Revolt Of The Ministers The Malawi Cabinet Crisis 19641965:

Revolt of the Ministers Colin Baker, 2001-03-23 I certainly had very extreme views very violent views and I certainly did advocate extreme methods So a leading Nyasaland nationalist characterised the struggle for independent Malawi but Dr Hastings Banda a highly respected medical doctor based for many years in London was invited back to Nyasaland to lead the movement to independent Malawi and the Malawi National Congress Here was or so it seemed a loyal and progressive Government with pro Western leadership a final success in the story of British decolonisation Yet within three months all but one of the cabinet ministers had resigned or were dismissed former ministers fled the country including distinguished members of the independence movement Even the pro Congress Europeans feared for their lives Colin Baker unravels this potentially disastrous episode in Malawi s history and in the story of decolonisation He illuminates not only the immediate post independence problems of Malawi a newly independent African state but charts the growth of Banda s autocracy This detailed and revealing study reveals the problems inherent in the whole momentous story of Africa in independence and decolonisation

Politics, Christianity and Society in Malawi Ross, Kenneth R., Mulwafu, Wapulumuka O., 2020-02-27 With the death of John McCracken in 2017 Malawi lost a pre eminent historian This book celebrates McCracken s contribution to the study of Malawi s history and seeks to build on his legacy Part of his genius was that he identified themes that hold the key to understanding the history of Malawi in its broader perspective The authors contributing to this volume address these themes assessing the progress of historiography and setting an agenda for the further advance of historical studies The book is a valuable resource for students researchers and all who are interested in gaining a deeper understanding of Malawi s past and present

China and African Parliaments Innocent Batsani-Ncube, 2025-05-12 China and African Parliaments maps the political controversies surrounding the designing making and utilisation of three parliament buildings in Southern Africa that were financed and constructed by the People s Republic of China China The book is the first to explore and explain the impact of China s expanding influence in African parliaments The financing of African parliament buildings is a new and tangible phenomenon around which to understand China Africa relations the evolution of African parliaments and policy relevant debates on contemporary representative politics in Africa topics all tackled in this book The book draws on eight months of mixed method fieldwork in Lesotho Malawi and Zimbabwe Data was collected through official access to all three buildings key informant interviews with political and civil society elites and focus group discussions with a cross section of ordinary citizens who live and work around the buildings The book makes two distinct contributions to the China Africa relations and African parliaments literature The first contribution is to advance a ground breaking argument that China s method of donating Parliament buildings to African countries indicates that it is targeting the institution as a site of long term influence The second contribution is to make a theoretical and comparative case to utilise discussion of the concept of African legislative institutionalisation through and in juxtaposition to these

Chinese government funded parliament buildings Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics democratization decentralization gender and political representation the political impact of natural resources the dynamics and consequences of conflict comparative political thought and the nature of the continent's engagement with the East and West Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged as is interdisciplinary research and work that considers ethical issues relating to the study of Africa Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The focus of the series is on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest Series Editors Nic Cheeseman University of Birmingham Peace Medie University of Bristol and Ricardo Soares de Oliveira University of Oxford

Who Owns Africa? Bekeh Utietiang Ukelina, 2022-11-03 The independence of African countries from their European colonizers in the late 1950s and 1960s marked a shift in the continent's political leadership Nevertheless the economies of African nations remained tied to those of their former colonies raising questions of resource control and the sovereignty of these nation states Who Owns Africa addresses the role of foreign actors in Africa and their competing interests in exploiting the resources of Africa and its people An interdisciplinary team of scholars examines the concept of colonialism from a historical and socio political perspective They show how the language of investment development aid mutual interest or philanthropy is used to cloak the virulent forms of exploitation on the continent thereby perpetuating a state of neocolonialism that has left many African people poor and in the margins

A Tapestry of African Histories Nicholas K. Githuku, 2021-10-18 In A Tapestry of African Histories With Longer Times and Wider Geopolitics contributors demonstrate that African historians are neither comfortable nor content with studying continental or global geopolitical social and economic events across the superficial divide of time as if they were disparate or disconnected Instead the chapters within the volume reevaluate African history through a geopolitically transcendent lens that brings African countries into conversation with other pertinent histories both within and outside of the continent The collection analyzes the pre and post colonial eras within African countries such as Kenya Malawi and Sudan examining major historical figures and events struggles for independence and stability contemporary urban settlements social and economic development as well as constitutional legal and human rights issues that began in the colonial era and persist to this day

Ministerial Survival During Political and Cabinet Change Alejandro Quiroz Flores, 2016-08-12 Political leaders need ministers to help them rule and so conventional wisdom suggests that leaders appoint competent ministers to their cabinet This book shows this is not necessarily the case It examines the conditions that facilitate survival in ministerial office and how they are linked to ministerial competence the political survival of heads of government and the nature of political institutions Presenting a formal theory of political survival in the cabinet it systematically analyses the tenure in office of more than 7 300 ministers of foreign affairs covering more than 180 countries spanning the years 1696 2004 In doing so it sheds light not only on studies of ministerial change but also on diplomacy the occurrence of war and the democratic peace in international relations This text will be of key interest to students of comparative executive government comparative foreign policy political elites and more broadly to comparative politics political economy political history and international relations

Popular Music Censorship in Africa Martin Cloonan,2016-03-23 In Africa tension between freedom of expression and censorship in many contexts remains as contentious if not more so than during the period of colonial rule which permeated the twentieth century Over the last one hundred years popular musicians have not been free to sing about whatever they wish to and in many countries they are still not free to do so This volume brings together the latest research on censorship in colonial and post colonial Africa focusing on the attempts to censor musicians and the strategies of resistance devised by musicians in their struggles to be heard For Africa the twentieth century was characterized first and foremost by struggles for independence as colonizer and colonized struggled for territorial control Throughout this period culture was an important contested terrain in hegemonic and counter hegemonic struggles and many musicians who aligned themselves with independence movements viewed music as an important cultural weapon Musical messages were often political opposing the injustices of colonial rule Colonial governments reacted to counter hegemonic songs through repression banning songs from distribution and or broadcast while often targeting the musicians with acts of intimidation in an attempt to silence them In the post independence era a disturbing trend has occurred in which African governments have regularly continued to practise censorship of musicians However not all attempts to silence musicians have emanated from government nor has all contested music been strictly political Religious and moral rationale has also featured prominently in censorship struggles Both Christian and Muslim fundamentalism has led to extreme attempts to silence musicians In response musicians have often sought ways of getting their music and message heard despite censorship and harassment The book includes a special section on case studies that highlight issues of nationality

Beyond Impunity R. Ross,Lorraine Chiweza,2022-01-09 This comprehensive compelling accessible and timely volume should be compulsory reading to academics policy makers social activists and the general public in Malawi and elsewhere on the continent The accounts the authors present of the pervasive dysfunctions of Malawi s troubled experiment with multiparty democracy since the mid 1990s and the endlessly deferred dreams of development are often dispiriting Yet their bleak diagnoses are often accompanied by ameliorative prescriptions that are simultaneously bold and pragmatic The book exudes a sense of hope that the struggles for a better future will continue In itself the book represents a testament to the possibilities of the country s democratic dispensation the need to unflinchingly confront the country s debilitating political and socioeconomic pathologies Such a text would have been unthinkable during the dictatorship of the founding president Dr Hastings Kamuzu Banda
