Conceptualizing Cultural and Social Dialogue in the Euro-Mediterranean Area Michelle Pace, Tobias Schumacher, 2007-02-08 Previously published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics this collection critically analyzes the dynamics and complexities of the wider Euro Mediterranean area on the basis of individual theory informed designs and conceptual frameworks Since the predominant focus has been on the first political and security partnership and the second baskets economic and financial partnership of the Barcelona Process our contributors analyze social and cultural issues the third basket of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership drawing upon linkages between concepts structures and policy outcomes Some articles focus on the impact of the EU s actor capability in the area of EU policies towards the South in enhancing interregional dialogue understanding and cultural cooperation Others focus on a critical discourse analysis of dialogue identity power human rights and civil society including Western and non Western conceptions Finally the volume culminates with a discussion on cultural democracy in Euro Mediterranean relations The Challenge of Differentiation in

Euro-Mediterranean Relations Esther Barbé, Anna Herranz-Surrallés, 2013-09-13 The tension between the aim of creating sustainable multilateral region building dynamics and the need to find more differentiated and flexible forms of cooperation has been ever present in Euro Mediterranean relations The proliferation of different and partially overlapping initiatives in recent years the Euro Mediterranean Partnership the European Neighbourhood Policy and the Union for the Mediterranean is a plain expression of this tension The 2011 episodes of regime change in the Arab world have once again placed the debate about differentiation in EU s relations with Southern and Eastern Mediterranean Countries at the top of the Union s foreign policy agenda This book contributes to theoretical and practical debates on whether differentiation processes can aid or hinder policy convergence processes and region building efforts more widely The contributions to this collection assess the actual significance and consequences of differentiation in Euro Mediterranean relations through sector specific in depth analyses covering issue areas as varied as environmental policy migration foreign and defence policy trade energy civil protection and democracy promotion The particular angle and comprehensive analysis of this book will make it of great interest for both scholars and policy makers alike in a moment when Euro Mediterranean are in need of a thorough rethink This book was based on a special issue of Mediterranean Politics New Pathways in International Development

New Pathways in International Development Maurizio Carbone, Marjorie Lister, 2017-11-30 Gender considerations and civil society are both major issues in the current debate about the implementation of EU development policy This volume provides a new perspective and focus on the increasingly important issues of gender equality democracy and participation to explain how they impact on policy This book will appeal to those interested in the European Union in EU external relations gender issues civil society and development

Twenty Years of Euro-Mediterranean Relations Richard Youngs, 2017-10-02 The creation of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership in 1995 was seen at the time as a forward thinking foreign policy which would strengthen ties between Europe and the Mediterranean Arab states Since that time however almost none of this initial ambition has been translated into positive successful policy Twenty years on from the creation of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership now the Union for the Mediterranean this book collects some of the most influential articles published in the Mediterranean Politics journal since 1995 and suggests what these articles tell us about the state of relations between Europe and the Middle East The selection of articles gives a sense of the way in which analytical debate has changed in the journal's lifetime a lifetime which has seen the journal at the forefront of academic study on a variety of issues in the Mediterranean region As such the selection is naturally a reflection of the different periods from which the articles are taken and taken together they paint a picture of how the Euro Mediterranean partnership has been reshaped over time The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History

Dan Stone, 2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the 35 chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history the The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the thirty five essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by acknowledged experts as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe Young Minds Rethinking the Mediterranean, 2011

Throughout history much has been written on why wars and crises occur and why human beings kill each other or are often so ready to do so While some blame human nature state structures or the anarchic order within the international system others hold prejudices and the othering or dehumanizing of those different from us as being responsible The region in which we live has particularly suffered a great deal from these violent processes Nationalist ideologies most of which were defined in opposition to one another alienated others abstracted them from their humanity and made them subject to various kinds of tyranny Turks Bulgarians Greeks and many others had their share in this process of mutual alienation Across the Euro Mediterranean region throughout history immigrations have been imposed publics extorted crises fomented and interventions and wars suffered through The study in your hands sheds light on the processes of othering and alienation in large part responsible for this troubled history It serves as a tool through which the past and the future can be understood And it examines prejudice the largest obstacle facing Turkey on its path to EU membership while touching on various issues such as minority rights the notion of culture the role of symbols and other visual images in politics the narration of culture within the capitalist order and its political outcomes and finally the EU s Mediterranean politics

