Return To Sula:

Return to Sula Lavinia Derwent, 2003 Magnus Macduff is lured away from his beloved island of Sula when he wins a painting competition and goes to the mainland to collect his prize But Magnus is fiercely independent and escapes back to the remote island at the first opportunity followed by a new friend a wild Duke whose ability with music matches Magnus own skill at drawing and painting Familiar characters including Magnus s Gran and Old Whiskers reappear in this second collection of Magnus s exciting adventures

Aspen in Moonlight Kelly Wacker, 2019-11-12 When art historian Melissa Warren inherits three of her grandmother s paintings that have captivated her since childhood she sets out to discover more about the little known artist and the locations of the mysterious landscapes Her search takes her to the Colorado Bear Conservancy and the artist s great granddaughter Sula Johansen Sula is reluctant to help Melissa but their instant chemistry is impossible to ignore Sula is torn between falling in love and hiding the truth about who and what she really is Of course if Melissa paid closer attention to minor details like the fact that Sula enjoys nibbling berries off the vine is unusually strong and consumes way too much honey Melissa might not be in for the shock of her life

Race, Trauma, and Home in the Novels of Toni Morrison Evelyn Jaffe Schreiber, 2010-12 In this first interdisciplinary study of all nine of Nobel Laureate Toni Morrison s novels Evelyn Jaffe Schreiber investigates how the communal and personal trauma of slavery embedded in the bodies and minds of its victims lives on through successive generations of African Americans Approaching trauma from several cutting edge theoretical perspectives psychoanalytic neurobiological and cultural and social theories Schreiber analyzes the lasting effects of slavery as depicted in Morrison s work and considers the almost insurmountable task of recovering from trauma to gain subjectivity With an innovative application of neuroscience to literary criticism Schreiber explains how trauma whether initiated by physical abuse dehumanization discrimination exclusion or abandonment becomes embedded in both psychic and bodily circuits Slavery and its legacy of cultural rejection create trauma on individual familial and community levels and parents unwittingly transmit their trauma to their children through repetition of their bodily stored experiences Concepts of home whether a physical place community or relationship are reconstructed through memory to provide a positive self and serve as a healing space for Morrison s characters Remembering and retelling trauma within a supportive community enables trauma victims to move forward and attain a meaningful subjectivity and selfhood Through careful analysis of each novel Schreiber traces the success or failure of Morrison s characters to build or rebuild a cohesive self starting with slavery and the initial postslavery generation and continuing through the twentieth century with a special focus on the effects of inherited trauma on children When characters attempt to escape trauma through physical relocation or to project their pain onto others through aggressive behavior or scapegoating the development of selfhood falters Only when trauma is confronted through verbalization and challenged with reparative images of home can memories of a positive self overcome the pain of past experiences and cultural rejection While the cultural trauma of slavery can never truly disappear Schreiber argues that memories that reconstruct a positive self whether created by people relationships a physical place or a concept help Morrison s characters to establish subjectivity A groundbreaking interdisciplinary work Schreiber s book unites psychoanalytic neurobiological and social theories into a full and richly textured analysis of trauma and the possibility of healing in Morrison s novels The Compliment Don Lucas,2009-08-12 There s more than one fish in the sea so the saying goes For Sula this is certainly true for she lives in an ocean of diverse creatures from tiny to colossal from gentle to aggressive Some being so dangerous they seek to make her part of their daily diet Only the unimaginable and bizarre circumstances of her conception make her existence even possible in this harsh world This diversity and variety add delight and adventure to her charmed life until she becomes of age and realizes that every creature in her vast world has a compliment a mate with which they can produce little ones of their kind That is every creature but her Since they all come from a mating pair where is she to find the pair that produced her Her quest leads to adventures and discoveries both delightful and frightening until it eventually leads her to her mate her compliment in a love story to rival the classics as her life unfolds The Cambridge Introduction to Toni Morrison Tessa Roynon,2013 Lively and accessibly written this Introduction offers readers a guide to the complex and rewarding literature of Toni Morrison Popular Culture in America Paul Buhle,1987 Essays discuss television criticism science fiction horror women s humor sports novels country music comic strips and television programs Black Heart Phillip M. Richards,2006 Black Heart is a provocative and polemical critique of African American literary studies at the beginning of the twenty first century Through a series of sharp and insightful essays on a wide range of critical thinkers Phillip M Richards traces what he sees as an erosion of moral reflection in African American literary culture a process that has left contemporary black academic criticism socially politically and culturally hollow Exploring the work of Henry Louis Gates Jr Michael Dyson Karla Holloway and others Black Heart sets forth the rhetorical strategies of present day African American critical writing and probes the ethical dimensions of its institutional life in the academy the media and the public sphere Richards undertakes to recover the procedures by which cultural and moral value may be recovered for black literary culture and to establish the possibilities for a new humanism in African American writing and literary culture The Lever of Riches Joel Mokyr,1992-04-09 In a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success But why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient China or Britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation Beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation s creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity

