historical documents of ancient China Origins of the Maritime Silk Road can be traced to prosperous Neolithic and Metal Age maritime oriented cultures dispersed along the coastlines of prehistoric China and Southeast Asia The topics explored here include Neolithisation and the development of prehistoric maritime cultures during the Neolithic and early Metal Age the expansion and interaction of these cultures along coastlines and across straits the two layer hypothesis for explaining genetic and cultural diversity in south China and Southeast Asia prehistoric seafaring and early sea routes the paleogeography and vegetation history of coastal regions Neolithic maritime livelihoods based on hunting fishing foraging adaptations rice and millet cultivation and their dispersal along the coast and across the open sea and interaction between farmers and maritime oriented hunter fisher foragers In addition a series of case studies enhances understanding of the development of prehistoric navigation and the origin of the Maritime Silk Road in the Asia Pacific region Archaeology of East Asian Shipbuilding Jun Kimura,2016-04-12 North American Society for Oceanic History John Lyman Book Award in Naval and Maritime Reference Works and Published Primary Sources Honorable Mention In this innovative study Jun Kimura integrates historical data with archaeological findings to examine a wide array of eleventh through nineteenth century ships from China Korea and Japan Chinese junks and Japanese sailing ships were known throughout the world and this work illustrates why their innovative designs have survived the centuries Kimura presents an extensive dataset of excavated coastal and oceangoing ships that traveled the Yellow Sea the East China Sea and the South China Sea Three detailed case studies include the Shinan and Quanzhou wrecks and the Takashima underwater site Using travel documents cargo manifests iconographic paintings and other descriptive resources as well as the archaeological evidence of hull components wooden timbers and iron remains Kimura sheds new light on East Asian shipbuilding traditions A View from the Highlands Mai Lin Tjoa-Bonatz,2019-11-07 This book analyses the rise of the settlement system in the heartland of the Minangkabau region in the highlands of West Sumatra Indonesia It explores the regional settlement pattern arising from Adityavarman s highland interregnum c 1347 75 and provides the first attempt to place the archaeological remains and the landscape of Tanah Datar a fertile plain in the highlands of West Sumatra in a cultural historic synthesis The core of this research consisted of excavations at Bukit Gombak and Bukit Kincir Bukit Gombak was a central place in Adityavarman s kingdom and provides evidence of the organization and material development of this political entity Surveys uncovered other settlements that could be examined in relation to each other and to sites from earlier and later periods and used to sketch out the settlement history of Tanah Datar from prehistoric times to the colonial period The book consists of detailed studies of metal ceramics and glass finds by laboratory based specialists as well as careful descriptions of stone clay and other finds The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology Alexis Catsambis,Ben Ford,Donny L. Hamilton,2011-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology is a comprehensive survey of the field as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology This volume draws on many of the distinct and universal aspects of maritime archaeology bringing them together under four main themes the research process ships and shipwrecks maritime and nautical culture and issues of preservation and management The first section of the book deals with the best practices for locating documenting excavating and analyzing submerged sites This methodological foundation is followed by a sample of shipwreck studies from around the world as scholars trace the regional development of ships and seafaring Chosen to balance the traditional core regions of maritime archaeology with important but lesser studied areas it aims at offering an international account of the study of submerged sites Reflecting the growing number of scholars who study past maritime cultures but not shipwrecks the third section of the book addresses various aspects of the maritime landscape and ethnography above and below the water The final chapters then approach maritime archaeology in a broader context moving beyond archaeological sites to discuss the archaeological record in general within legal preservation and management frameworks Taken together these individual and original articles provide a valuable resource that summarizes the current state of the field of maritime archaeology and offers insight into the future of this established and growing discipline New Perspectives on the History and Historiography of Southeast Asia Michael Arthur Aung-Thwin, Kenneth Hall, 2011-05-13 Using a unique old new treatment this book presents new perspectives on several important topics in Southeast Asian history and historiography Based on original primary research it reinterprets and revises several long held conventional views in the field covering the period from the classical age to the twentieth century Chapters share the approach to Southeast Asian history and historiography namely giving agency to Southeast Asia in all research analysis writing and interpretation The book honours John K Whitmore a senior historian in the field of Southeast Asian history today by demonstrating the scope and breadth of the scholar's influence on two generations of historians trained in the West In addition to providing new information and insights on the field of Southeast Asia this book stimulates new debate on conventional ideas evidence and approaches to its teaching research and understanding It addresses and in many cases revises specific critically important topics in Southeast Asian history on which much conventional knowledge of Southeast Asia has long been based It is of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian Studies as well as