced large expenditures for developing infrastructure Thus a look at how investment in regional infrastructure promotes and supports interregional trade growth has never been timelier While the focus is on informing policy making in Asia the findings also have relevance for other regions The detailed studies in this book will be of particular interest to academic economists policy makers and the broader development community management in shipping and offers researchers a valuable source of reference and a solid foundation on which further development can be built

Maritime Skills on Vessels & Shore – The STCW Convention's Relevance & Recommendations
 Dr. (Capt.) Vivek Jain, 2023-07-11 This Book is of the seafarers by the seafarers for the seafarers Seafarers are the core of all maritime trade and their expectations perspectives alone should be at the centre of all solutions for maritime skills Taking this standpoint the editor has explored the issues of maritime skills with critical gaps following a framework of research methodology The issue of critical gaps in maritime skills is further exacerbated due to the impact on seafarers caused by changes in the ecosystem status relationship with stakeholders technology focus on renewable energy anxiety levels and so forth Furthermore stakeholders can no longer ignore the fact that seafarers are leaving a seagoing career after working for only a few years Therefore the editor has also explored the need to prepare seafarers for transition into maritime shore jobs to preserve their maritime skills within the maritime industry This exhaustive book can be used as a guide for further revisions or a revamp of the current STCW Convention The editor thereafter divided the researched critical gaps in maritime skills into four groups Jain's Model for Maritime Skills Panoptic Social Intelligence Upskilling Reskilling for onboard vessels skills and Portable Skills for future shore jobs Panoptic and Social Skills are core skills required for both on board vessels as well for maritime shore jobs Thereafter the editor embarked on a voyage to discover persuade collaborate with a number of exceptionally experienced subject matter experts over many months to collaboratively pursue many mini research projects across all selected maritime skills adopting specific methodology to plug these critical gaps These experts were drawn 1 from countries such as India the Philippines Romania South Korea Malaysia UAE the UK and Singapore 2 from both genders 3 from deck engine professionals settled ashore 4 with current experience in the industry and or at sea at a fundamental level and 5 from seafaring supplying nations recognising experiencing the relevant socio economic circumstances of seafarers From this book seafarers will not only find ideas on how to plug gaps in their maritime skills but also how they can transition with their existing skills to other maritime jobs such as marine superintendents marine managers designated persons ashore managers supervising new build second hand vessels IT managers in the maritime domain marine surveyors marine experts investigators marine pilots in ports maritime arbitrators managers in shipyards and so forth The solutions in this book will also resolve the issue of the shortage and retention of seafarers

The Infrastructured State Colin Turner, 2020-02-28 At the core of the logic of this book is that states engage in infrastructuring as a means of securing and enhancing their territoriality By positioning infrastructure as a system there is a presumption that all infrastructures exhibit some degree of mutual dependence As such a National Infrastructure System NIS is not simply about conventional conceptions of infrastructure based on those that support economic activity i.e energy transport and information but also about broader hard and soft structures that both enable and are supported by the aforementioned economic infrastructures Consequently this book offers an ambitious holistic view on the form of NIS arguing that the infrastructural mandate requires a conception of the state that encapsulates themes from both the competition and the welfare states in infrastructure provision

International Perspectives on the Belt and Road Initiative Sidh Sintusingha, Hao Wu, Wenqi Lin, Sun Sheng Han, Bo Qin, 2021-05-30 International Perspectives on the Belt and Road Initiative investigates the most significant global scale international trade expansion and capital investment programme since the Second World War. This book focusses on the multi-national perspectives of the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) in order to interrogate the Chinese government's representation of it as a symbol of peace, cooperation, development and mutual benefit. With specific focus on the interrelationship between geopolitics, infrastructure investments and urban regional development, the book reflects on 12 countries' experiences in depth, including those of Iran, Pakistan, Brazil, Thailand, Indonesia, Japan and Ethiopia, specifically to their economic development levels, political systems, power dynamics and socio-environmental issues. The book clarifies and contributes new knowledge on the nature of BRI concerning its relationship to globalism, neo-colonialism, the notion of developed vs. developing countries and their institutions and macro/micro benefits and impacts. In doing so, the book offers a balanced account of the antagonistic geo-political narrative of socio-political conflict and the collaborative framework of real socio-economic flows and development. The book will appeal to academics, researchers and policy makers with an interest in the BRI and its impacts on politico-economic development and urban regional and spatial systems in the Indo-Pacific and beyond.