The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential The Concise Oxford Companion to African American Literature William L. Andrews, Frances Smith Foster, Trudier Harris, 2001-02-15 A breathtaking achievement this Concise Companion is a suitable crown to the astonishing production in African American literature and criticism that has swept over American literary studies in the last two decades It offers an enormous range of writers from Sojourner Truth to Frederick Douglass from Zora Neale Hurston to Ralph Ellison and from Toni Morrison to August Wilson It contains entries on major works including synopses of novels such as Harriet Jacobs s Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Richard Wright s Native Son and Lorraine Hansberry s A Raisin in the Sun It also incorporates information on literary characters such as Bigger Thomas Coffin Ed Johnson Kunta Kinte Sula Peace as well as on character types such as Aunt Jemima Brer Rabbit John Henry Stackolee and the trickster Icons of black culture are addressed including vivid details about the lives of Muhammad Ali John Coltrane Marcus Garvey Jackie Robinson John Brown and Harriet Tubman Here too are general articles on poetry fiction and drama on autobiography slave narratives Sunday School literature and oratory as well as on a wide spectrum of related topics Compact yet thorough this handy volume gathers works from a vast array of sources from the black periodical press to women s clubs making it one of the most substantial guides available on the growing exciting world of African American literature Civil Aeronautics Board Reports United States. investigates racism and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment in Morrison's fiction from multiple perspectives including history psychology and culture Looking at dismemberment from multiple perspectives rather than the more generic and abstract expression of fragmentation likens the impact of racism on individuals to the splitting of bodies amputation phantom limbs and traumatic memories and in more concrete and visceral terms Morrison's art of story telling involves an interactive conversation from multiple perspectives demanding more attentive participation from her readers in deconstructing the meaning of her narratives Studying her fiction from multiple perspectives suggests various ways of examining the pernicious impact of racism which produces various forms of dismemberment in her characters This investigation does this without giving prominence to one perspective at the expense of other equally relevant modes of interpretation Morrison's depiction of the trauma of racism on the psyche of her characters and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment has its roots in the historical and social realities of African Americans The psychological impact of racism on Morrison's characters requires viewing through the lens of the historical and social realities that play a significant role Morrison enacts racial alienation and dismemberment as complex processes it is consequently important to look at her project from multiple perspectives Examining the lived reality of African Americans from only one perspective ignores dismemberment in the light of the socio political and historical realities of African American experience in the United States and entails reconsideration of the physical historical social and psychological realities This investigation argues for the importance of combining these historical and psychological as well as sociocultural analyses of Morrison's fiction in order to acquire a more rounded understanding of racism and its debilitating effects on the psyche By situating Morrison's fiction within a variety of discourses this study offers a multifaceted highly interdisciplinary framework for a more rewarding analysis of her fiction

Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts Juda Bennett, 2014-11-13 Offers the first queer reading of all ten of Morrison's novels Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts radically intervenes in one of the most established and sacred topics in Toni Morrison scholarship love Moving beyond Morrison's representation of ghosts as the forgotten or occluded past Juda Bennett uncovers how Morrison imagines the spectral sphere as always already queer a provocation and challenge to heteronormativity with the ghost appearing as an active participant in disruptions of compulsory heterosexuality as a figure embodying closet desires or as a disembodied emanation that counterpoints homophobia From The Bluest Eye to Home Morrison's novels have included many queer ghosts that challenge our most cherished conceptions of love and speak to cultural anxieties about black sexualities gay marriage AIDS lesbian visibility and transgender identities Not surprisingly the scene stealing ghost Beloved appears at the very heart of this book but Bennett cautions against interpretative stasis inviting readers to break free of the stranglehold Beloved has had on imaginations so as not to miss the full force of Morrison's lifelong project to queer love