Asian History The East Asian Mediterranean Angela Schottenhammer, 2008 The present volume is a collection of papers originally presented for the concluding conference of the research project The East Asian Mediterranean entitled The East Asian Mediterranean Maritime Crossroads of Culture Commerce and Human Migration and held at Munich University from November 2-3 2007 The papers in this volume have been arranged according to thematical sections that is Mediterranean Seas from East Asia to East Africa Merchants and merchant networks Commodities and transport and finally Trade parameters and perceptions each section covering a different aspect of trade diplomacy and perceptions across and within the East Asian and Asian waters In order to show the variety and the different qualities of interaction and exchange relations we have selected case studies with a main focus lying on Sino Japanese Sino Ryukyuan and Japanese Korean relations as well as the involvement of

Muslim merchants in the Asian waters The volume in particular tries to draw the readers attention to the necessity and the advantages of international cooperation and interaction investigating topics of Asian history A History of Maritime Trade in Northern Vietnam, 12th to 18th Centuries Yuriko Kikuchi, 2021-10-21 This book analyzes the role of i Vi t Vietnam in the maritime Asian trading network of the thirteenth through the eighteenth centuries as it systematically integrates the results of archaeological investigations The first half of the book consolidates reports from excavations conducted at V n n and Ph Hi n trading ports of i Vi t incorporating sophisticated archaeological techniques distinctive of Japan in the presentations of the data These are accompanied by precise scale drawings detailed classifications and quantitative analyses of unearthed artifacts The latter half of the book discusses the materials discovered in archaeological investigations specifically ceramics and coins in terms of the relations among sites and networks of production distribution and consumption from a broader Asian geohistorical perspective To this end the diplomatic policies and trading activities of each era in Vietnam are discussed integrating the results of archaeological investigations with studies of historical documents Expanding beyond Vietnam results of the archaeological investigations in other maritime Asian countries such as Japan Indonesia Laos and the Philippines are introduced to inform a comparative study that combines all such data from both archaeology and history in a single volume as materials for broader discussion This book is expected to contribute to international academic discourse on the history of maritime Asia and help open a new phase of scholarly endeavor in this field Bujangga Manik Alexander Joseph West, 2025-05-26 Bujangga Manik is a narrative poem in Old Sundanese which opens a window onto the world of late 15th century maritime Southeast Asia The poem describes the spiritual development of a young man from Paka cilan in what is now West Java as he walks and sails across and around Java and Bali culminating with his death in a mountainside hermitage and ascension to heaven This volume is an exemplary edition of Bujangga Manik complete with a revised transliteration a new English translation detailed descriptions of the manuscript script and language and an extensive commentary on the poem s contents from its setting and characters to its descriptions of ocean going ships houses furniture perfumes and much else Transformative Jars Anna Grasskamp, Anne Gerritsen, 2022-12-01 The term jar refers to any man made shape with the capacity to enclose something Few objects are as universal and multi functional as a jar regardless of whether they contain food or drink matter or a void life giving medicine or the ashes of the deceased As ubiquitous as they may seem such containers storage vessels and urns are as this book demonstrates highly significant cultural and historical artefacts that mediate between content and environment exterior worlds and interior enclosures local and global this worldly and otherworldly realms The contributors to this volume understand jars not only as household utensils or evidence of human civilizations but also as artefacts in their own right Asian jars are culturally and aesthetically defined crafted goods and as objects charged with spiritual meanings and ritual significance Transformative Jars situates Asian jars in a global context and focuses on relationships between the filling emptying and re filling of jars with a variety of contents and meanings through time and throughout space Transformative Jars brings together an interdisciplinary team of scholars with backgrounds in curating art history and anthropology to offer perspectives that go beyond archaeological approaches with detailed analyses of a broad range of objects By looking at jars as things in the hands of makers users and collectors this book presents these objects as agents of change in cultures of craftsmanship and consumption 江西省博物馆 编,2002 This is a catalogue produced in conjunction with an exhibition jointly organized by the Jiangxi Provincial Museum and Art Museum The Chinese University of Hong Kong It consists of 128 items of Yuan and Ming 14th to mid 17th centuries provincial blue and white wares Half of the exhibits primarily specimens with datable contexts come from Jiangxi Provincial Museum and the cultural institutions in Jiangxi The rest mostly products for local and overseas markets are selected from the Art Museum collection and loans from private and public collections in Hong Kong and the Philippines All exhibits are illustrated with colour plates and detailed entries in both Chinese and English It contains also two scholarly essays Yuan and Ming Provincial Blue and White Ware from Jingdezhen by Peng Minghan and Yin Qinglan and Chinese Blue and White ware of the 14th to 15th Centuries A Philippine Perspective by Rita C Tan and an appendix of A Selection of Dated Ming Blue and Whites The book provides indispensable reference materials for studies on the Yuan and Ming blue and white wares from Jiangxi
