Missions And Empire

Carey A. Watt, Michael Mann

Missions And Empire:

Missions and Empire Norman Etherington, 2005-07-14 The explosive expansion of Christianity in Africa and Asia during the last two centuries constitutes one of the most remarkable cultural transformations in the history of mankind Because it coincided with the spread of European economic and political hegemony it tends to be taken for granted that Christian missions went hand in hand with imperialism and colonial conquest In this book historians survey the relationship between Christian missions and the British Empire from the seventeenth century to the 1960s and treat the subject thematically rather than regionally or chronologically Many of these themes are treated at length for the first time relating the work of missions to language medicine anthropology and decolonization Other important chapters focus on the difficult relationship between missionaries and white settlers women and mission and the neglected role of the indigenous evangelists who did far more than European or North American missionaries to spread the Christian religion belying the image of Christianity as the white man s religion

Missions, Nationalism and the End of Empire Stanley, Elaine M. Low, 2003 Christian missions have often been seen as the religious arm of Western imperialism What is rarely appreciated is the role they played in bringing about an end to the Western colonial empires after the Second World War Missions Nationalism and the End of Empire explores this neglected subject Respected authorities on the history of missions explore new territory in these chapters examining from diverse angles the linkages between Christianity nationalism and the dissolution of the colonial empires in Asia and Africa This work not only sheds light on the relation of religion and politics but also uncovers the sometimes paradoxical implications of the church s call to bring the gospel to all the world Contributors Daniel H Bays Philip Boobbyer Judith M Brown Richard Elphick Deborah Gaitskell Adrian Hastings Caroline Howell Ka che Yip Ogbu U Kalu Hartmut Lehmann Derek Peterson Andrew Porter Brian Stanley John Stuart

Missions and Empire Norman Etherington, 2005 The idea that Christian missions went hand in hand with Imperialism and colonial conquest is challenged in this book By showing the variety of missions and the vital role played by indigenous men and women the text places missions in a long historical perspective

Religion Versus Empire? Andrew Porter, 2004-10-29 This is the only book that addresses the relations between religion Protestant missions and empire building linking together all three fields of study by taking as its starting point the early eighteenth century Anglican initiatives in colonial North America and the Caribbean It considers how the early societies of the 1790s built on this inheritance and extended their own interests to the Pacific India the Far East and Africa Fluctuations in the vigor and commitment of the missions changing missionary theologies and the emergence of alternative missionary strategies are all examined for their impact on imperial expansion Other themes include the international character of the missionary movement Christianity s encounter with Islam and major figures such as David Livingstone the state and politics and humanitarianism all of which are viewed in a fresh light

Pacifying Missions, 2023-03-13 Pacifying Missions provides the first sustained examination of peace and missionary work in the context of the British Empire It interrogates diverse missionary projects from Africa and the Pacific region unfolding a variegated world of ideas discourses and actions The volume yields compelling evidence for a reconsideration of peace as a vital focus for analysis in the history of Christian mission It also reveals a landscape of peace that was plural dynamic and contested worked out in specific contexts and deeply entangled with understandings and experiences of violence Contributors to this volume are Geoffrey Troughton Elizabeth Elbourne Jane Samson David Maxwell Norman Etherington Esme Cleall Amy Stambach Joanna Cruickshank and Bronwyn Shepherd

The Missions of California, 2004-05 Complemented by full color photographs this updated handbook recounts the story of the California missions and offers detailed profiles of all twenty one historic missions offering a unique tour of each site s architecture artistry and historical significance

Evangelists of Empire? Amanda Barry, 2008 Utilising a range of source material and a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches this ground breaking collection offers the reader new ways of assessing the uneven paths of mission endeavours and examines the ways in which Indigenous peoples responded to and took ownership of aspects of Christian and Western culture and spirituality

Protestant Children, Missions and Education in the British World Hugh Morrison, 2021-11-29 At Christmas 1936 Presbyterian children in New Zealand raised over 400 for an x ray machine in a south Chinese missionary hospital From the early 1800s thousands of children in the British world had engaged in similar activities raising significant amounts of money to support missionary projects world wide But was money the most important thing Hugh Morrison argues that children s education was a more important motive and outcome This is the first book length attempt to bring together evidence from across a range of British contexts In particular it focuses on children s literature the impact of imperialism and nationalism and the role of emotions Christian Mission Dana L. Robert,2011-09-09 CHRISTIAN MISSION Dana Robert distils a quarter of a century of her research into an erudite and accessible single volume account of how Christianity became the largest religious tradition in the world There is no better place for any reader to start becoming informed about this important subject David Hempton Harvard University Remarkable for the range and depth of the material Robert is able to pack into so short a book Reliable and readable it is especially valuable for its treatment of the relation between western and non western missionary activity David A Hollinger University of California Berkeley Dana Robert s richly textured book shows us that the history of Christian missions is far from being merely a European colonial story and will be immensely valuable to students and general readers who are concerned to uncover the historical roots of Christianity s current status as a truly global faith Brian Stanley University of Edinburgh The Gospels record that Christ commanded his disciples to go forth and teach all nations Thus began the history of Christian mission a phenomenon which brought about massive shifts in the nature and practice of Christianity and one that many say reflects the single most important movement of intercultural encounter over a sustained period of human history To understand Christianity as a global movement therefore it is essential to study the role of mission defined as the transmission of the Gospel across cultures Erudite and enlightening this brief book explores the 2 000 years of mission history covering topics such as the meaning of the missionary through history gender and missions and missions in culture and politics Given that in the twenty first century Christianity is now largely practiced outside the West Christian Mission is an inspirational and invaluable resource to broaden our understanding of the nature of Christianity as a truly multi cultural world religion

