A History of Political Murder in Latin America W. John Green, 2015-04-27 This expansive history depicts Latin America's pan regional culture of political murder Unlike typical studies of the region which often focus on the issues or trends of individual countries this work focuses thematically on the nature of political murder itself comparing and contrasting its uses and practices throughout the region W John Green examines the entire system of political murder the methods and justifications the perpetrators employ the victims and the consequences for Latin American societies Green demonstrates that elite and state actors have been responsible for most political murders assassinating the leaders of popular movements and other messengers of change Latin American elites have also often targeted the potential audience for these messages through the region's various dirty wars In spite of regional differences elites across the region have displayed considerable uniformity in justifying their use of murder imagining themselves in a class war with democratic forces While the United States has often been complicit in such violence Green notes that this has not been universally true with US support waxing and waning A detailed appendix exploring political murder country by country provides an additional resource for readers

Coronado's Children J. Frank Dobie, 2010-06-28 This is the best work ever written on hidden treasure and one of the most fascinating books on any subject to come out of Texas Basic Texas Books

Written in 1930 Coronado's Children was one of J Frank Dobie's first books and the one that helped gain him national prominence as a folklorist. In it he recounts the tales and legends of those hardy souls who searched for buried treasure in the Southwest following in the footsteps of that earlier gold seeker the Spaniard Coronado. These people, Dobie writes in his introduction, no matter what language they speak are truly Coronado's inheritors. I have called them Coronado's children. They follow Spanish trails, buffalo trails, cow trails; they dig where there are no trails but oftener than they dig or prospect they just sit and tell stories of lost mines of buried bullion by the jack load. This is the tale spinning Dobie at his best dealing with subjects as irresistible as ghost stories and haunted houses. As entrancing a volume as one is likely to pick up in a month of Sundays. The New York Times. Dobie has discovered for us a native Arabian Night. Chicago Evening Post. Science and Catholicism in Argentina (1750-1960) Miguel de Asúa, 2022-05-09. Science and Catholicism in Argentina 1750-1960 is the first comprehensive study on the relationship between science and religion in a Spanish speaking country with a Catholic majority and a Latin pattern of secularisation. The text takes the reader from Jesuit missionary science in colonial times through the conflict ridden 19th century to the Catholic revival of the 1930s in Argentina. The diverse interactions between science and religion revealed in this analysis can be organised in terms of their dynamic of secularisation. The indissoluble identification of science and the secular which operated at rhetorical and institutional levels among the liberal elite and the socialists in the 19th century lost part of its force with the emergence of Catholic scientists in the course of the 20th century. In agreement with current views that deny science the role as the driving force of secularisation this historical study concludes that it was the process of secularisation that shaped the interplay between religion and science not the other way around. Murder is My Business Brett Halliday, 2011-04-20. MURDER AT THE RIO GRANDE. Ten years ago private eye Mike Shayne did a job for one of the richest men in El Paso digging up dirt on a boy courting the tycoon's daughter. Now the daughter's back all grown up and dangerous. And so is Shayne but this time it's to investigate murder. Cuentos de gore de locura y de muerte Pablo Espinoza Bardi, 2012. Religion, Social Memory and Conflict Sandra Milena Rios Oyola, 2015-06-13. This book studies how religion influences the way people in Colombia remember a massacre of 79 civilians that occurred in a Catholic church in 2002. It analyses how strategies of memorialisation are part of religious peacebuilding initiatives that aim to resist and denounce crimes against human, ethnic, cultural and economic rights. Layered Inequalities Jairo Baquero Melo, 2014. In Colombia since the 1990s thousands of Afro descendants have benefited from collective land rights. However many peasants have been violently displaced in order to introduce industrial crops while several other groups of peasants resisted these agribusiness land grabs. This book examines the layered inequalities in this process and analyzes the various paradoxes of recent Colombian development policies: the agribusiness expansions through land grabs, the land and labor conflicts that have overlapped in regions with agribusiness and both the Afro descendants and mestizos demand for land rights. Series: Politics, Society and Community in a Globalized World. Peacebuilding and the Arts by Jolyon Mitchell, Giselle Vincett, Theodora Hawksley, and Hal Culbertson, 2019-11-19. Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination. Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently. In place of conflict's binary divisions, artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle. Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored. This excellent and agenda-setting volume provides a ground-breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding, a must-read for all practitioners and policy makers, and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration. Professor Christine Bell, FBA, Professor of Constitutional Law, Assistant Principal Global Justice, and co-director of the Global Justice Academy, The University of Edinburgh, UK. Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art, music, literature, film, and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies. Without idealizing the role of the arts, the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea, Cambodia, Colombia, and Northern Ireland to Uganda, Rwanda, South Africa, and Israel/Palestine. Roland Bleiker, Professor of International Relations, University of Queensland, Australia, and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics. Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding, expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist, actor, poet, novelist, dramatist, musician, dancer, and film director. The sections on the visual arts, music, literature, film, and theatre include case studies from very different cultures, contexts, and settings, but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies, with the power to transform relationships, heal wounds, and nurture compassion and empathy. Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research, but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding. While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts, its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours
