Revolution From Above:

Russia's Revolution from Above, 1985-2000 Gordon Hahn, 2018-04-27 The fall of the Soviet communist regime in 1991 offers a challenging contrast to other instances of democratic transition and change in the last decades of the twentieth century The 1991 revolution was neither a peaceful revolution from below as occurred in Czechoslovakia nor a negotiated transition to democracy like those in Poland Hungary or Latin America It was not primarily the result of social modernization the rise of a new middle class or of national liberation movements in the non Russian union republics Instead as Gordon Hahn argues the Russian transformation was a bureaucrat led state based revolution managed by a group of Communist Party functionaries who won control over the Russian Republic RSFSR in the mid 1990s Hahn describes how opportunistic Party and state officials led by Boris Yeltsin defected from the Gorbachev camp and proceeded in 1990 91 to dismantle the institutions that bound state and party These revolutionaries from above seized control of political economic natural and human resources and then separated the party apparatus from state institutions on Russian Republic territory With the failed August 1991 hard line coup Yeltsin banned the Communist Party and decreed that all Union state organs including the KGB and military were under RSFSR control In Hahn s account this mode of revolutionary change from above explains the troubled development of democracy in Russia and the former Soviet republics Hahn shows how limited mobilization of the masses stunted the development of civil societies and the formation of political parties and trade unions with real grass roots The result is a weak society unable to nudge the state to concentrate on institutional reforms society needs for the development of a free polity and economy Russia s Revolution from Above goes far in correcting the historical record and reconceptualizing the Soviet transformation It should be read by historians economists political scientists and Russia area scholars

Revolution from Above Kerry Raymond Bolton, 2011 Dr Bolton demonstrates that the supposed rivalry between Marxist inspired movements and capitalism has always been an illusion He shows that the ultimate goal of capitalism is to create a worldwide collectivist society of consumers and Marxism is merely one means of attaining this He traces this idea back to Plato through the Illuminati the Freemasons the French Revolution and Communism

Quatri me de couverture Cronies or Capitalists? The Russian Bourgeoisie and the Bourgeois Revolution from 1850 to 1917 David Lockwood, 2009-05-27 Why wasn't there a successful bourgeois revolution in Russia Was it because Russian capitalists were too servile in their relationship with the Tsarist autocracy Or was it because Russian states Tsarist republican and Soviet were just too strong This book is a political history of the Russian capitalist class from 1850 to 1917 that seeks to answer these questions The book covers the consistent opposition of the Russian bourgeoisie to the Tsarist autocracy up to and including the revolution of 1905 It then considers its alliance from 1909 with new state elements officials politicians army officers and technical experts who were convinced of the possibility of reform and renovation through a radically reorganised state cleansed of its autocratic detritus Such a reorganisation was expected as a result of the Great War While these ideas came to a temporary fruition in the February Revolution of 1917 they also laid the basis for a much more demanding Soviet state in October and the destruction of the bourgeoisie itself The book ends with a consideration of the wider implications for the concept of the bourgeois revolution implications that stretch well beyond Russia that are revealed by the rise and fall of the Russian bourgeoisie
