Little Wonder Sasha Abramsky, 2021-05-26 Masterfully captures the life of this little known sportswoman a versatile female athlete comparable to Babe Didrikson Zaharias Booklist starred review Lottie Dod was a truly extraordinary sports figure who blazed trails of glory in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Dod won Wimbledon five times and did so for the first time in 1887 at the ludicrously young age of fifteen After she grew bored with competitive tennis she moved on to and excelled in myriad other sports she became a leading ice skater and tobogganist a mountaineer an endurance bicyclist a hockey player a British ladies golf champion and an Olympic silver medalist in archery In her time Dod had a huge following but her years of distinction occurred just before the rise of broadcast media By the outset of World War I she was largely a forgotten figure she died alone and without fanfare in 1960 Little Wonder brings this remarkable woman s story to life contextualizing it against a backdrop of rapid social change and tectonic shifts in the status of women in society Paving the way for the likes of Billie Jean King Serena Williams and other top female athletes of today Dod accepted no limits no glass ceilings and always refused to compromise Eighty five years before Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs fought the battle of the sexes a Victorian teenager showed what women could do Abramsky celebrates her as a brave and talented and determined original The Atlantic

from the position of ancestrality Speculating about who or what comes after the human inevitably throws us back to our very beginnings The before in Before Humanity in this context takes on two meanings 1 what happened before we apparently became human which translates into a critical reading of paleo anthropology as well as evolutionary narratives of hominization 2 living through the end of a certain humanist anthropocentric notion of humanity what tasks lie before us which provokes a critical reading of the Anthropocene and current narratives of geologization In other words Before Humanity investigates conceptualizations of humanity and asks whether we have ever been human and if not what could or maybe what should we have been

An English Version of the Eclogues of Virgil Virgil, 1883 Melancholy and the Archive Jonathan Boulter, 2011-05-19 Melancholy and the Archive examines how trauma history and memory are represented in key works of major contemporary writers such as David Mitchell Paul Auster Haruki Murakami and Jose Saramago The book explores how these authors construct crucial relationships between sites of memory the archive becomes a central trope here and the self that has been subjected to various traumas various losses The archive be it a bureaucratic office Saramago an underground bunker Auster a geographical space or landscape Mitchell or even a hole Murakami becomes the means by which the self attempts to preserve and conserve his or her sense of history even as the economy of trauma threatens to erase the grounds of such preservation as the subject or self is threatened so the archive becomes a fetishized site wherein history is housed accommodated created even fabricated The archive in Freudian terms becomes a space of melancholy precisely as the subject preserves not only a personal history or a culture's history but also the history of the traumas that necessitates the creation of the archive as such