Euro-Mediterranean Relations After September 11 Annette Junemann, 2004-06 A comprehensive study of the nexus between democratization and security in the Mediterranean which are seen as essentially complementary yet threatened by political trends witnessed since the September 2001 attacks Contributors from a variety of European and Mediterranean countries address the impact of a restructured security system Europe s effort to establish an autonomous security and defence policy and attempts among the Mediterranean Partner Countries MPCs to build regional security regimes

Law, Culture and Identity in Central and Eastern Europe Cosmin Cercel, Alexandra Mercescu, Mirosław Michał Sadowski, 2023-12-01 Combining insights from comparative legal theory jurisprudence and legal history this collection examines the legal and constitutional identity of Central and Eastern Europe Although the various countries of Central and Eastern Europe have often compared themselves to the West the failure of these countries to engage with one another has resulted in a whole spectrum of legal identities remaining hidden This book takes up a comparison of such identities within the region of Central and Eastern Europe and following from the prima facie similarity between the region s countries given the experience of communism and legal transfers The book thereby illuminates through comparisons the distinct legal identities of the 16 Central and Eastern European states whilst at the same time arguing for a shared Central and Eastern European legal identity This book will appeal to scholars and students in the area of comparative law as well as lawyers political scientists sociologists and historians with particular interests in Central and Eastern Europe

The Europeanization of Cinema Randall Halle, 2014-06-15 In this innovative study German and film studies scholar Randall Halle advances the concept of interzones geographical and ideational spaces of transit interaction transformation and contested diversity as a mechanism for analyzing European cinema He focuses especially on films about borders borderlands and cultural zones as he traces the development of interzones from the inception of central European cinema to the avant garde films of today Throughout he shows how cinema both reflects and engenders interzones that explore the important questions of Europe s social order imperialism and nation building in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries first contact between former adversaries such as East and West Germany following World War II and the Cold War and migration neo colonialism and cultural imperialism in the twenty first century Ultimately Halle argues that today s cinema both produces and reflects imaginative communities He demonstrates how rather than simply erasing boundaries the European Union instead fosters a network of cultural interzones that encourage cinematic exploration of the new Europe s processes and limits of connectivity tolerance and cooperation

Understanding the Cultural Landscape Bret Wallach,2005-01-02 This compelling book offers a fresh perspective on how the natural world has been imagined built on and transformed by human beings throughout history and around the globe Coverage ranges from the earliest societies to preindustrial China and India from the emergence in Europe of the modern world to the contemporary global economy The focus is on what the places we have created say about us our belief systems and the ways we make a living Also explored are the social and environmental consequences of human activities and how conflicts over the meaning of progress are reflected in today s urban rural and suburban landscapes Written in a highly engaging style this ideal undergraduate level human geography text is illustrated with over 25 maps and 70 photographs Note Visit www.greatmirror.com for many additional photographs by Bret Wallach related to the themes addressed in this book

Democracy and Reform in the Middle East and Asia Amin Saikal,Amitav Acharya,2013-12-23 The protests that swept across the Middle East and North Africa in late 2010 and 2011 confounded long time observers of the region in both the media and academia After addressing the conditions in the Middle East and North Africa that produced these attempts at revolution Amin Saikal and Amitav Acharya explore the global impact of the protests both in terms of their ideological influence on opposition groups and the prospects for democratic transition in a variety of authoritarian and semi authoritarian governments Democracy and Reform in the Middle East and Asia commences with a comprehensive attempt to understand the cultural economic and political background out of which the uprisings in Egypt Tunisia and Libya emerged It then expands outwards investigating the impact of the Arab uprisings on a regional level in other Middle Eastern and north African states such as Iran Morocco and Algeria and on a more global level in the Asian states of China Malaysia Singapore Indonesia and the former Soviet Muslim republics Saikal and Acharya bring a global perspective to the still unfolding wave of calls for more meaningful political participation which continues to make itself felt in the Middle East to shed light upon the ideal role of both regional and international actors in promoting sustainable transitions from authoritarianism to democracy This book not only offers explanations for why certain countries were more susceptible to the spread of the uprisings in the Middle East and North Africa but also contrasts the organic and grassroots vehicles for democratization characteristic of the most recent Arab uprisings with the Western model of externally imposed regime change to illustrate the conditions necessary for a successful democratic transition Touching on perennial issues in politics for example democracy authoritarian rule and social protest this book is vital for researchers of politics and international relations

