Through the Kaleidoscope Vivian Schelling,2000 Modernity in Latin America is defined above all by its multi layered kaleidoscopic quality Reminiscent of Octavio Paz s labyrinth it is a modernity which has accommodated a piling on of new traditions to old a blending of external cultures with local and of high cultures with more popular ones mixes which allowed a rich and celebratory avant garde movement for example to emerge in the 1920s and prompted the explosive growth of cities like Rio de Janeiro Many such cultural as well as technological innovations have occurred without equivalent changes in social and political life however and so the region has also been at the mercy of what might be termed an uneven development in many of its civic institutions In this prestigious volume of original essays many of the best writers on the region are brought together to examine the nature and manifestations of a specifically Latin American modernity Beatriz Sarlo and Nicolau Sevcenko write about Buenos Aires and Sao Paulo in an exploration of twentieth century urban experience and shifting patterns of migration and immigration Renato Ortiz and Ana Lopez look at mass media and the ways in which radio television and cinema have shaped modernity Jose Jorge de Carvalho Jose de Souza Martins and Nelson Manrique address questions of religion politics ideology and social movements Gwen Kirkpatrick and Beatriz Rezende explore the intricacies of artistic and literary modernism and Nestor Canclini and Ruben Oliven open the collection with essays which unravel the many forces the legacy of slavery the freedom from an unquestioning faith in development and progress the impact of globalisation that have given rise to a characteristically hybrid modernity

Mexico's Cinema A Century of Film and Filmmakers is a collection of fourteen essays that encompass the first 100 years of the cinema of Mexico. Each of the book's three sections, The Silent Cinema, The Golden Age and The Contemporary Era, is preceded by a short introduction to the period and a presentation of the major themes addressed in the section. This insightful anthology is the first published study that includes pieces by Mexican and North American scholars, including a piece by the internationally acclaimed essayist Carlos Monsivais. Contributors include other acclaimed scholars and critics as well as young scholars who are currently making their mark in the area of film studies of Mexico. Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America, 1896-1960 Rielle Navitski, Nicolas Poppe, 2017-06-19

Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America examines how cinema forged cultural connections between Latin American publics and film-exporting nations in the first half of the twentieth century. Predating today's transnational media industries by several decades, these connections were defined by active economic and cultural exchanges as well as longstanding inequalities in political power and cultural capital. The essays explore the arrival and expansion of cinema throughout the region from the first screenings of the Lumi<sup>re</sup> Cinematographe in 1896 to the emergence of new forms of cinephilia and cult spectatorship in the 1940s and beyond. Examining these transnational exchanges through the lens of the cosmopolitan, which emphasizes the ethical and political dimensions of cultural consumption, illuminates the role played by moving images in negotiating between the local, national and global and between the popular and the elite in twentieth-century Latin America. In addition, primary historical documents provide vivid accounts of Latin American film critics, movie audiences and film-industry workers' experiences with moving images produced elsewhere; encounters that were deeply rooted in the local context yet also opened out onto global horizons.

American Cinema, 1890-1909 André Gaudreault, 2009

The essays in American Cinema 1890-1909 explore and define how the making of motion pictures flowered into an industry that would finally become the central entertainment institution of the world. Beginning with all the early types of pictures that moved this volume tells the story of the invention and consolidation of the various processes that gave rise to what we now call cinema.

The Precarious in the Cinemas

of the Americas Constanza Burucúa,Carolina Sitnisky,2018-05-29 Historically cinema in the Americas has been signed by a state of precariousness. Notwithstanding the growing accessibility to video and digital technologies access to the material means of film production is still limited affecting the spheres of production distribution and reception. Equally questions about the precarious can be traced in cultural and archival policies film legislations as well as in thematic and aesthetic choices. While conventional definitions of the precarious have been associated with notions of scarcity and insecurity this volume looks at precariousness from a non monolithic angle exploring its productivity and potential for original critical approaches with the aim of providing new readings to the variedly rich and complex cinemas of the Americas