Missions Howard Benjamin Grose,1911 Empires of Religion H. Carey,2008-11-13 A sparkling new collection on religion and imperialism covering Ireland and Britain Australia Canada the Cape Colony and New Zealand Botswana and Madagascar Bursting with accounts of lively characters and incidents from around the British world this collection is essential reading for all students of religious and imperial history The Empire of Christ Bernard Lucas,1908 The Vincentians: A General History of the Congregation of the Mission John E. Rybolt,2014-10-01 THE SUBTITLE OF THIS VOLUME is An Era of Expansion 1878 1919 It reflects the reality of the Congregation of the Mission under the leadership of Antoine Fiat the superior general who governed the Community longer than St Vincent de Paul Like the founder Fiat was a man of both prayer and action Also like the founder Fiat was often hesitant and delayed final decisions His confreres spread to new missions such as the republics of Central America and Argentina and several missions or provinces had grown large enough to be given more autonomy such as the two American provinces the Antilles Barcelona Ecuador Belgium and Holland Madagascar and Colombia China continued to attract many missionaries as well as local Chinese vocations despite war and unrest This volume then relates not only that the Vincentians members of the Congregation of the Mission grew in number and influence but how they exercised their ministry Persecution was their lot in some regions but they forged ahead As always they sought to align their ministries at the end of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth centuries with the original mission entrusted to them by the Church through Vincent de Paul to bring the Gospel to the poor Ebenezer Mission Station, 1863-1873 Felicity Jensz,2023-07-05 This book contains the annotated diary of Adolf and Mary Polly Hartmann missionaries of the Moravian Church who worked at the Ebenezer mission station on Wotjobaluk country in the north west of the Colony of Victoria Australia The diary begins in 1863 as the Hartmanns are preparing to travel from Europe to take up their post and ends in 1873 by which time they are working in Canada as missionaries to the Lenni Lenape people Recording the Hartmann s eight years at the Ebenezer mission the diary presents richly detailed insights into the daily interactions between Aboriginal people and their colonisers The inhabitants of the mission are overwhelmingly described in the diary as agents in their lives moving in and out of the missionaries sphere of influence yet restricted at times by the boundaries of the mission The diary reveals moments of laughter shared grief community advocacy and reciprocal learning alongside the mundane everyday chores of mission life Through the personal writings of a missionary couple this diary brings to light the regular routine and extraordinary events on a mission station in Australia in the third quarter of the nineteenth century a period just prior to British high imperialism and a period before increasingly restrictive legislation was enforced on Indigenous people in the Colony of Victoria Civilizing Missions in Colonial and Postcolonial South Asia Carey A.

Watt,Michael Mann,2011-03-15 Civilizing Missions in Colonial and Postcolonial South Asia offers a series of analyses that highlights the complexities of British and Indian civilizing missions in original ways and through various historiographical approaches The book applies the concept of the civilizing mission to a number of issues in the colonial and postcolonial eras in South Asia economic development state building pacification nationalism cultural improvement gender and generational relations caste and untouchability religion and missionaries class relations urbanization NGOs and civil society

Missionaries, Indigenous Peoples and Cultural Exchange Patricia Grimshaw,Andrew May,2009-11-03 Presents fresh insights into the relationships between missions and indigenous peoples and the outcomes of mission activities in the processes of imperial conquest and colonisation This book focuses on missions across the British Empire including India Africa Asia the Pacific within transnational and comparative perspectives The Encyclopædia of Missions Edwin Munsell Bliss,1891

Mission and Context Jione Havea,2020-06-30 Mission is contrived from and performed over lived contexts but the visions that guide and drive mission are oftentimes blinded by power position protection and plenitude This collection visits those matters with queering attention to the shadows that empires cast over the contexts of mission and to the collusion and complicity of Christians and churches with empires past as in the case of Rome and present as in the case of the United States of America In the interests of those in mission fields who survived but continue to agonize under the burdens of empires the contributors to this work dare to re vision the course and cause of mission Writing from minoritized

settings in Africa Asia the Americas and Oceania the authors interweave the principles and practices of mission with the opportunities in decolonial theology and hermeneutics minoritized and migrant Christologies repatriation and the courage to get up and get out indigenous insights and wisdom mission archives stories of resistance and endurance in zones of contact and violence restless souls and returning spirits and life centered spiritual en countering In Mission and Context as with previous volumes in this series empires do not have the final word nor are they the final world Corporate Holiness Bob Tennant, 2013-10-24 Bob Tennant presents a history of the missionary work cultures and rhetoric of the Church of England in 1760 1870 when it was the predominant organizer of Protestant overseas missions Through close attention to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge SPCK founded 1699 the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts SPG 1701 and the Church Missionary Society CMS 1799 Tennant offers a systematic exploration of the complex relationship between the Societies policies decision making systems and administration as recorded in their unpublished minute books and the rhetorical and theological activity of their sermon literature Thus their corporate holiness is shown to be a synthesis of theology ministry rhetoric administration and methods of building public support In the process Tennant also offers analyses of controversies within the Church of England about questions such as the relationship of Bible to liturgy the nature and techniques of mass education charitable behaviour and the processes of decision making Supported by statistical evidence he offers a revisionist account of the Church s relationship to the American Revolution the Romantic movement and the Indian Mutiny Besides offering a critical history of his subject Tennant also suggests a methodology for approaching a general thesis of Christian missionary societies on their own terms theoretically separable from and avoiding the distortions and imbalances which have been imposed by the secularist imperial historiography to which they have so often been subordinated