Lobbying in EU Foreign Policy-making Benedetta Voltolini,2015-09-16 This book examines lobbying in EU foreign policy making and the activities of non state actors NSAs focusing on EU foreign policy on the Israeli Palestinian conflict It sheds light on the interactions between the EU and NSAs as well as the ways in which NSAs attempt to shape EU foreign policies By analysing issues that have not yet received systematic attention in the literature this book offers new insights into lobbying in EU foreign policy EU relations surrounding the conflict and the EU's broader role in the peace process The book will be of key interest to scholars and students of political science international relations EU politics EU foreign policy making Middle East studies and the Israeli Palestinian conflict New Regionalism and the European Union Alex Warleigh-Lack, Nick

Robinson, Ben Rosamond, 2011-06-01 The debates on regionalism have been polarized between European Union EU scholars and non EU scholars with the assumption being that regionalism within the EU and other regions of the world are quite distinct with little to be learnt from dialogue with each other This book challenges such assumptions and calls for a genuine debate between scholars of regionalism This book demonstrates that more can and needs to be learned about regional integration all over the world through comparison and reflection on specific regional trends Beginning with a theoretically driven introduction leading experts in the field are brought together to offer a series of case studies on regional integration within Latin America Africa Asia North America and Europe In Part III the authors investigate the links between the EU and selected other regional organisations and processes exploring the dynamics through which these interregional relations are developing and the implications they have for the study of contemporary regionalism regionalisation both inside and beyond the continent of Europe The conclusions set out a challenging research agenda for comparative studies in the field

Addressing one of the under explored aspects of EU studies the EU's coexistence with other pan continental regional organisations in the European continent this book will be of interest to students and scholars of regionalism IPE European Studies and international politics A Sephardi Sea Dario Miccoli, 2022-07-26 A Sephardi Sea tells the story of Jews from the southern shore of the Mediterranean who between the late 1940s and the mid 1960s migrated from their country of birth for Europe Israel and beyond It is a story that explores their contrasting memories of and feelings for a Sephardi Jewish world in North Africa and Egypt that is lost forever but whose echoes many still hear Surely some of these Jewish migrants were already familiar with their new countries of residence because of colonial ties or of Zionism and often spoke the language Why then was the act of leaving so painful and why more than fifty years afterward is its memory still so tangible Dario Miccoli examines how the memories of a bygone Sephardi Mediterranean world became preserved in three national contexts Israel France and Italy where the Jews of the Middle East and North Africa and their descendants migrated and nowadays live A Sephardi Sea explores how practices of memory and heritage making from the writing of novels and memoirs to the opening of museums and memorials the activities of heritage associations and state led celebrations has filled an identity vacuum in the three countries and helps the Jews from North Africa and Egypt to define their Jewishness in Europe and Israel today but also reinforce their connection to a vanished world now remembered with nostalgia affection and sadness The European Union's Roles in International Politics Ole Elgström, Michael Smith, 2006-08-21 This volume sets out explicitly and systematically to bring together the two strands of political science the study of the EU's international activities and IR theory and thus to make a significant original contribution to a developing literature It provides both a conceptual and empirical argument the volume provides an innovative perspective on the analysis of the European Union as an international actor and on the ways in which EU actions are formed and have impact The volume deals with a number of topical issues in such areas as human rights global governance and the roles of international organizations It offers a research agenda based on rigorous development of the framework for role analysis and demonstrates the ways in which this agenda might be furthered

