Reforms in Long-Term Care Policies in Europe Costanzo Ranci,Emmanuele Pavolini,2012-11-08

Over the last two decades many changes have happened to the social welfare policies of various industrial countries Citizens have seen their pensions unemployment benefits and general healthcare policies shrink as belt tightening measures are enforced But in contrast long term care has seen a general growth in public financing an expansion of beneficiaries and more generally an attempt to define larger social responsibilities and related social rights The aim of this book is to describe and interpret the changes introduced in long term care policies in Western Europe The volume argues that recent reforms have brought about an increasing convergence in LTC policies Most of the new programs have developed a new general approach to long term care based on a better integration of social care and health care The book explores increasing public support given to family care work in the past the family would take care of the elderly or infirm and increasing growth and recognition of a extended social care market by which care has shifted from a moral obligation based on family reciprocity to a paid professional activity A new social care arrangement has therefore been developing in Western countries based on a new mix of family obligations market provision and public support In order to understand such changes this analysis will take into account the social and economical impact of these reforms

Long-term Care for Older People Manfred Huber, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Patrick Hennessy, 2005 Long term care is a cross cutting policy issue that brings together a range of services for persons who are dependent on help with basic activities of daily living When the cohorts of the baby boom generation will reach the oldest age groups over the next three decades demand for long term care will rise steeply How do governments in OECD countries respond to this growing demand What has been done to improve access to long term care improve quality of services and make care affordable Are there examples of successful strategies to improve the mix of services and policies to enable a larger number of older persons to stay in their homes And has this helped contain the costs of caring for the elderly This study reports on the latest trends in long term care policies in nineteen OECD countries Australia Austria Canada Germany Hungary Ireland Japan Korea Luxembourg the Netherlands New Zealand Norway Mexico Poland Spain Sweden Switzerland the United Kingdom and the United States It studies lessons learned from countries that undertook major reforms over the past decade Trends in expenditure financing and the number of care recipients are analyzed based on new data on cross country differences Special attention is given to experience with programs that provide consumers of services with a choice of care options including cash to family caregivers Concise country profiles of long term care systems and an overview on demography and living situations of older persons make this complex policy field more accessible Cumulated Index Medicus, 1999 The Graying of the World Laura Katz Olson, 1994 This unique book studies America's frail older population relative to the elderly in ten other nations It contains a cross national assessment of approaches to long term care for the elderly and explains the nature and extent of current and future problems related to caring for the functionally impaired elderly By studying and analyzing the ongoing struggles of other nations in their attempts to cope with growing populations of frail elderly readers in the U S can expand the parameters of their own national debate on the subject The Graying of the World shows the political economic and social context in which decisions on elder care are based and evaluates how successful various countries programs have been Chapters outline alternative approaches taken by disparate types of national systems highlighting unique and creative solutions to provide useful information on new and alternative ways to respond to personal and public issues related to elder care The elderly and their care in Finland France Germany Great Britain Israel Japan People's Republic of China Sweden and Yugoslavia are discussed as are the elderly in Canada and the United States Chapters cover the following topics for each country the increasing number of frail elderly and their costly health needs the current and future role of the state in elder care the current and future role of the family in elder care types of support services offered for the elderly including in home care community based care and institutional care the relationship of a nation's political economy to its attitude and policy on long term care innovative approaches to elder care Practitioners decision makers and the concerned general public will all find The Graying of the World an interesting and informative book that expands the discussion of health care options available for the elderly As such the book is also a helpful text for undergraduate and beginning graduate students of gerontology public policy and comparative politics as well as for social service practitioners It provokes much needed conversation on developing a healthcare plan for the future that meets the needs of a large elderly population Long-Term Care and Older People in Western Europe Eloísa del

Pino,Francisco Javier Moreno-Fuentes,2025-06-30 Based on a comparative study covering 15 Western European countries this edited volume examines the responses of long term care homes for older people to the COVID 19 pandemic It analyses the preparedness of governments and residences and the structural weaknesses revealed and exacerbated by the crisis such as staff shortages the precariousness of employment in the sector and the deficient coordination between the health and caring sectors By examining the governance structures of the care home sector and their performance before and during the crisis the book highlights the institutional organisational and management challenges facing care homes both in continuing to provide services to an increasingly ageing population and in the event of future public health crises Universal Health Coverage for Inclusive and Sustainable Development Naoki Ikegami,2014-10-14 The goals of universal health coverage UHC are to ensure that all people can access quality health services to safeguard all people from public health risks and to protect all people from impoverishment due to illness whether from out of pocket payments for health care or loss of income when a household member falls sick Countries as diverse as Brazil France Japan Thailand and Turkey have shown how UHC can serve as a vital mechanism for improving the health and welfare of their citizens and lay the foundation for economic growth and competitiveness grounded in the principles of equity and sustainability Ensuring universal access to affordable quality health services will be an important contribution to ending extreme poverty by 2030 and boosting shared prosperity in low income and middle income countries where most of the world s poor live Universal Health Coverage for Inclusive and Sustainable Development synthesizes the experiences from 11 countries Bangladesh Brazil Ethiopia France Ghana Indonesia Japan Peru Thailand Turkey and Vietnam in implementing policies and strategies to achieve and sustain UHC These countries represent diverse geographic and economic conditions but all have committed to UHC as a key national aspiration and are approaching it in different ways The book examines the UHC policies for each country around three common themes 1 the political economy and policy process for adopting achieving and sustaining UHC 2 health financing policies to enhance health coverage and 3 human resources for health policies for achieving UHC The findings from these country studies are intended to provide lessons that can be used by countries aspiring to adopt achieve and sustain UHC Although the path to UHC is specific to each country countries can benefit from the experiences of others in learning about different approaches and avoiding potential risks Assisted Living in the United States Rosalie A.
