The Lady's Book, 1831 Lord Courtney's Lady Jane Morgan, 1977 Life of Lord Courtney (Classic Reprint) G. P. Gooch, 2015-07-13

Excerpt from Life of Lord Courtney Shortly after Lord Courtney's death I accepted Lady Courtney's request to write his life While lightening my labour in every possible way and allowing me to make unrestricted use of her Journal she has left me an absolutely free hand in the selection of material and the expression of opinion To her to Mrs Oliver Lord Courtney's sister and to Professor George Unwin for eight years his secretary I am indebted for reading the book in proof and for valuable criticisms and suggestions Relations and friends have earned my gratitude by their ready response to appeals for assistance and I regret that the exigencies of space have prevented the use of all the information and comment which have been supplied His oldest surviving friend Mr William Stebbing compiled a brief memoir of the highest value from which I have made copious extracts The Master of St Johns has kindly examined the College books for the details of his academic career while Dr Liveing Dr Bonney and Mrs Bushell have supplied personal recollections of the young Cambridge student Mr William Latey has investigated his connection with the Hardwicke Society in its earliest days and Sir Edward Clarke has given me his impressions of his share in its debates The Times has generously permitted me to reveal Leonard Courtney's authorship of many of its leading articles and Sir J Thursfield and Dean Wace have answered questions relating to Printing House Square About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