Parliamentary Dimensions of Regionalization and Globalization O. Costa, C. Dri, S. Stavridis, 2013-05-20 The end of the Cold War has seen an international proliferation of parliamentary bodies of all types and at all levels How can this process of parliamentarization be assessed and under what conditions do these institutions operate This book explores how regional integration and globalization are developing from a parliamentary perspective

Security and Migrations in the Mediterranean Mendo Castro Henriques, Mohamed Khachani, 2006 The post Cold War period made a new concept of security imperative it encompasses environmental social economical political and military issues Migration as a civilizational phenomenon albeit transitional goes across this entire spectrum particularly in a varied historical milieu as the Euro Mediterranean region is In turn reforms and changes need to be carried out by South Mediterranean states and societies in order to eliminate some of the obstacles to modernization creating conditions for economic development at home with the help of North Mediterranean countries Another package of reforms in European countries should empower migrants to adopt a more active citizenship and become more integrated in the societies where they choose to live For Khachani one of the editors of the book a demystification of the question of migratory risk is in order to foster an improved dialogue between south Europe countries and North Africa countries Sending countries are affected by political crises socio economic instability and illegal migration from North Africa receiving countries practice discrimination in labour market and social space

Intercultural Dialogue in EU Foreign Policy Pietro de Perini, 2017-10-05 This book provides an original rigorous and theoretically grounded investigation into varying EU efforts to advance intercultural dialogue ICD in the framework of its foreign policy towards the Mediterranean during the period 1990-2014 From the end of the Cold War the EU has increasingly invested in both rhetoric and resources on ICD promotion In spite of this commitment the EU has never offered a clear and permanent understanding of what this concept entails and has been actually aimed at By adopting a FPA standpoint and approaching ICD as one of the foreign policy instruments developed by the EU to address the relations with its Mediterranean partners this book exposes the causes and the modalities of the contradictory development of this relevant and long standing element of EU foreign policy De Perini investigates change and continuity in the promotion of this tool and provides in depth knowledge of what ICD has actually meant for the EU from the development and launch of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership or Barcelona Process to the revision of the European Neighbourhood Policy following the Arab uprisings The book shows that the EU's advancement of ICD in its foreign policy has gone through three distinct phases: emergence (1990–2001), consolidation (2001–2010), and professionalisation (2010–2014). Empirically, the book provides the first comprehensive and integrative analysis of all aspects of EU efforts to promote ICD. The book exposes a series of trends, limits, and contradictions of EU foreign policy which are increasingly relevant today. In particular, it shows that over the last twenty-five years, the EU has addressed a set of persistent challenges characterising its relations with Mediterranean countries and people, namely challenges connected to regional conflicts, religious fundamentalisms, xenophobic attitudes towards Arab Muslim migrants, and related social tensions. As these challenges are still major issues in the current EU agenda and in the broader debate about EU foreign policy, this book provides rich and original empirical knowledge to an understanding of how the EU has decided to address these phenomena at different moments of its recent history.

History of Transnational Voluntary Associations Thomas R. Davies, 2016-05-23

Davies' review explores the history of transnational voluntary associations, commencing with general patterns before proceeding to cover the history of different sectors in turn, including humanitarianism, science, education, environment, feminism, race, health, human rights, labour, business standards, professions, culture, peace, religion, and youth. Coverage extends from the late eighteenth century through to the early twenty-first century and spans histories of particular organizations and of particular campaigns, in addition to the evolution of broader transnational social movements. Contrasting perspectives on historical evolution are considered, including both linear and cyclical interpretations. The factors underpinning historical changes are explored, including economic, environmental, political, scientific, and social developments. Insights are drawn not only from a transnational historical perspective but also from many other disciplines that shed light on the subject, such as world sociology. The review also incorporates perspectives from international relations, development studies, peace studies, voluntary sector studies, and women's studies. It argues that the historical evolution of transnational voluntary associations is longer, less Western in origin, and more cyclical than traditionally assumed.
