New Zealand Medievalism Anna Czarnowus, Janet M. Wilson, 2024-04-30 This volume maps the phenomenon of medievalism in Aotearoa initially as an import by the early white settler society and as a form of nation building that would reinforce Britishness and ancestral belonging This colonial narrative underpins the volume's focus on the imperial relationship in chapters on the academic study of the Middle Ages on medievalism in film and music in manuscript and book collections and colonial stained glass and architecture Through the alternative 21st century frameworks of a global Middle Ages and Aotearoa's bicultural nationalism the volume also introduces Maori understandings of the ancestral past that parallel the European epoch and at the opposite end of the spectrum the phenomenon of global right wing medievalism as evidenced in the Alt right extremism underpinning the Christchurch mosque attack of 2019 The 11 chapters trace the transcultural moves and networks that comprise the shift from the 20th century study of the Middle Ages as an historical period to manifestations of medievalism as the reception and interpretation of the medieval past in postmedieval times Collectively these are viewed as indications of the changing public perception about the meaning and practice of the European heritage from the colonial to contemporary era The volume will appeal to educationists scholars and students interested in the academic history of the Middle Ages in New Zealand enthusiasts of film music and performance of the medieval members of the public interested in Aotearoa's history and popular culture and all who enjoy the colourful reinventions of medievalism
